Truman Launches His Criticism of Stories on Lull

Key West, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—The country has warning from President Truman that Red negotiations for a cease-fire in Korea may be no more than a Communist trap.

"We can not," the President asserted, "allow our men to be caught off-balance by the enemy in case we can not reach a satisfactory armistice."

Mr. Truman, meeting with newsmen for the second time since he flew to Key West Nov. 8, told them in blunt terms late yesterday that the fighting will continue in Korea as long as there is a possibility that United Nations forces might be caught off-balance.

"The continued pressure of our forces on the enemy constitutes the strongest incentive for the latter to agree to a just armistice," he said. "Any premature slackening of our effort would cost us more casualties in the long run than need be lost."

Armistice Is Necessary

Mr. Truman warned, as his press secretary, Joseph Short, did Wednseday, that there has been no cease-fire in Korea and "can be none until an armistice has been signed."

Until United Nations terms are met, he added, there can be no assurance of the future safety of UN forces, "including those who are prisoners of the enemy."

Mr. Truman supplemented his formal statement with an off-the-cuff lecture to assembled newsmen on what he called fake cease fire and armistice stories.

He said he was marching in France on Oct. 27, 1918, with his battery when he came upon a French newspaper with headlines proclaiming the signing of an armistice. Just as he read the headline, he said, a shell burst

Vishinsky Blisters Jessup and Others in His Talk of Acceptance

Paris, Nov. 30 (AP)—Russia agreed today to join secret Big Four disarmament talks. The western Big Three said this was an encouraging sign but added it would be a tough job to make any real progress.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky told the UN General Assembly's Political Committee of his country's decision to take part in the talks proposed by Pakistan, Iraq and Syria.

U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup said this was a hopeful development, but commented that the belligerent tone of Vishinsky's acceptance speech indicated the task ahead would be difficult. Similar views were expressed by spokesmen for France and Britain.

The western powers had already agreed to the talks in an effort to resolve rival east-west plans for disarming.

Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, general assembly president, will preside at the four-power meetings which are expected to begin shortly.

Attacks Earlier Speeches

Vishinsky prefaced his acceptance with a blistering attack on previous speeches by Jessup and others and a castigation of the western disarmament plan.

Vishinsky said the Soviet Union is ready to "continue our efforts and take part in the work of the proposed sub-committee."

He added that he was bewildered by western claims that the Soviet Union wanted a veto in the International Arms Commission which would supervise disarmament procedures.

Vishinsky declared that Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov had said on Dec. 14, 1946, that while Russia insists on a veto in the Se-

Lectures Newsmen Sternly

President Harry S. Truman is shown as he talked to assembled newsmen in Key West, Fla., Nov. 29, during which he sternly lectured press associations and independent newspapers on what he called fake stories dealing with cease fires in Korea. The chief executive declared that the United Nations will continue to bring pressure on the Reds until an armistice has been signed in Korea and that our men will not "be caught off balance by the enemy." Overcast skies and a brisk breeze brought the news conference indoors instead of the usual Little White House lawn parley. (AP Wirephoto).

10RedCraft Shot Down, Allies None

Four Enemy Planes Are Damaged, One May Have Been Destroyed in Addition

Convoys Are Huge

Total of 9,200 Vehicles Counted, and It May Be Incomplete

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 30 (AP)—American Sabre jet pilots won the greatest air battle of the war today, reporting a total haul for the day of 10 Red planes shot down, four damaged and one probably destroyed.

The Fifth Air Force said no allied planes were lost.

Nine of the Red craft shot down were propeller-drive bombers and fighter-bombers, the first caught in a mass flight beyond the Manchurian border.

Near the close of a blazing day of aerial warfare, 31 U. S. F-86 Sabre jets spotted 16 Mig-15 jets flying top cover on 30 propeller drive Russian-type planes.

The Sabres dived directly into the flight of 12 TU-2 twin engine bombers and 18 LA-9 single engine fighter-bombers. Then they swooped up and cut the flight of Migs in half and dived again to finish off the slower conventional craft. It was one long, deadly sweep.

The result was 10 Reds shot down—six TU-2s, three LA-9s, one Mig—and three twin-engine bombers damaged.

The Reds were caughe just after they crossed the Yalu river, apparently on a training flight.

Fourth Air Fight

The 30-minute battle was the fourth air fight of the day and the biggest of any type—jet or propeller planes—fought in the Korean War. The earlier flights accounted for the probably and the fourth damaged Red.

The four-day air battle total mounted to 18 Red jet planes reported destroyed, one probably destroyed and 13 damaged, against one U. S. plane shot down and three damaged.

Earlier the Fifth Air Force had studied films of Wednesday's fight and found one more MIG-15 was shot down than American pilots had reported.

Friday's great battle climaxed a week of increasing Red jet flights into North Korea and an astounding jump in Communist highway traffic to the front lines.

Long Truck Lines Seen

Long convoys of Red trucks were spotted last night racing toward the quiet forward lines with their lights blazing.

Flare-dropping allied planes counted at least 6,200 of them, Far East Air Forces (FEAF) reported Friday. The figure is nearly double the previous high of 5,150, and a Fifth Air Force re-count indicated it may be incomplete.

No one guessed at how many more Red trucks might have passed on the roads without being spotted. Two thousand trucks are spotted on an average heavy night.

The Reds' phenomenal rush to build up supplies and presumably troops came as the ground fronts went through their third day of "twilight war" and Red truce negotiators again balked at guaranteeing against an increase in their forces during an armistice.

Returning pilots reported they destroyed 300 Red trucks and damaged an unestimated number.

Factors Ascribed

FEAF suggested contributing factors to the unprecedented number of trucks could be (1) Exceptionally clear weather and (2) such heavy damage to Communist rail lines that the Reds had to take to the highways.

Both air and naval forces stepped up attacks as ground action remained quiet.

Infantry action maintained the same quiet tempo that has marked the front since truce negotiators

Steel Is Allocated For Thruway Use

First Shipment for Kingston-Saugerties Is Used for Bridge Across Sawkill—New Route Needed for Onteora Trail

Steel is now available for construction of bridges on the New York State Thruway between Kingston and Saugerties and the first shipment is being used for the span over the Sawkill creek near the point where it joins the Esopus, a state engineer said today.

State officials indicated earlier this year that a general shortage of steel will be a factor in delaying statewide construction of the super highway, but it is apparent now that enough will be available for completion of all bridges on the Kingston-Saugerties section.

Other Bridges to Be Built

Other spans are to be built at Ruby, in the Lake Katrine areas, Mt. Marion and over the Plattekill creek near the Saugerties end of the route.

Concrete work on the upper end of the project stopped several days ago, but other work continued on the interchange at the point where the route will join Route 212.

To Restudy Onteora Trail

A state official indicated today also that a new study will be made before any rebuilding of the Onteora Trail, (Route 28) west of Pine Hill.

Merchants, hotel men and others in the upper Ulster and Delaware county areas have been agitating for the rebuilding of upper Route 28 and a recent meeting was held to spur official action.

Was Too Costly

It was learned today that a previous study aimed at relocating the route from the lower areas to a higher point along the mountain sides resulted in the discovery that the project was too costly, and other plans will have to be made.

A section of the route in the Margaretville area is being rebuilt and the state public works department is being asked to rebuild more of it beyond Boiceville.

Level Route Sought

The abandoned state study in the Pine Hill area, it was learned, aimed at providing a more level route through this mountainous

Religious Paper Says Evidence Is General Held Out

Christian Science Monitor Declares MacArthur Withheld Tips on Chinese

Boston, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Christian Science Monitor says there is "strong evidence" General MacArthur withheld from the White House information about possible Chinese intervention in Korea.

The statement is contained in a story by Gordon Walker, assistant foreign editor of the Monitor and former war correspondent attached to General MacArthur's command in the Pacific and Tokyo.

In New York, a spokesman for Gen. MacArthur said no comment would be made until the statements were studied.

False Says Willoughby

Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, former chief intelligence officer for MacArthur, terms the statement "deliberately false, whether in the Christian Science Monitor or the Police Gazette."

Walker's story in Thursday's Monitor also says "front line commanders ordered their troops into battle without prior knowledge that they faced overwhelming odds—odds as high as three or four to one."

According to Walker, information about Chinese intervention reached Tokyo in mid-September, two months before the late November start of the ill-fated Yalu river offensive.

"War correspondents in Tokyo who sought to establish the fact were officially discouraged by headquarters from writing it," Walker declares.

'Mistaken,' He Was Told

"A correspondent for this paper (The Monitor) pointed out at one briefing that he personally had spoken to Chinese prisoners in their own language, and they had told him of their recent entry into Korea. He was informed that 'he must be mistaken.'"

The Monitor story follows closely behind the article written by Gen. Willoughby in Cosmopolitan Magazine in which correspondents were charged with "bias" and "inaccurate reporting."

Walker explains that the Willoughby story brought the Yalu

Tax Investigators Recess Hearings

Time Is Taken to Examine Files—Data Sought on New York Case

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—House tax investigators unexpectedly recessed their hearings today until Monday to allow more time to examine Justice Department files—including any that may throw light on rumors of an attempted "fix" in a New York tax fraud case.

The recess was ordered as a House Ways and Means Subcommittee was scheduled to resume its fifth consecutive day of inquiry into the activities of T. Lamar Caudle, ousted assistant attorney general and former chief tax prosecutor.

Earlier, Chairman King (D.-Calif.) had scored failing memories of Justice Department officials testifying in the New York case. King called Attorney General McGrath's attention to what he said was "apparently irregular activity on the part of the Department of Justice."

His assertion came last night after Caudle received $5,000 as a commission on the sale of an airplane to a private investigator working for the two New Yorkers.

Letters Are Wanted

Committee Counsel Adrian W. Dewind said he understood there were a number of "anonymous letters" in the files of the Justice Department alleging that a tax case against Samuel Aaron and Jacob Freidus of New York "was to be fixed."

King said the department would

Allies Refuse to Talk Of Troops Before Pact

Munsa, Korea, Nov. 30 (AP)—Allied truce negotiators today flatly refused even to discuss the withdrawal of troops from Korea until an armistice is signed.

They also made it clear the UN command will not modify its demand for (1) joint inspection teams behind the battle lines and (2) an ironclad ban on strengthening front line troops.

"We are going to insist upon those principles," Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN negotiator, told the Reds. "We are not going to agree to immediate withdrawal of UN command forces from Korea. Is that clear? The sooner it is clear, the sooner we will begin to make profitable use of the time of this conference."

Replying to Joy's 30-minute opening statement at Panmunjom, North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il repeatedly called the allied proposals "unreasonable and impractical."

He said joint inspection teams would be "brazen interference with the internal affairs of the other side."

Joy replied sharply:

"Only the side objecting to such joint observation can have any ulterior motive."

Nam Il charged the allies "no buildup" proposal was an attempt to prevent the economic rehabilitation of Korea.

Even as Red negotiators fought to block allied efforts to limit the strength of both armies, UN planes spotted a record 9,200 trucks rushing men and equipment toward the Communists' front lines.

An official UN spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said there was no mention at Friday's session of the comparative quiet which has settled over the battlefield.

McFarland Gets State Prison Term

Man Who Took Money in Ellenville Is 3rd Offender

Howard J. McFarland, 28, who was residing in Ellenville at the time of his arrest on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, for the taking of money from the Cohn bakery in Ellenville, was sentenced to a term of from 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton state prison today. McFarland entered a plea of guilty to that charge in county court before Judge John M. Cashin.

McFarland was sentenced as a third offender after he had admitted he was the same person who was convicted of grand larceny, first degree, on May 13, 1943 in Delaware county, his former home, and also forgery on November 11, 1950, in Otsego county. He is also known under the alias of Mackey and Smith. Hubert Richter appeared for McFarland.

Mae Avery of Ulster Park entered a plea of guilty to possession of an unlicensed firearm. She was sentenced to four months in the county jail and execution of sentence was suspended. Frederick Stang appeared for her and he told the court she had formerly resided in Virginia where no license was required and she did not know a license was required in New York state. Bail was exonerated.

Enters Plea of Guilty

Frederick Schaffer, Malden, entered a plea of guilty to abandonment of his wife and four children.

Ohioan Could Call Turn, Observers Concede; Possible Choices Discussed

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) could call the turn today on a possible battle among Senate Republicans over a new floor leader, with overtones on foreign policy and the presidential campaign.

Taft, seeking the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, had only to say the word for an all-out battle between his friends and supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the leadership post vacated by the death yesterday of Senator Wherry of Nebraska.

En route back to Ohio from North Carolina, Taft today chose to say nothing at all about the leadership post while expressing

Arlington Students Killed in Accident

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two Arlington High School students were killed last night when their automobile went off Route 55, near here, plunged down an embankment and struck a tree.

The dead were Richard G. Condron, Jr., 16, whose skull was fractured and his neck broken, and Douglas Vincent, 16, whose chest was crushed. Both lived at Arlington, a suburb. Condron was driving the car.

Vincent was described by the high school coach as the outstanding all-round athlete of the Hudson valley.

Winnie Ruth Judd Escapes Hospital Again For Fourth Time; Big Search Is Instituted

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 30 (AP)—Crafty Winnie Ruth Judd, notorious trunk murderess of 20 years ago, broke out of the state hospital for the insane last night for the fourth time, and today eluded searchers.

She pried through a screen window, slipped down a ladder fashioned from rags, yarn and an electric iron cord, and vanished into the chill night.

Escape of the greying red-haired killer set off a great search through the city. Bloodhounds failed to pick up her trail.

In 1931, Mrs. Judd shot two girl friends to death and shipped their dismembered bodies to Los Angeles in a trunk and a suitcase. She was convicted of murder and was sentenced to hang. At almost the last moment she was found insane and was committed to the asylum here.

Now 48, Mrs. Judd has been in the hospital 18 years.

Just before her escape about 10:30 p. m. she had been visiting in the room of her 84-year-old mother, Mrs. Carrie B. McKinnell, also a patient in the hospital. Earlier Mrs. Judd had attended a western movie shown for the inmates.

Hospital attendants said it must have taken her weeks to weave the ladder of yarn, rags and part of a heavy ironing cord. They said she used a screw driver and pliers to open the heavy window screen, and that they must have been smuggled to her.

Mrs. Judd tied the ladder to the head of her mother's bed in a room adjoining her own.

Attendants said Mrs. Judd had been upset for the last week after another patient told her she would be taken away from her mother and put in a criminal ward.

Winnie Ruth, the "Tiger Woman" of 20 years ago, had lived in quiet seclusion since her last break from the hospital. On May 11, 1947, she unlocked two doors of the hospital ward and got away. She surrendered quietly the next morning when sheriff's deputies found her huddled in an

United Church Possible In 10 Years, Jones Declares

Protestant denominations in America can be joined into a United Church "in ten years," Dr. E. Stanley Jones said Thursday night.

Dr. Jones proposed a United Church based upon the same principle as that under which the American colonies came together: a union, but with state rights under that union. There would be one church, but with branches under it, such as the Lutheran Branch of the Church of Christ in America, the Baptist Branch, the Presbyterian Branch, etc., he said.

"We can't ask the nations to get together unless we as denominations can show the way," Dr. Jones said. He pointed out that the Federal Union of Churches was approved by 99 per cent of the people who heard about the plan when it was presented in more than 200 cities.

Dr. Jones also told his audience that India "is alive and changing her life." India had to meet six converging catastrophies after the coming of independence, he said. "Having stood these she can stand anything. She has made a great many remarkable reforms since the coming of independence: The distinctions based on caste have been forbidden and are punishable; the land is being given back to the peasants, heading off communism; the 562 native states

Howard J. McFarland, 28, who was residing in Ellenville at the time of his arrest on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, for the taking of money from the Cohn bakery in Ellenville, was sentenced to a term of from 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton state prison today. McFarland entered a plea of guilty to that charge in county court before Judge John M. Cashin.

McFarland was sentenced as a third offender after he had admitted he was the same person who was convicted of grand larceny, first degree, on May 13, 1943 in Delaware county, his former home, and also forgery on November 11, 1950, in Otsego county. He is also known under the alias of Mackey and Smith. Hubert Richter appeared for McFarland.

Mae Avery of Ulster Park entered a plea of guilty to possession of an unlicensed firearm. She was sentenced to four months in the county jail and execution of sentence was suspended. Frederick Stang appeared for her and he told the court she had formerly resided in Virginia where no license was required and she did not know a license was required in New York state. Bail was exonerated.

Enters Plea of Guilty

Frederick Schaffer, Malden, entered a plea of guilty to abandonment of his wife and four children.

Ohioan Could Call Turn, Observers Concede; Possible Choices Discussed

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) could call the turn today on a possible battle among Senate Republicans over a new floor leader, with overtones on foreign policy and the presidential campaign.

Taft, seeking the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, had only to say the word for an all-out battle between his friends and supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the leadership post vacated by the death yesterday of Senator Wherry of Nebraska.

En route back to Ohio from North Carolina, Taft today chose to say nothing at all about the leadership post while expressing

Arlington Students Killed in Accident

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two Arlington High School students were killed last night when their automobile went off Route 55, near here, plunged down an embankment and struck a tree.

The dead were Richard G. Condron, Jr., 16, whose skull was fractured and his neck broken, and Douglas Vincent, 16, whose chest was crushed. Both lived at Arlington, a suburb. Condron was driving the car.

Vincent was described by the high school coach as the outstanding all-round athlete of the Hudson valley.

United Church Possible In 10 Years, Jones Declares

Protestant denominations in America can be joined into a United Church "in ten years," Dr. E. Stanley Jones said Thursday night.

Dr. Jones proposed a United Church based upon the same principle as that under which the American colonies came together: a union, but with state rights under that union. There would be one church, but with branches under it, such as the Lutheran Branch of the Church of Christ in America, the Baptist Branch, the Presbyterian Branch, etc., he said.

"We can't ask the nations to get together unless we as denominations can show the way," Dr. Jones said. He pointed out that the Federal Union of Churches was approved by 99 per cent of the people who heard about the plan when it was presented in more than 200 cities.

Dr. Jones also told his audience that India "is alive and changing her life." India had to meet six converging catastrophies after the coming of independence, he said. "Having stood these she can stand anything. She has made a great many remarkable reforms since the coming of independence: The distinctions based on caste have been forbidden and are punishable; the land is being given back to the peasants, heading off communism; the 562 native states

10RedCraft Shot Down, Allies None

Four Enemy Planes Are Damaged, One May Have Been Destroyed in Addition

Convoys Are Huge

Total of 9,200 Vehicles Counted, and It May Be Incomplete

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 30 (AP)—American Sabre jet pilots won the greatest air battle of the war today, reporting a total haul for the day of 10 Red planes shot down, four damaged and one probably destroyed.

The Fifth Air Force said no allied planes were lost.

Nine of the Red craft shot down were propeller-drive bombers and fighter-bombers, the first caught in a mass flight beyond the Manchurian border.

Near the close of a blazing day of aerial warfare, 31 U. S. F-86 Sabre jets spotted 16 Mig-15 jets flying top cover on 30 propeller drive Russian-type planes.

The Sabres dived directly into the flight of 12 TU-2 twin engine bombers and 18 LA-9 single engine fighter-bombers. Then they swooped up and cut the flight of Migs in half and dived again to finish off the slower conventional craft. It was one long, deadly sweep.

The result was 10 Reds shot down—six TU-2s, three LA-9s, one Mig—and three twin-engine bombers damaged.

The Reds were caughe just after they crossed the Yalu river, apparently on a training flight.

Fourth Air Fight

The 30-minute battle was the fourth air fight of the day and the biggest of any type—jet or propeller planes—fought in the Korean War. The earlier flights accounted for the probably and the fourth damaged Red.

The four-day air battle total mounted to 18 Red jet planes reported destroyed, one probably destroyed and 13 damaged, against one U. S. plane shot down and three damaged.

Earlier the Fifth Air Force had studied films of Wednesday's fight and found one more MIG-15 was shot down than American pilots had reported.

Friday's great battle climaxed a week of increasing Red jet flights into North Korea and an astounding jump in Communist highway traffic to the front lines.

Long Truck Lines Seen

Long convoys of Red trucks were spotted last night racing toward the quiet forward lines with their lights blazing.

Flare-dropping allied planes counted at least 6,200 of them, Far East Air Forces (FEAF) reported Friday. The figure is nearly double the previous high of 5,150, and a Fifth Air Force re-count indicated it may be incomplete.

No one guessed at how many more Red trucks might have passed on the roads without being spotted. Two thousand trucks are spotted on an average heavy night.

The Reds' phenomenal rush to build up supplies and presumably troops came as the ground fronts went through their third day of "twilight war" and Red truce negotiators again balked at guaranteeing against ain increase in their forces during an armistice.

Returning pilots reported they destroyed 300 Red trucks and damaged an unestimated number.

Factors Ascribed

FEAF suggested contributing factors to the unprecedented number of trucks could be (1) Exceptionally clear weather and (2) such heavy damage to Communist rail lines that the Reds had to take to the highways.

Both air and naval forces stepped up attacks as ground action remained quiet.

Infantry action maintained the same quiet tempo that has marked the front since truce negotiators

Not Fault of Carrier

The Freeman carrier boy, that faithful little merchant who delivers your local newspaper every evening to your home, was late Thursday evening, but it wasn't his fault. Mechanical difficulties in the press room, were the cause of the delay. If The Freeman newspaperboy needs exoneration, we trust this announcement will clear him of any blame.

Republicans See Reapportionment Enacted in Day

Albany, N. Y., Nov 29 (AP)—The Republicans may invoke a modified "gag" rule to prevent prolonged harangues on congressional redistricting at the special session of the Legislature next Wednesday.

GOP chiefs said today they foresaw no reason why the Republican reapportionment bill could not be enacted in one day.

The Democratic minority, short on votes but long on talk, will introduce a redistricting bill of its own and will loudly denounce the GOP version as "gerrymandering" and "ripper legislation."

The Democrats launched their attack yesterday, shortly after the GOP bill was approved by the joint legislative committee on reapportionment and Governor Dewey called the lawmakers into extraordinary session.

Under reapportionment of congressional districts, New York state loses two of its 45 seats because the state's population increase between 1940 and 1950 was not as great proportionately as that of some other states.

The Republican reapportionment bill provides for the elimination of two Democratic-held seats in New York city; erasing of the 37th upstate seat held by insurgent Republican Edwin T. Hall of Binghamton, and creation of a second, new district in Nassau county.

All but a few of the existing districts will be realigned, apparently to Republican advance.

Special Session

Governor Dewey called the GOP controlled Legislature into special session beginning at noon Wednesday. He summoned the lawmakers to act on congressional reapportionment only. Under law they connot take up any other matters at the special session.

The regular session will be convened Jan. 9.

A GOP Assembly source predicted today the Republican bill would be adopted on Wednesday.

A Republican source in the Senate said the session would not go into a second day. He hinted that debate might be limited to prevent endless talking for the record.

"We have the votes and we'll pass our bill, after the Democrats have been given time to present their arguments. That shouldn't take an awfully long time."

Calls It 'Ripper'

Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan of Brooklyn, one of the two Democrats on the joint legislative committee on reapportionment, tagged the GOP bill "ripper legislation."

He said yesterday the measure was "conceived and brought forth by the Republican State Committee," rather than by the joint committee. He said the Republicans designed their bill with the purpose of weakening Democratic strength in districts where they held congressional seats.

More criticism came from the Democratic minority leaders, Senator Elmer F. Quinn and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut of Brooklyn.

They contended that the GOP bill was inequitable in setting up districts on the basis of population.

New War-Dead Site

New Delhi, (AP)—Concentration of 600 World War II graves from civil and cantonment cemeteries in West Pakistan into a new Karachi cemetery will finish by the end of 1951, said Brig. Gen. H. N. Obbard, chief administrative officer of the Imperial War Graves Commission. "In India, about 1,200 war graves still remain to be concentrated, of which the majority will be re-buried in a new war cemetery in Madras and the remainder in existing war cemeteries at Gauhati, Assam, and Ranchi Bihar," he added in a statement.

The English were the first to participate in whale fishery, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Million Loan Just Publicity Stunt

Key West, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—The request by Stanley C. Shaw, mayor of Ithaca, N. Y., for a $1 million federal loan to the city was just a publicity stunt, President Truman guesses.

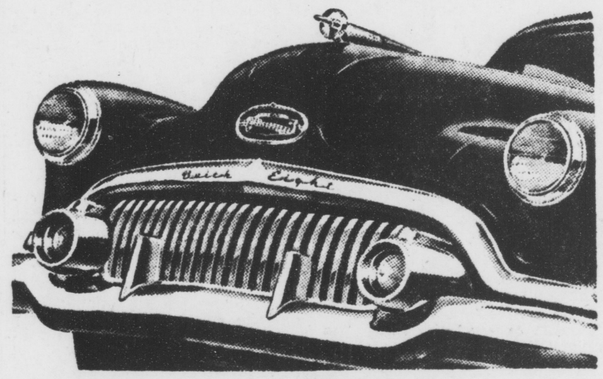

Shaw wrote to Mr. Truman on Tuesday asking the loan to give Ithaca employes a wage boost. He said the request was ridiculous but "no more absurd than the report of a promised loan to a country (Iran) that is destroying one of the world's greatest sources of oil."

Near the close of the President's news conference yesterday, reporters asked him about Shaw's letter.

Mr. Truman said he never had seen the letter and knew nothing about it. His press secretary, Joseph Short, leaned over and whispered in his ear.

Joe said it was just a publicity stunt, Mr. Truman told reporters, adding that he guessed that was just what it was.

Republicans See Reapportionment Enacted in Day

Albany, N. Y., Nov 29 (AP)—The Republicans may invoke a modified "gag" rule to prevent prolonged harangues on congressional redistricting at the special session of the Legislature next Wednesday.

GOP chiefs said today they foresaw no reason why the Republican reapportionment bill could not be enacted in one day.

The Democratic minority, short on votes but long on talk, will introduce a redistricting bill of its own and will loudly denounce the GOP version as "gerrymandering" and "ripper legislation."

The Democrats launched their attack yesterday, shortly after the GOP bill was approved by the joint legislative committee on reapportionment and Governor Dewey called the lawmakers into extraordinary session.

Under reapportionment of congressional districts, New York state loses two of its 45 seats because the state's population increase between 1940 and 1950 was not as great proportionately as that of some other states.

The Republican reapportionment bill provides for the elimination of two Democratic-held seats in New York city; erasing of the 37th upstate seat held by insurgent Republican Edwin T. Hall of Binghamton, and creation of a second, new district in Nassau county.

All but a few of the existing districts will be realigned, apparently to Republican advance.

Special Session

Governor Dewey called the GOP controlled Legislature into special session beginning at noon Wednesday. He summoned the lawmakers to act on congressional reapportionment only. Under law they cannot take up any other matters at the special session.

The regular session will be convened Jan. 9.

A GOP Assembly source predicted today the Republican bill would be adopted on Wednesday.

A Republican source in the Senate said the session would not go into a second day. He hinted that debate might be limited to prevent endless talking for the record.

"We have the votes and we'll pass our bill, after the Democrats have been given time to present their arguments. That shouldn't take an awfully long time."

Calls It 'Ripper'

Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan of Brooklyn, one of the two Democrats on the joint legislative committee on reapportionment, tagged the GOP bill "ripper legislation."

He said yesterday the measure was "conceived and brought forth by the Republican State Committee," rather than by the joint committee. He said the Republicans designed their bill with the purpose of weakening Democratic strength in districts where they held congressional seats.

More criticism came from the Democratic minority leaders, Senator Elmer F. Quinn and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut of Brooklyn.

They contended that the GOP bill was inequitable in setting up districts on the basis of population.

Million Loan Just Publicity Stunt

Key West, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—The request by Stanley C. Shaw, mayor of Ithaca, N. Y., for a $1 million federal loan to the city was just a publicity stunt, President Truman guesses.

Shaw wrote to Mr. Truman on Tuesday asking the loan to give Ithaca employes a wage boost. He said the request was ridiculous but "no more absurd than the report of a promised loan to a country (Iran) that is destroying one of the world's greatest sources of oil."

Near the close of the President's news conference yesterday, reporters asked him about Shaw's letter.

Mr. Truman said he never had seen the letter and knew nothing about it. His press secretary, Joseph Short, leaned over and whispered in his ear.

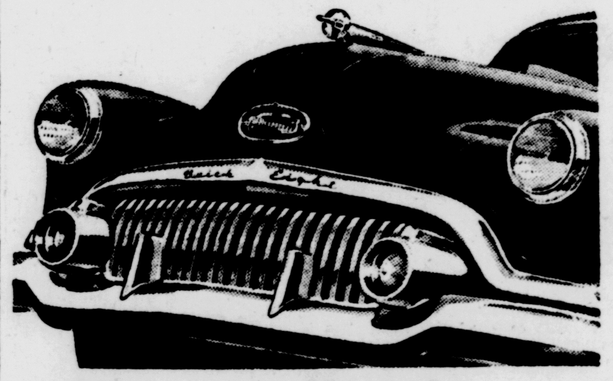

Joe said it was just a publicity stunt, Mr. Truman told reporters, adding that he guessed that was just what it was.

New War-Dead Site

New Delhi, (AP)—Concentration of 600 World War II graves from civil and cantonment cemeteries in West Pakistan into a new Karachi cemetery will finish by the end of 1951, said Brig. Gen. H. N. Obbard, chief administrative officer of the Imperial War Graves Commission. "In India, about 1,200 war graves still remain to be concentrated, of which the majority will be re-buried in a new war cemetery in Madras and the remainder in existing war cemeteries at Gauhati, Assam, and Ranchi Bihar," he added in a statement.

The English were the first to participate in whale fishery, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Serota Arrested On Bribery Charge

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Joseph Serota, 38-year-old Brooklyn bookie, has been arrested on a bribery charge stemming from college basketball's game-rigging scandal.

Serota, picked up in Scranton, Pa., and brought here for questioning, Wednesday night was booked last night on a charge of bribing a participant of an amateur basketball contest.

He is accused of handing $2,000 to Harvey (Connie) Schaff, former New York University court star, on the eve of an NYU-Cornell University game played at Madison Square Garden last New Year's day.

Authorities said Serota and Jackie Goldsmith, a former Long Island University player, allegedly gave Schaff the money to "shave" points in the game, won by Cornell 69 to 56. NYU had been a heavy favorite.

Schaff started a six-month prison sentence this week, convicted of conspiracy in fixing games. He and four other former players have been sentenced to jail terms since the scandal mushroomed to take in 31 players from seven colleges.

Serota is said to be an acquaintance of Salvatore T. Sollazzo, master fixer in the college bribe expose, now under an eight to 16-year prison sentence.

Name-Changing

San Francisco (AP) — The Chinese Reds have come up with a new idea on how to win friends and influence people — changing place names that are "derogatory to national minorities." A Peiping broadcast heard in San Francisco said the first fruits of this general policy were in the southeast China territory inhabited by the little-known Yi people. A bridge, historically known as "the Bridge of Yi Suppression" has been renamed "Liberation Bridge." An old fortress called "Conquer the Yis Castle" has been renamed "Security Castle." The broadcast said a great ceremony was made of digging out the old name plates.

Serota Arrested On Bribery Charge

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Joseph Serota, 38-year-old Brooklyn bookie, has been arrested on a bribery charge stemming from college basketball's game-rigging scandal.

Serota, picked up in Scranton, Pa., and brought here for questioning, Wednesday night was booked last night on a charge of bribing a participant of an amateur basketball contest.

He is accused of handing $2,000 to Harvey (Connie) Schaff, former New York University court star, on the eve of an NYU-Cornell University game played at Madison Square Garden last New Year's day.

Authorities said Serota and Jackie Goldsmith, a former Long Island University player, allegedly gave Schaff the money to "shave" points in the game, won by Cornell 69 to 56. NYU had been a heavy favorite.

Schaff started a six-month prison sentence this week, convicted of conspiracy in fixing games. He and four other former players have been sentenced to jail terms since the scandal mushroomed to take in 31 players from seven colleges.

Serota is said to be an acquaintance of Salvatore T. Sollazzo, master fixer in the college bribe expose, now under an eight to 16-year prison sentence.

Name-Changing

San Francisco (AP) — The Chinese Reds have come up with a new idea on how to win friends and influence people — changing place names that are "derogatory to national minorities." A Peiping broadcast heard in San Francisco said the first fruits of this general policy were in the southeast China territory inhabited by the little-known Yi people. A bridge, historically known as "the Bridge of Yi Suppression" has been renamed "Liberation Bridge." An old fortress called "Conquer the Yis Castle" has been renamed "Security Castle." The broadcast said a great ceremony was made of digging out the old name plates.

RELIGION IN WORLD OF WOE

One of the most notable events in postwar America has been the striking revival of interest in religion. It has shown itself in many ways, but mostly in record attendance at church and a vast consumption of inspirational books.

Overwhelmingly, this has reflected the deeply troubled outlook of a people beset by endless tensions, bewildered by seemingly unmanageable crises. It has been a quest for certainty amid a flood tide of confusion and doubt. It has been a spontaneous response, a fulfillment of need.

Yet through all this hopeful resurgence of spiritual force, the church itself has not stood idly by. It has actively and constructively labored to encourage the overt expression of religious feeling.

In many places it has erected new and more spacious houses of worship. It has brought fresh psychological insight to its complex task of ministering to the spiritual wants of human beings. It has broadened the social sphere in which it operates, thus offering the church as a great focal point for a whole galaxy of interests.

And, periodically, it has campaigned with unaccustomed vigor and originality to augment still further its multiplying flock of faithful church-goers. The church has done this not with any notion of forcing religious ritual and pattern upon people who do not wish it, but with the simple aim of drawing within its fold all who would really like to be there.

In short, the church has made itself a live, powerful influence in the present-day American community.

The effort goes on. This November, as in former years, the annual Religion in American Life campaign is under way. Its goal is to stimulate more interest in church-going and church-supporting. It is stressing once again the importance of religion in personal and community life.

The year 1951 has not been a time of easy reassurance for Americans. Their moral values have been shaken by scandal in many quarters. The war in Korea has dragged interminably without clear course. The Communist enemy has continued his tantalizing game of first making taut and then relaxing the strands of cold war tension. The nation's Allies have fretted over large and small differences with America and each other.

It would be no wonder if more than ever Americans are searching for a rock to land upon. To many of these, the church and religion are answers they have not tried. Not all will wish to try. But some will.

Those who do should respond with friendly warmth to the beckoning gestures of the church. They can do so with the secure knowledge that the church today is better able than at any time in recent decades to minister to their spiritual needs. They can do so in confidence that through the church, religion has gained a new effectiveness more commensurate with its merited place in the national life.

ROADS FOR CARS

There seems to be some thought that automobile manufacturing is a basic industry which should be encouraged to speed up production at all times but that roads, being public works of a dubious and essentially uneconomic character, should be built only in depressions. Such an idea was expressed by an unnamed correspondent in a letter to Robert Moses, New York's belligerent and efficient park commissioner. Moses commented dryly, "This type of mentality is highly regarded is conservative circles."

It may be painful to some, but everyone has to readjust his thinking from time to time. Nothing else remains stationary, and neither should thought.

Nature is always in balance. The things which can't be done on a rainy day are about equally divided between those a person would like to do and those he is glad to avoid doing.

Good manners include the ability to avoid noticing bad ones.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE FREE HAND

Thus far, in the widespread discussion of Senator Robert A. Taft's book, "A Foreign Policy for Americans," little has been said about his basic proposition, which is that the policy must be a restoration of a free hand.

Up to 1917, the United States was never what the internationalists have come to call isolationist. This country, from the days when Benjamin Franklin and John Jay were sent to Europe to deal with foreign powers, has had close and intimate relations with European and Asiatic countries, but the guiding principle was friendship, amity, cooperation but no entanglements. He did very well with that program up to Woodrow Wilson. Then we got entangled.

During the period of non-entanglement our foreign policy was premised upon three basic principles:

1. The full sovereignty of the United States must and will be respected at any cost. To assert this principle we went into the War of 1812; we asserted ourselves against the Barbary pirates; we established a line of precedents throughout the world that rights enjoyed by any nationals anywhere were to be enjoyed by Americans everywhere (the open door policy).

2. The principle was established that while the form of government accepted by a people is strictly their own choice (Declaration of Independence), the two American continents were not subject to further colonization by European nations (the Monroe Doctrine) nor would new monarchies be tolerated (our attitude toward Maximilian in Mexico).

This was of the greatest importance, for it freed our boundaries from entanglements in European dynastic and trade wars.

3. The principle was asserted and established that the lines of access to the United States had to be kept open (freedom of the seas). This was particularly important for a young nation, for if we had recognized that any one country controlled the seas, the United States could never have developed its vast industrial strength. It would have suffered from a condition called in Asia, semi-colonialism.

This free hand has been growing steadily less free since Woodrow Wilson moved the United States into the affairs of Europe. Now our hand is no longer free; it is shackled.

Senator Taft says of this:

"Our traditional policy of neutrality and non-interference with other nations was based on the principle that this policy was the best way to avoid disputes with other nations and to maintain the liberty of this country without war. From the days of George Washington that has been the policy of the United States. It has never been isolationism; but it has always avoided alliances and interference in foreign quarrels as a preventive against possible war, and it has always opposed any commitment by the United States, in advance, to take any military action outside of our territory. It would leave us free to interfere or not interfere according to whether we consider the case of sufficient vital interest to the liberty of this country. It was the policy of the free hand."

Taft's view is that the United States can afford to depart from this principle only if an "effective international organization" is established. He does not believe that the United Nations is such, giving as his reason:

"The United Nations has failed to protect our peace, I believe, because it was organized on an unsound basis with a veto power in five nations and is based, in fact, on the joint power of such nations, effective only so long as they agree. I believe the concept can only be successful if based on a rule of law and justice between nations and willingness on the part of all nations to abide by the decisions of an impartial tribunal."

While many have criticized Senator Taft's position on foreign affairs by picking on details of statement, I have sought for his basic philosophy, and I think this is it: That while it could be advantageous to this country, in the present circumstances of the world, to sacrifice a degree of its free hand, the risk should only be taken if an international organization is based on law and not upon the political whimsicalities of those who can use the veto.

"A rule of law and justice" is the phrase he employs. The rule of law we know in this country; it safeguards us in our own nation from the tyranny of politicians, from the rule of the majority and the pressure of the minority. As we depart from it, our own administration becomes corrupt and our people fearful. If the rule of law can truly be applied to nations, a way might be found to international peace.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CONGESTIVE HEART FAILURE

A physician treating a failing heart, a heart that is not pumping the blood to all parts and not emptying itself when it does pump, usually relies on one drug, digitalis, to regulate and strengthen the beat of the heart. The physician knows that this drug has been used with success for many years.

In addition to strengthening and regulating the heart beats, digitalis also drives liquids, plain and carrying salt in solution, from the kidneys and from the body cells. With less liquid in cells and kidneys, less work is required of the heart. It is thus realized why a physician feels that when he is prescribing digitalis for a failing or irregular heart, most of these cases can go about their usual work in safety.

What may surprise many of us is that it may be possible to treat these cases of congestive heart failure successfully without using digitalis. This was reported by Drs. Ferdinand R. Schemm and William W. Hurst, Great Falls, Montana, at the last Scientific Session of the American Heart Association. These doctors studied 17 patients with organic heart disease and well-developed congestive failure with the usual symptoms — shortness of breath and swelling of tissues — whose safety and comfort were not affected by withholding digitalis in the treatment. The treatment consisted of reducing the excess fluid in the body cells by getting rid of the sodium (salt) by way of the kidneys. The sodium intake was from 500 mg. to 1000 mg. daily and the water intake averaged 3900 cc. daily, with relatively small amounts of acid and mercury diuretics (drugs that drive water from the body.)

In the 18 observations on these 17 patients, the sodium or water loss averaged 20 pounds over periods which averaged seven days. As this means getting rid of water from water-logged tissues, it can be seen how this treatment was successful in treating heart failure without use of digitalis.

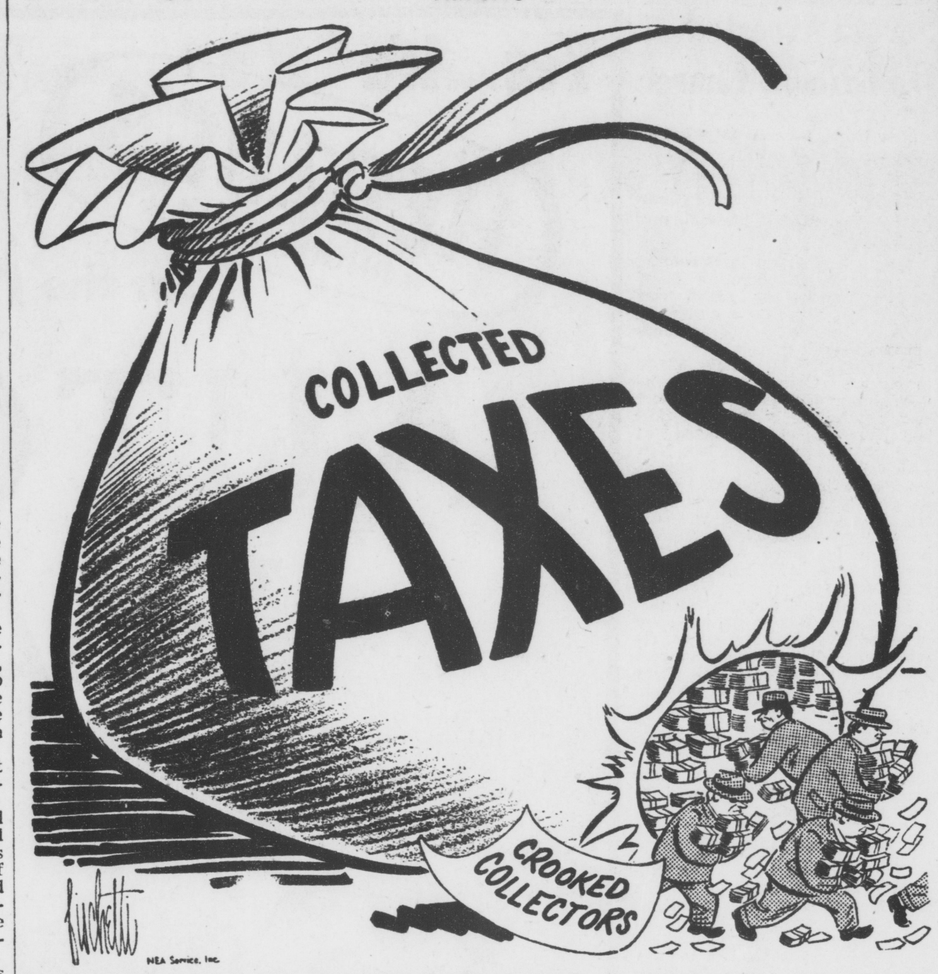

However, that digitalis does a better or more complete job in getting rid of water in the tissues and adding strength to the heart beat was shown when after all the excess water was apparently removed without digitalis, three to four pounds of water was removed from three of the above cases by digitalis. While digitalis will likely always be used in heart failure, the fact that some cases can be successfully treated by using other drugs to remove excess fluid from tissues has been established.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Meeting with the joint chiefs of staff in Washington last month, General Eisenhower indicated that the greatest danger of war was a possible attack on Yugoslavia by Soviet satellites next spring.

If this happens, U. S. defense planners have figured the Red armies are almost certain to strike through the Ljubljana Gap in northern Yugoslavia, then rush down the Dalmatian coast to Sovietized Albania. This not only would cut off most allied supplies sent to the aid of Yugoslavia, but would put Moscow within a few minutes' bombing distance of Rome and the Vatican.

Thus the entire Adriatic seacoast of Italy from Venice to Brindisi, would face a Red waterfront, and the Italian population, one-third Communist, inevitably would be subject to sabotage, upheaval and eventual revolution.

These were some of the factors I had in mind in urging Marshal Tito to cut red tape and release Archbishop Stepinac right away. For this now famous churchman had become not only a football of politics but a symbol of persecution, which was seriously hurting relations between our two countries.

Actually I knew, from having spent two years in Yugoslavia directing Quaker relief work after World War I, also from my visit there last winter, that there is little religious discrimination in Yugoslavia. I have served on the same hospital board with Moslems, orthodox and Catholics, seen them work together and live together. Probably there is more tolerance there than here.

Symbol of Bitterness

Furthermore, the National Catholic Welfare Council in cooperation with CARE picked a Catholic attorney, John A. Svetina of Chicago, who speaks the language and who made a thorough survey of Yugoslavia last September to see whether CARE food packages were being distributed fairly as between Catholic and non-Catholic, Communist and non-Communist. He returned with a highly favorable report.

Despite this, it was only natural that the continued incarceration of Archbishop Stepinac should rankle many Catholics in this country.

In releasing him, however, Tito faced a domestic problem which, I regret to say, was comparable perhaps to that of Senator Russell of Georgia if he were suddenly to reverse himself and vote for the FEPC for southern Negroes. For in orthodox Serbia the religious massacres that took place under Hitler, and for which Archbishop Stepinac was imprisoned, still cause great bitterness. It is charged that 700,000 Serbs were killed in these church massacres because they refused to desert the orthodox faith.

What complicated Tito's political problem was that Serbia is that part of the Yugoslav confederation where he is least popular, where he has to gain strength rather than lose it. In Serbia, Archbishop Stepinac has become a burning, bitter symbol. Thus Tito, while winning friends in the U.S.A., knew that he would have to make some enemies at home.

The fact remains that, despite these misunderstandings, Yugoslavia is more vital to the military defense of the Vatican than any other country in the world. For, should Red armies take the Adriatic coast of Yugoslavia, it would be only a short time before Italy must come under Moscow's wing.

Acheson's Ear Plugs

When Secretary of State Acheson first arrived in Paris, he found his room over an entrance where the loudspeaker below was busy, day and night, calling chauffeurs and their cars. Sleep was impossible, and Mrs. Acheson went out to buy some ear plugs.

Returning half an hour later, she found her husband asleep. Carefully, she laid two old-fashioned red, wax-and-wool ear plugs on the bedside table near the secretary of state.

Later and much to her dismay, she came back to find him trying to swallow them.

He thought they were sleeping pills!

Note—At Paris, Acheson has again been talking about resigning. Physically tired from the long-winded diplomatic debates, discouraged over the lack of U.N. progress, Dean has forcefully realized that every politician arriving in Paris beats a track to Eisenhower's door, while virtually ignoring the secretary of state. Feeling that he is a liability, Acheson has been talking of handing in his resignation so as to be out of the way before the political campaign gets started.

Wilson's Production

Appointment of Roger L. Putnam to the key job of economic stabilizer is the first sign that the White House is getting fed up with Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson; also that Truman is listening to new Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney.

Wilson had been telling associates that he would name the new economic stabilizer. He was particularly anxious to name him because it was the friction between Wilson and Eric Johnston that caused the latter's resignation. Despite this, the President put in his own man.

Furthermore, the Democrat he named, ex-Mayor Putnam of Springfield, Mass., is a friend of Democratic Chairman McKinney. The two worked closely together in the Office of War Contract Negotiation, both are bank officials, and Putnam is also president of the Package Marchinery Co., a director of the Perkins Machine and Gear Co., and the Van Norman Co. He also has the unique distinction of being the sole trustee of the Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Ariz.

The President got to know Charles E. Wilson when he was vice chairman of the old Car Production Board, at which time Truman was chairman of the Senate Investigating Committee. Wilson, however, didn't have to take the brickbats and the responsibilities Chairman Donald Nelson did. Now that he is in the No. 1 spot, he hasn't been able either to stand the gaff or get our production.

Real fact is that U. S. military production is so bad that it can hardly be published.

Truman Criticism Is Example of How Officials Often Seek to Blame Press

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 30—President Truman's castigation of press associations for their dispatches from Korea on the lull in the fighting there, which was mistakenly interpreted as an informal cease-fire, is a conspicuous and regrettable example of how officialdom often seeks to blame the press for its own mistakes.

Operating under difficult conditions of communication, war correspondents know only what is happening in the localities where they happen to be stationed, and they report what they see. The censors, who are military officers, passed the dispatches about the lull in the fighting.

Now, the President was within his rights in denying that a cease-fire had been agreed upon, but he would have been practicing the same kind of objectivity which he sometimes complains that the press doesn't give him if he had pointed out that no doubt the dispatches about the informal cease-fire were based on conscientiously reported facts at the place where they were gathered.

Thus General Van Fleet, commander of the UN ground forces in Korea, while denying that any cease-fire order had been given, now says in a formally issued statement:

"Amplifying the original statement, I can say that certain military instructions were disseminated from this headquarters to corps and division levels. War correspondent's reports indicate that when these instructions were passed out to some lower command elements, there was distortion of the meaning in the text of these instructions. Action is being taken to clarify these instructions for those officers and enlisted men who misinterpreted the directive.

"I am not at liberty to disclose the contents of the instructions, which are related to future operations of the 8th Army. I can definitely say, however, that there is no mention made in the text of ordering a cease-fire in Korea."

Since "military instructions" were misinterpreted by officers in the army, and reporters on the spot reported what they obtained from such officers, it ill becomes the President to criticize the war correspondents.

The President, at his Thursday press conference at Key West, recalled that, when he was an artillery officer in France, a French newspaper published a story about an armistice. That story, Mr. Truman observed, was put out by Roy Howard and was a fake.

Mr. Howard happens now to be the head of the Scripps-Howard papers, which have at various times criticized the Truman policies but in 1918 he cabled from Brest, France, to the United Press in New York a dispatch about the signing of an armistice, and it caused premature celebrations from coast to coast. It does seem that Mr. Truman might have familiarized himself with the facts about that episode before implying that Mr. Howard had intentionally written on November 7, 1918, what turned out to be a premature story about the armistice that was signed four days later.

This correspondent was in Brest just two weeks after the armistice was signed and asked Admiral Henry B. Wilson, U.S.N., commandant of the American naval forces in that vicinity, about the origin of Mr. Howard's dispatch. The admiral said unhesitatingly that he had received the information over the telephone from one of the naval attaches in the American Embassy in Paris and, believing it to be authentic, had passed it on to the fleet. What happened was that someone in Paris misunderstood information received over the telephone from the field headquarters, where emissaries from the German army were meeting with Allied officers to arrange the armistice. The admiral said that he gave the information to Mr. Howard believing it to be news that everybody would have within a matter of minutes or hours. The explanation was then cabled by this correspondent to newspapers in the Unitel States.

That's the story of what Mr. Truman now calls a "fake." It was a piece of conscientious reporting done on the spot by Mr. Howard and illustrates the difficulties which newsmen face when they report what they see and hear, only to be told later that either they shouldn't have reported it at all or that they were reporting inaccurately.

The difficulties of reporting during a war period are understandable, but there is no excuse for some of the barriers to the free flow of information encountered in reporting in Washington where technical denials and equivocally written official statements frequently give misleading impressions for which officialdom later seeks to make the press the scapegoat.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London—The British have a system of popular, legal gambling through pools on the soccer football games which closely resembles our numbers racket and might be the solution of the American problem of penny-ante betting by the "masses." The British also bet openly on horse races through recognized bookmakers operating away from the tracks, a criminal practice under our laws. I doubt that any other people gamble as much as the British do, but of course nobody ever has been able to determine how much our people bet illegally on the numbers and on races with the so-called bookies.

The Rev. E. Benson Perkins, in a report published by the churches' committee on gambling, tells us that the total turnover in gambling in Britain in 1948 was between 600,000,000 and 700,000,000 pounds. At that time the pound was a little more robust than it is now. It is normally about $4.86 but at this writing it is about $2.80. However, the dollar also is reduced by a little more than half, so suppose we skip this phase of the story and deal in pounds as pounds. Mr. Perkins said his figures were based on inquiries made by the churches' committee on gambling. He rated the football pools third in volume of money, with 65 millions of pounds. The horse-bettors came first with 350 millions and the dog-tracks were said to have turned over 220 millions.

"It is estimated that about 20 million coupons are returned with money each week," his report said in the phase dealing with the pools. "There are eight or a dozen big promoters forming a ring and over 200 smaller operators. The advertising of these football pool promoters alone runs into some millions of pounds in the course of a football season."

The biggest of these pools is known as Littlewoods, with headquarters in Liverpool. The volume of Littlewood's business is so great that the postal receipts for stamps and postal money orders from its millions of subscribers in the course of a season are a substantial factor in that department's economy. Many postal employes owe their jobs to Littlewoods and other such pools and the Rev. Mr. Perkins writes that the total number of agents, clerks, touts, runners and football pool canvassers probably exceeds 200,000.

In one case that came into court it was admitted that the firm which ran a pool employed 1,000 girls in the office in addition to their canvassers or, as we would call them, hustlers. Mr. Perkins insists however that the employment of so many individuals in the gambling traffic is not a point in favor of such gambling because the same money would provide far greater employment and add considerable value to the community if it were used in "legitimate" commerce. Noting, in the first place, that most of this gambling is legally "legitimate," I must add that he doesn't make any case for his proposition that this money would provide more jobs and add "value to the community." He seems to me to fall off his sled on that turn. I can sympathize with him. I do, too, in these discussions of the ebb and flow of gambling money.

The equations and permutations are so complex that it would be futile to attempt to discuss them here. Millions of Britons wrestle with them all the time. But the capital prize in football pools has been reduced arbitrarily to 75,000 pounds and I have at this moment been advised by phone that Littlewood's is about to present a prize of 60,000 pounds to a winner whose investment was one penny, normally two American cents but now one American cent, which is worth only fifty per cent of its normal value. I have just telephoned down to an American aviation colonel in the American bar of the Dorchester Hotel to ask him how much this is on his slide-rule. He was around shooting off his mouth about the mathematics of aviation problems. Let him work this one out with salted cashew nuts on the American bar. He has just phoned back to say 60,000 pounds is $168,000, American, at this instant. Now I suppose you will want to know what odds that represents on an investment equal to one American half-cent. Well, the colonel was just going out to dinner with a nice looking number and I have a meet a deadline. Can't you take my word for it that this is a very long shot? What does it take to satisfy you? Would it make you feel better to know that this $168,000 to a half-cent is not taxable as income?

A recent report by a royal commission on betting, lotteries and gaming said that during the investigation the secretary of the Pool Promoters' Association said Littlewoods deducted 17.9 per cent for expenses. Another concern, called

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 30, 1951

RELIGION IN WORLD OF WOE

One of the most notable events in postwar America has been the striking revival of interest in religion. It has shown itself in many ways, but mostly in record attendance at church and a vast consumption of inspirational books.

Overwhelmingly, this has reflected the deeply troubled outlook of a people beset by endless tensions, bewildered by seemingly unmanageable crises. It has been a quest for certainty amid a flood tide of confusion and doubt. It has been a spontaneous response, a fulfillment of need.

Yet through all this hopeful resurgence of spiritual force, the church itself has not stood idly by. It has actively and constructively labored to encourage the overt expression of religious feeling.

In many places it has erected new and more spacious houses of worship. It has brought fresh psychological insight to its complex task of ministering to the spiritual wants of human beings. It has broadened the social sphere in which it operates, thus offering the church as a great focal point for a whole galaxy of interests.

And, periodically, it has campaigned with unaccustomed vigor and originality to augment still further its multiplying flock of faithful church-goers. The church has done this not with any notion of forcing religious ritual and pattern upon people who do not wish it, but with the simple aim of drawing within its fold all who would really like to be there.

In short, the church has made itself a live, powerful influence in the present-day American community.

The effort goes on. This November, as in former years, the annual Religion in American Life campaign is under way. Its goal is to stimulate more interest in church-going and church-supporting. It is stressing once again the importance of religion in personal and community life.

The year 1951 has not been a time of easy reassurance for Americans. Their moral values have been shaken by scandal in many quarters. The war in Korea has dragged interminably without clear course. The Communist enemy has continued his tantalizing game of first making taut and then relaxing the strands of cold war tension. The nation's Allies have fretted over large and small differences with America and each other.

It would be no wonder if more than ever Americans are searching for a rock to land upon. To many of these, the church and religion are answers they have not tried. Not all will wish to try. But some will.

Those who do should respond with friendly warmth to the beckoning gestures of the church. They can do so with the secure knowledge that the church today is better able than at any time in recent decades to minister to their spiritual needs. They can do so in confidence that through the church, religion has gained a new effectiveness more commensurate with its merited place in the national life.

ROADS FOR CARS

There seems to be some thought that automobile manufacturing is a basic industry which should be encouraged to speed up production at all times but that roads, being public works of a dubious and essentially uneconomic character, should be built only in depressions. Such an idea was expressed by an unnamed correspondent in a letter to Robert Moses, New York's belligerent and efficient park commissioner. Moses commented dryly, "This type of mentality is highly regarded is conservative circles."

It may be painful to some, but everyone has to readjust his thinking from time to time. Nothing else remains stationary, and neither should thought.

Nature is always in balance. The things which can't be done on a rainy day are about equally divided between those a person would like to do and those he is glad to avoid doing.

Good manners include the ability to avoid noticing bad ones.

'These Days'

THE FREE HAND

Thus far, in the widespread discussion of Senator Robert A. Taft's book, "A Foreign Policy for Americans," little has been said about his basic proposition, which is that the policy must be a restoration of a free hand.

Up to 1917, the United States was never what the internationalists have come to call isolationist. This country, from the days when Benjamin Franklin and John Jay were sent to Europe to deal with foreign powers, has had close and intimate relations with European and Asiatic countries, but the guiding principle was friendship, amity, cooperation but no entanglements. He did very well with that program up to Woodrow Wilson. Then we got entangled.

During the period of non-entanglement our foreign policy was premised upon three basic principles:

1. The full sovereignty of the United States must and will be respected at any cost. To assert this principle we went into the War of 1812; we asserted ourselves against the Barbary pirates; we established a line of precedents throughout the world that rights enjoyed by any nationals anywhere were to be enjoyed by Americans everywhere (the open door policy).

2. The principle was established that while the form of government accepted by a people is strictly their own choice (Declaration of Independence), the two American continents were not subject to further colonization by European nations (the Monroe Doctrine) nor would new monarchies be tolerated (our attitude toward Maximilian in Mexico).

This was of the greatest importance, for it freed our boundaries from entanglements in European dynastic and trade wars.

3. The principle was asserted and established that the lines of access to the United States had to be kept open (freedom of the seas). This was particularly important for a young nation, for if we had recognized that any one country controlled the seas, the United States could never have developed its vast industrial strength. It would have suffered from a condition called in Asia, semi-colonialism.

This free hand has been growing steadily less free since Woodrow Wilson moved the United States into the affairs of Europe. Now our hand is no longer free; it is shackled.

Senator Taft says of this:

"Our traditional policy of neutrality and non-interference with other nations was based on the principle that this policy was the best way to avoid disputes with other nations and to maintain the liberty of this country without war. From the days of George Washington that has been the policy of the United States. It has never been isolationism; but it has always avoided alliances and interference in foreign quarrels as a preventive against possible war, and it has always opposed any commitment by the United States, in advance, to take any military action outside of our territory. It would leave us free to interfere or not interfere according to whether we consider the case of sufficient vital interest to the liberty of this country. It was the policy of the free hand."

Taft's view is that the United States can afford to depart from this principle only if an "effective international organization" is established. He does not believe that the United Nations is such, giving as his reason:

"The United Nations has failed to protect our peace, I believe, because it was organized on an unsound basis with a veto power in five nations and is based, in fact, on the joint power of such nations, effective only so long as they agree. I believe the concept can only be successful if based on a rule of law and justice between nations and willingness on the part of all nations to abide by the decisions of an impartial tribunal."

While many have criticized Senator Taft's position on foreign affairs by picking on details of statement, I have sought for his basic philosophy, and I think this is it: That while it could be advantageous to this country, in the present circumstances of the world, to sacrifice a degree of its free hand, the risk should only be taken if an international organization is based on law and not upon the political whimsicalities of those who can use the veto.

"A rule of law and justice" is the phrase he employs. The rule of law we know in this country; it safeguards us in our own nation from the tyranny of politicians, from the rule of the majority and the pressure of the minority. As we depart from it, our own administration becomes corrupt and our people fearful. If the rule of law can truly be applied to nations, a way might be found to international peace.

That Body of Yours

CONGESTIVE HEART FAILURE

A physician treating a failing heart, a heart that is not pumping the blood to all parts and not emptying itself when it does pump, usually relies on one drug, digitalis, to regulate and strengthen the beat of the heart. The physician knows that this drug has been used with success for many years.

In addition to strengthening and regulating the heart beats, digitalis also drives liquids, plain and carrying salt in solution, from the kidneys and from the body cells. With less liquid in cells and kidneys, less work is required of the heart. It is thus realized why a physician feels that when he is prescribing digitalis for a failing or irregular heart, most of these cases can go about their usual work in safety.

What may surprise many of us is that it may be possible to treat these cases of congestive heart failure successfully without using digitalis. This was reported by Drs. Ferdinand R. Schemm and William W. Hurst, Great Falls, Montana, at the last Scientific Session of the American Heart Association. These doctors studied 17 patients with organic heart disease and well-developed congestive failure with the usual symptoms — shortness of breath and swelling of tissues — whose safety and comfort were not affected by withholding digitalis in the treatment. The treatment consisted of reducing the excess fluid in the body cells by getting rid of the sodium (salt) by way of the kidneys. The sodium intake was from 500 mg. to 1000 mg. daily and the water intake averaged 3900 cc. daily, with relatively small amounts of acid and mercury diuretics (drugs that drive water from the body.)

In the 18 observations on these 17 patients, the sodium or water loss averaged 20 pounds over periods which averaged seven days. As this means getting rid of water from water-logged tissues, it can be seen how this treatment was successful in treating heart failure without use of digitalis.

However, that digitalis does a better or more complete job in getting rid of water in the tissues and adding strength to the heart beat was shown when after all the excess water was apparently removed without digitalis, three to four pounds of water was removed from three of the above cases by digitalis. While digitalis will likely always be used in heart failure, the fact that some cases can be successfully treated by using other drugs to remove excess fluid from tissues has been established.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Meeting with the joint chiefs of staff in Washington last month, General Eisenhower indicated that the greatest danger of war was a possible attack on Yugoslavia by Soviet satellites next spring.

If this happens, U. S. defense planners have figured the Red armies are almost certain to strike through the Ljubljana Gap in northern Yugoslavia, then rush down the Dalmatian coast to Sovietized Albania. This not only would cut off most allied supplies sent to the aid of Yugoslavia, but would put Moscow within a few minutes' bombing distance of Rome and the Vatican.

Thus the entire Adriatic seacoast of Italy from Venice to Brindisi, would face a Red waterfront, and the Italian population, one-third Communist, inevitably would be subject to sabotage, upheaval and eventual revolution.

These were some of the factors I had in mind in urging Marshal Tito to cut red tape and release Archbishop Stepinac right away. For this now famous churchman had become not only a football of politics but a symbol of persecution, which was seriously hurting relations between our two countries.

Actually I knew, from having spent two years in Yugoslavia directing Quaker relief work after World War I, also from my visit there last winter, that there is little religious discrimination in Yugoslavia. I have served on the same hospital board with Moslems, orthodox and Catholics, seen them work together and live together. Probably there is more tolerance there than here.

Symbol of Bitterness

Furthermore, the National Catholic Welfare Council in cooperation with CARE picked a Catholic attorney, John A. Svetina of Chicago, who speaks the language and who made a thorough survey of Yugoslavia last September to see whether CARE food packages were being distributed fairly as between Catholic and non-Catholic, Communist and non-Communist. He returned with a highly favorable report.

Despite this, it was only natural that the continued incarceration of Archbishop Stepinac should rankle many Catholics in this country.

In releasing him, however, Tito faced a domestic problem which, I regret to say, was comparable perhaps to that of Senator Russell of Georgia if he were suddenly to reverse himself and vote for the FEPC for southern Negroes. For in orthodox Serbia the religious massacres that took place under Hitler, and for which Archbishop Stepinac was imprisoned, still cause great bitterness. It is charged that 700,000 Serbs were killed in these church massacres because they refused to desert the orthodox faith.

What complicated Tito's political problem was that Serbia is that part of the Yugoslav confederation where he is least popular, where he has to gain strength rather than lose it. In Serbia, Archbishop Stepinac has become a burning, bitter symbol. Thus Tito, while winning friends in the U.S.A., knew that he would have to make some enemies at home.

The fact remains that, despite these misunderstandings, Yugoslavia is more vital to the military defense of the Vatican than any other country in the world. For, should Red armies take the Adriatic coast of Yugoslavia, it would be only a short time before Italy must come under Moscow's wing.

Acheson's Ear Plugs

When Secretary of State Acheson first arrived in Paris, he found his room over an entrance where the loudspeaker below was busy, day and night, calling chauffeurs and their cars. Sleep was impossible, and Mrs. Acheson went out to buy some ear plugs.

Returning half an hour later, she found her husband asleep. Carefully, she laid two old-fashioned red, wax-and-wool ear plugs on the bedside table near the secretary of state.

Later and much to her dismay, she came back to find him trying to swallow them.

He thought they were sleeping pills!

Note—At Paris, Acheson has again been talking about resigning. Physically tired from the long-winded diplomatic debates, discouraged over the lack of U.N. progress, Dean has forcefully realized that every politician arriving in Paris beats a track to Eisenhower's door, while virtually ignoring the secretary of state. Feeling that he is a liability, Acheson has been talking of handing in his resignation so as to be out of the way before the political campaign gets started.

Wilson's Production

Appointment of Roger L. Putnam to the key job of economic stabilizer is the first sign that the White House is getting fed up with Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson; also that Truman is listening to new Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney.

Wilson had been telling associates that he would name the new economic stabilizer. He was particularly anxious to name him because it was the friction between Wilson and Eric Johnston that caused the latter's resignation. Despite this, the President put in his own man.

Furthermore, the Democrat he named, ex-Mayor Putnam of Springfield, Mass., is a friend of Democratic Chairman McKinney. The two worked closely together in the Office of War Contract Negotiation, both are bank officials, and Putnam is also president of the Package Marchinery Co., a director of the Perkins Machine and Gear Co., and the Van Norman Co. He also has the unique distinction of being the sole trustee of the Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Ariz.

The President got to know Charles E. Wilson when he was vice chairman of the old Car Production Board, at which time Truman was chairman of the Senate Investigating Committee. Wilson, however, didn't have to take the brickbats and the responsibilities Chairman Donald Nelson did. Now that he is in the No. 1 spot, he hasn't been able either to stand the gaff or get our production.

Real fact is that U. S. military production is so bad that it can hardly be published.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 30—President Truman's castigation of press associations for their dispatches from Korea on the lull in the fighting there, which was mistakenly interpreted as an informal cease-fire, is a conspicuous and regrettable example of how officialdom often seeks to blame the press for its own mistakes.

Operating under difficult conditions of communication, war correspondents know only what is happening in the localities where they happen to be stationed, and they report what they see. The censors, who are military officers, passed the dispatches about the lull in the fighting.

Now, the President was within his rights in denying that a cease-fire had been agreed upon, but he would have been practicing the same kind of objectivity which he sometimes complains that the press doesn't give him if he had pointed out that no doubt the dispatches about the informal cease-fire were based on conscientiously reported facts at the place where they were gathered.

Thus General Van Fleet, commander of the UN ground forces in Korea, while denying that any cease-fire order had been given, now says in a formally issued statement:

"Amplifying the original statement, I can say that certain military instructions were disseminated from this headquarters to corps and division levels. War correspondent's reports indicate that when these instructions were passed out to some lower command elements, there was distortion of the meaning in the text of these instructions. Action is being taken to clarify these instructions for those officers and enlisted men who misinterpreted the directive.

"I am not at liberty to disclose the contents of the instructions, which are related to future operations of the 8th Army. I can definitely say, however, that there is no mention made in the text of ordering a cease-fire in Korea."

Since "military instructions" were misinterpreted by officers in the army, and reporters on the spot reported what they obtained from such officers, it ill becomes the President to criticize the war correspondents.

The President, at his Thursday press conference at Key West, recalled that, when he was an artillery officer in France, a French newspaper published a story about an armistice. That story, Mr. Truman observed, was put out by Roy Howard and was a fake.

Mr. Howard happens now to be the head of the Scripps-Howard papers, which have at various times criticized the Truman policies but in 1918 he cabled from Brest, France, to the United Press in New York a dispatch about the signing of an armistice, and it caused premature celebrations from coast to coast. It does seem that Mr. Truman might have familiarized himself with the facts about that episode before implying that Mr. Howard had intentionally written on November 7, 1918, what turned out to be a premature story about the armistice that was signed four days later.

This correspondent was in Brest just two weeks after the armistice was signed and asked Admiral Henry B. Wilson, U.S.N., commandant of the American naval forces in that vicinity, about the origin of Mr. Howard's dispatch. The admiral said unhesitatingly that he had received the information over the telephone from one of the naval attaches in the American Embassy in Paris and, believing it to be authentic, had passed it on to the fleet. What happened was that someone in Paris misunderstood information received over the telephone from the field headquarters, where emissaries from the German army were meeting with Allied officers to arrange the armistice. The admiral said that he gave the information to Mr. Howard believing it to be news that everybody would have within a matter of minutes or hours. The explanation was then cabled by this correspondent to newspapers in the Unitel States.

That's the story of what Mr. Truman now calls a "fake." It was a piece of conscientious reporting done on the spot by Mr. Howard and illustrates the difficulties which newsmen face when they report what they see and hear, only to be told later that either they shouldn't have reported it at all or that they were reporting inaccurately.

The difficulties of reporting during a war period are understandable, but there is no excuse for some of the barriers to the free flow of information encountered in reporting in Washington where technical denials and equivocally written official statements frequently give misleading impressions for which officialdom later seeks to make the press the scapegoat.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London—The British have a system of popular, legal gambling through pools on the soccer football games which closely resembles our numbers racket and might be the solution of the American problem of penny-ante betting by the "masses." The British also bet openly on horse races through recognized bookmakers operating away from the tracks, a criminal practice under our laws. I doubt that any other people gamble as much as the British do, but of course nobody ever has been able to determine how much our people bet illegally on the numbers and on races with the so-called bookies.

The Rev. E. Benson Perkins, in a report published by the churches' committee on gambling, tells us that the total turnover in gambling in Britain in 1948 was between 600,000,000 and 700,000,000 pounds. At that time the pound was a little more robust than it is now. It is normally about $4.86 but at this writing it is about $2.80. However, the dollar also is reduced by a little more than half, so suppose we skip this phase of the story and deal in pounds as pounds. Mr. Perkins said his figures were based on inquiries made by the churches' committee on gambling. He rated the football pools third in volume of money, with 65 millions of pounds. The horse-bettors came first with 350 millions and the dog-tracks were said to have turned over 220 millions.

"It is estimated that about 20 million coupons are returned with money each week," his report said in the phase dealing with the pools. "There are eight or a dozen big promoters forming a ring and over 200 smaller operators. The advertising of these football pool promoters alone runs into some millions of pounds in the course of a football season."

The biggest of these pools is known as Littlewoods, with headquarters in Liverpool. The volume of Littlewood's business is so great that the postal receipts for stamps and postal money orders from its millions of subscribers in the course of a season are a substantial factor in that department's economy. Many postal employes owe their jobs to Littlewoods and other such pools and the Rev. Mr. Perkins writes that the total number of agents, clerks, touts, runners and football pool canvassers probably exceeds 200,000.

In one case that came into court it was admitted that the firm which ran a pool employed 1,000 girls in the office in addition to their canvassers or, as we would call them, hustlers. Mr. Perkins insists however that the employment of so many individuals in the gambling traffic is not a point in favor of such gambling because the same money would provide far greater employment and add considerable value to the community if it were used in "legitimate" commerce. Noting, in the first place, that most of this gambling is legally "legitimate," I must add that he doesn't make any case for his proposition that this money would provide more jobs and add "value to the community." He seems to me to fall off his sled on that turn. I can sympathize with him. I do, too, in these discussions of the ebb and flow of gambling money.

The equations and permutations are so complex that it would be futile to attempt to discuss them here. Millions of Britons wrestle with them all the time. But the capital prize in football pools has been reduced arbitrarily to 75,000 pounds and I have at this moment been advised by phone that Littlewood's is about to present a prize of 60,000 pounds to a winner whose investment was one penny, normally two American cents but now one American cent, which is worth only fifty per cent of its normal value. I have just telephoned down to an American aviation colonel in the American bar of the Dorchester Hotel to ask him how much this is on his slide-rule. He was around shooting off his mouth about the mathematics of aviation problems. Let him work this one out with salted cashew nuts on the American bar. He has just phoned back to say 60,000 pounds is $168,000, American, at this instant. Now I suppose you will want to know what odds that represents on an investment equal to one American half-cent. Well, the colonel was just going out to dinner with a nice looking number and I have a meet a deadline. Can't you take my word for it that this is a very long shot? What does it take to satisfy you? Would it make you feel better to know that this $168,000 to a half-cent is not taxable as income?

A recent report by a royal commission on betting, lotteries and gaming said that during the investigation the secretary of the Pool Promoters' Association said Littlewoods deducted 17.9 per cent for expenses. Another concern, called

Protect Adopted Child by Telling Him Yourself

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

(First of two columns on handling adopted children)

Kate was nine years old when her father died. After the funeral, her Aunt Essie stayed on to help Kate's mother "rearrange her affairs."

Kate learned what Aunt Essie meant by "rearranging" those affairs when she came home from school one afternoon to hear Aunt Essie's loud voice arguing with her mother in the kitchen.

Aunt Essie was saying, "Of course, sell the house. Why should you go on cooking and cleaning for her? Put her in a boarding school—and start remaking her own life. You're a young woman still. It's not as if Kate were your real child . . . "

We should take care to protect adopted children against learning of their circumstances through this kind of clumsy accident. We should protect them by telling them about those circumstances ourselves, as soon as possible.

If we postpone this loving duty, we take chances on a family emergency forcing knowledge upon them at a time when they are struggling to adjust to the emergency.

Kate, the experts tell us, is an unusual adopted child; she really didn't know. Usually adopted youngsters have discovered our carefully hoarded secret and live their lives with us, struggling heroically to justify our silence.

More sensitive than we are, they bear the bewilderment and wonder alone to spare us the shock of learning that they know. Our reserve frightens them.

They ask themselves, "What shameful thing is connected with my birth? What dreadful secret can it be that these people whom I love cannot take me into their confidence?"

These are questions no child should have to ask.

To adopt a child for one's own is a proud and triumphant act for any human record. But to allow such a strong and loving act to besome associated with shame in the mind of the child we love is unsound feeling and thinking.

FEAR IS THE ENEMY

Fear, of course, is the enemy that is depriving us of the closeness and freedom that shared truth always brings to us.

We are afraid to tell the truth to our adopted child because we are jealous of his natural parents.

If we give some thought to this jealousy, we usually discover that it's based on an over-sentimental, unrealistic respect for physical parenthood.

True motherhood is quite independent of the sexual or birth experience and is the product of three qualities: self-knowledge, humility and love. We do not achieve these by being wheeled into a delivery room and bearing a baby.

Since true motherhood is a spiritual, rather than physical experience, giving bodily birth is no guarantee whatever of the real McCoy. The woman who deliberately seeks out a child to adopt and love is, however, a promising candidate for the finest kind of motherhood. Her very decision implies that she is a human being who has achieved some self-knowledge, some humility and some love.

If she has a problem at all, it is that she is still deficient in self-knowledge. Otherwise, she would be able to appreciate her act of adoption as an example of unusual control over circumstances.

Instead of passively accepting a situation which denies her an experience she wants, she takes the situation over and changes it. She should be so pleased with her human quality that she has no reservations at all in sharing her delight with the child who has inspired her triumph over circumstances.

Once the adoptive parent gets the right evaluation of his own action, he is nearly set. Respect for his creative action is basic to his ability to explain adoption to the child. That's a subject I will discuss in my next column.

Wage Increase Wins Approval of Board

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—A 13-cent hourly wage increase for more than 100,000 employes of the "Big Four" rubber companies won the approval of the Wage Stabilization Board last night.

The pay boost was negotiated by the CIO's Rubber Workers Union last summer with the U. S. Rubber Co., the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., The B. F. Goodrich Co., and the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

Of the total increase, seven cents will be retroactive to the effective dates, last July and August, of the contracts with the individual companies. The other six cents will be retroactive to Oct. 16.

The workers averaged $1.78 an hour in straight time wages in July of this year.

The Mature Parent

Protect Adopted Child by Telling Him Yourself

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

(First of two columns on handling adopted children)

Kate was nine years old when her father died. After the funeral, her Aunt Essie stayed on to help Kate's mother "rearrange her affairs."

Kate learned what Aunt Essie meant by "rearranging" those affairs when she came home from school one afternoon to hear Aunt Essie's loud voice arguing with her mother in the kitchen.

Aunt Essie was saying, "Of course, sell the house. Why should you go on cooking and cleaning for her? Put her in a boarding school—and start remaking her own life. You're a young woman still. It's not as if Kate were your real child . . . "

We should take care to protect adopted children against learning of their circumstances through this kind of clumsy accident. We should protect them by telling them about those circumstances ourselves, as soon as possible.

If we postpone this loving duty, we take chances on a family emergency forcing knowledge upon them at a time when they are struggling to adjust to the emergency.

Kate, the experts tell us, is an unusual adopted child; she really didn't know. Usually adopted youngsters have discovered our carefully hoarded secret and live their lives with us, struggling heroically to justify our silence.

More sensitive than we are, they bear the bewilderment and wonder alone to spare us the shock of learning that they know. Our reserve frightens them.

They ask themselves, "What shameful thing is connected with my birth? What dreadful secret can it be that these people whom I love cannot take me into their confidence?"

These are questions no child should have to ask.

To adopt a child for one's own is a proud and triumphant act for any human record. But to allow such a strong and loving act to besome associated with shame in the mind of the child we love is unsound feeling and thinking.

FEAR IS THE ENEMY

Fear, of course, is the enemy that is depriving us of the closeness and freedom that shared truth always brings to us.

We are afraid to tell the truth to our adopted child because we are jealous of his natural parents.

If we give some thought to this jealousy, we usually discover that it's based on an over-sentimental, unrealistic respect for physical parenthood.

True motherhood is quite independent of the sexual or birth experience and is the product of three qualities: self-knowledge, humility and love. We do not achieve these by being wheeled into a delivery room and bearing a baby.

Since true motherhood is a spiritual, rather than physical experience, giving bodily birth is no guarantee whatever of the real McCoy. The woman who deliberately seeks out a child to adopt and love is, however, a promising candidate for the finest kind of motherhood. Her very decision implies that she is a human being who has achieved some self-knowledge, some humility and some love.

If she has a problem at all, it is that she is still deficient in self-knowledge. Otherwise, she would be able to appreciate her act of adoption as an example of unusual control over circumstances.

Instead of passively accepting a situation which denies her an experience she wants, she takes the situation over and changes it. She should be so pleased with her human quality that she has no reservations at all in sharing her delight with the child who has inspired her triumph over circumstances.

Once the adoptive parent gets the right evaluation of his own action, he is nearly set. Respect for his creative action is basic to his ability to explain adoption to the child. That's a subject I will discuss in my next column.

Wage Increase Wins Approval of Board

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—A 13-cent hourly wage increase for more than 100,000 employes of the "Big Four" rubber companies won the approval of the Wage Stabilization Board last night.

The pay boost was negotiated by the CIO's Rubber Workers Union last summer with the U. S. Rubber Co., the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., The B. F. Goodrich Co., and the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

Of the total increase, seven cents will be retroactive to the effective dates, last July and August, of the contracts with the individual companies. The other six cents will be retroactive to Oct. 16.

The workers averaged $1.78 an hour in straight time wages in July of this year.

Farmer—My brother died from stomach trouble.

City Man—Did you call a doctor?

Farmer—No, he died a natural death.

She—I changed my mind.

He—I hope the new one works better than the old one.

House Buyer—Look here, you swindler, when you sold me that house for $5,000 you vowed to me that in three months I wouldn't part with it for $10,000.

Real Estate Agent—Yes that's exactly what I said. You haven't parted with it, have you?

A local woman, a bit overweight, visited a dress shop.

Woman—Can you alter a dress to fit me?

Sales Lady—Certainly not. That isn't done any more. You'll have to be altered to fit the dress.

We wish they would invent a new expression; it's "always the blushing bride."

Well, when you consider the sort of husbands the girls have to marry, it's enough to make them blush.

Someone has found new use for that modern kitchen gadget, the pressure cooker. State police made a raid near Madison, W. Va., and uncovered a "fair grade" of moonshine produced in a cooker.

Man—Do you spend your time with puzzles?

Friend—Only with the one I married.

Stopping his car near a mountain shack in the Ozarks, a tourist called to the old woman sitting on the porch.

Tourist—How far is it to the nearest town?

Woman—Pa figgers hit's about 10 miles thar and about 12 back. Which is account of him walkin' straighter goin' than comin.'

Friend—Do you permit your wife to have her own way?

Man—No, sir. She has it without my permission.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Novices Get the Nod In Bridge Hand I. Q.

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"This is a hand that will drive all the experts crazy," Harry Fishbein told me the other day.

I looked doubtful. For a long time I have believed that all bridge experts have a few bats flying around in their belfries. For example, take the national tournament that will be held in Detroit next week.

About a thousand experts from all over the country will plunk down good money on trains, planes and hotels to get together and try to outsmart each other in the toughest kind of bridge competition. Those who win will get a certain amount of glory, but nothing that will pay a grocery bill.

What's more they love it. To tell the truth, so do I—but then I'm just as crazy as the rest of the experts.

To get back to the hand, Fishbein said he had shown it to a dozen experts and also to a dozen average players. "All the average players make the hand," he chortled, "and all the experts are down at trick two."

Every declarer quite properly wins the opening spade lead with the king. All the average players

then lead a trump. East can take his ace of trumps, but can do nothing to defeat the contract since West is then trumpless. South can easily regain the lead to draw trumps, after which he has tricks to burn.

All the experts see that West's lead is a singleton spade. They also see that a trump lead will allow East to win and lead a second spade. Then West will ruff—unless he has a singleton trump as well as a singleton spade.

To guard against the spade ruff all the experts lead a heart at the second trick. The plan is to win in dummy and cash the ace and king of clubs in order to discard the six and ace of spades from the South hand.

It looks like a fine idea, but East ruffs the heart at trick two, and all the experts are automatically set. As a matter of fact, the experts take quite a beating, since the defenders then get a spade ruff, a second heart ruff, a spade trick, and the ace of trumps. Down four on a hand that any average player makes.

It should be pointed out, as Fishbeing agreed, that East should double six diamonds as a signal for a heart opening lead. Then South is surely set—expert or not.

Clear Acne, Pimples By Drug Treatment

Boston, Mass. — For the first time in medical history, externally caused acne and pimples, which afflict more than 65 per cent of all adolescents, can be quickly and completely cleared up by a revolutionary drug treatment that successfully attacked 83 per cent of all cases upon whom it was tested.

Announcement of this highly significant scientific discovery was made today by Frederick J. Bailey, M. D., of Boston, deputy health commissioner of Boston, a Navy Medical Corps commander, who was formerly on the staffs of Harvard and John Hopkins schools of public health.

Writing in the Rhode Island Medical Journal, Dr. Bailey said the discovery was made by the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., of Malden, Mass., following many years investigation of case work among skin disease patients in the health units of Boston, plus work in the Navy Medical Corps and at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

The agent, which produced highly successful results within 14 days in 83 per cent of the skin disease patients upon whom it was tested, in a combination of such well-known drugs as sulphur and oxyquinoline, with natural unbleached petroleum products and complicated sulphur compounds. base is incorporated into soap by means of the triethanolamine and stearic acid.

According to Dr. Bailey, the work was done by pharmacists and chemists affiliated with the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp. The agents are being used with success by the drug manufacturer in its Cuticura soap, ointment and liquid. The drug combination is applied externally to the skin and is made up in either liquid, ointment or soap form.

According to Dr. Bailey, the medicated properties were tested by the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp. and incorporated in its Cuticura soap.

"We then discovered that the formula instilled in the soap important healing, soothing emollients," the doctor reported. "The formula also was included in the Cuticura ointment and liquid.

Actress Denies Misconduct

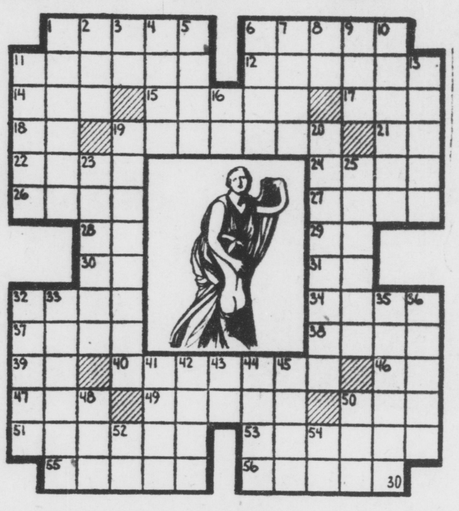

Santa Monica, Calif., Nov. 30 (AP)—Actress Janis Carter denies that she ever joined with film executive Noah Dietrich in boudoir misconduct. Miss Carter, 30, has been named as co-respondent in a separate maintenance suit filed by Dietrich's wife, Carol, who accused him and the actress of 10 "acts of infidelity." Miss Carter filed her answer in Superior Court yesterday. She denied everything and demanded that she be paid for defending herself against the charges. Dietrich, chairman of the board at RKO Studios, also has denied the allegations. A hearing has been set for Dec. 12 on the wife's demand for $5,000 a month temporary support and $25,000 in attorney fees.

'Uncle Sam' Goes Home

Brownsville, Tex. (AP) — Uncle Sam is going back home to Oslo, Norway, for the first time in 51 years. This Uncle Sam is Sam Naumann, custodian of the Cameraon County Courthouse for the past 13 years, and he'll be wearing high-heeled boots and a 10-gallon hat like a true Texan when this son of Norway steps off the plane in Oslo.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

For many months this column has been "contrary" to the prevailing fears of a wild inflation.

However, now that the inflation fears have subsided and it is common talk that people are saving, not spending; that consumers' goods are not moving and manufacturers are cutting back their production schedules; and that the defense-production program is running far behind its schedule—now that all these deflationary factors are becoming common knowledge, what "contrary opinion" should we commence to ponder?

When a trend gets underway in our economy, it is not usually reversed suddenly, unless some dramatic incident occurs that shocks people into changing their minds quickly. This latter was well illustrated in June, 1950, when the Korean war broke out so dramatically and unexpectedly. At that time, our economy seemed to be running out of steam and it was a fair guess that a "recession" of some sort was coming fast upon us. However, almost overnight this all changed, because of the war, and people scrambled wildly for goods of all descriptions. The stock market break (on the war news) was over almost before investors had time to buy stocks, and the boom was on.

We have been riding that boom ever since. Only in recent weeks has it been evident that steam was leaking from small cracks that appeared in the war boilers. Hints of this escaping steam was had much earlier, when the monetary managers of the Federal Reserve Banks decided to stop playing footsy with the U. S. Treasury, and permitted government bonds to drift off from their "pegged" prices. This was a signal that inflation was going to be attacked from the monetary angle, although there weren't many who thought it would do any good.

Later, credit restrictions were imposed and to top it off the halt to inflation the production of consumers' goods (everything from automobiles to baby carriages) poured out of our factories in a stream that flooded stores and warehouses.

Today "everybody" knows this state of affairs, and so instead of rushing to the stores with the old man's pay envelope mama is stopping off at the savings bank first. Savings are increasing at a record pace.

Well, that is the trend.

The question is: How long will it last?

Obviously any answer is nothing more than a guess on public psychology.

However, it is no secret that the steel unions are ready to put on a gigantic show to raise the pay of all steel workers. Because of the necessity for steel for defense production it is a foregone conclusion that no general strike will be permitted. A few wild-cat strikes may occur, but certainly a shutdown of the steel industry just wouldn't be permitted. So, Uncle Sam, in the guise of Harry S. Truman, will doubtless whisper behind the scenes "to let the boys have a little more money." Then the steel companies will yell bloody murder and demand higher prices for steel.

The word battle will go on, with one side (aided and abetted by the government) saying to take the wage increases out of profits, and the steel managers pointing out that the prince-and-pauper industry must have big profits in boom times to take care of expansion requirements and to take up the slack of poor times.

In the end, the workers will get more money, steel will cost more—and it is just possible that this inflationary hunch might start people to thinking again about spending instead of saving.

Also, we must not lose sight of the economic fact that while taxes are out of sight, this tax money is not salted away in some cave, but is spent. You and I don't have it to spend, but the government does. So, while high taxes curb inflation, nevertheless the money is spent recklessly by an inefficient government—and the more money a government spends the more it weakens the economy over the long run.

Taking all the confused complexities into consideration one might not be too far off in his guessing if he figured that sometime along next spring there might be a pent-up demand that would start the sending again. Between now and March there may be further deflationary elements (taxes will worry people until then, for example) but the lagging defense program should be under way and in high speed by that time. It seems doubtful to the Ruminator that a cease-fire agreement in Korea will have any lasting effect from a deflationary standpoint.

In chemistry the suffix "ide" indicates the combination of one element with another.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Novices Get the Nod In Bridge Hand I. Q.

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"This is a hand that will drive all the experts crazy," Harry Fishbein told me the other day.

I looked doubtful. For a long time I have believed that all bridge experts have a few bats flying around in their belfries. For example, take the national tournament that will be held in Detroit next week.

About a thousand experts from all over the country will plunk down good money on trains, planes and hotels to get together and try to outsmart each other in the toughest kind of bridge competition. Those who win will get a certain amount of glory, but nothing that will pay a grocery bill.

What's more they love it. To tell the truth, so do I—but then I'm just as crazy as the rest of the experts.

To get back to the hand, Fishbein said he had shown it to a dozen experts and also to a dozen average players. "All the average players make the hand," he chortled, "and all the experts are down at trick two."

Every declarer quite properly wins the opening spade lead with the king. All the average players

then lead a trump. East can take his ace of trumps, but can do nothing to defeat the contract since West is then trumpless. South can easily regain the lead to draw trumps, after which he has tricks to burn.

All the experts see that West's lead is a singleton spade. They also see that a trump lead will allow East to win and lead a second spade. Then West will ruff—unless he has a singleton trump as well as a singleton spade.

To guard against the spade ruff all the experts lead a heart at the second trick. The plan is to win in dummy and cash the ace and king of clubs in order to discard the six and ace of spades from the South hand.

It looks like a fine idea, but East ruffs the heart at trick two, and all the experts are automatically set. As a matter of fact, the experts take quite a beating, since the defenders then get a spade ruff, a second heart ruff, a spade trick, and the ace of trumps. Down four on a hand that any average player makes.

It should be pointed out, as Fishbeing agreed, that East should double six diamonds as a signal for a heart opening lead. Then South is surely set—expert or not.

Clear Acne, Pimples By Drug Treatment

Boston, Mass. — For the first time in medical history, externally caused acne and pimples, which afflict more than 65 per cent of all adolescents, can be quickly and completely cleared up by a revolutionary drug treatment that successfully attacked 83 per cent of all cases upon whom it was tested.

Announcement of this highly significant scientific discovery was made today by Frederick J. Bailey, M. D., of Boston, deputy health commissioner of Boston, a Navy Medical Corps commander, who was formerly on the staffs of Harvard and John Hopkins schools of public health.

Writing in the Rhode Island Medical Journal, Dr. Bailey said the discovery was made by the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., of Malden, Mass., following many years investigation of case work among skin disease patients in the health units of Boston, plus work in the Navy Medical Corps and at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

The agent, which produced highly successful results within 14 days in 83 per cent of the skin disease patients upon whom it was tested, in a combination of such well-known drugs as sulphur and oxyquinoline, with natural unbleached petroleum products and complicated sulphur compounds. base is incorporated into soap by means of the triethanolamine and stearic acid.

According to Dr. Bailey, the work was done by pharmacists and chemists affiliated with the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp. The agents are being used with success by the drug manufacturer in its Cuticura soap, ointment and liquid. The drug combination is applied externally to the skin and is made up in either liquid, ointment or soap form.

According to Dr. Bailey, the medicated properties were tested by the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp. and incorporated in its Cuticura soap.

"We then discovered that the formula instilled in the soap important healing, soothing emollients," the doctor reported. "The formula also was included in the Cuticura ointment and liquid.

Actress Denies Misconduct

Santa Monica, Calif., Nov. 30 (AP)—Actress Janis Carter denies that she ever joined with film executive Noah Dietrich in boudoir misconduct. Miss Carter, 30, has been named as co-respondent in a separate maintenance suit filed by Dietrich's wife, Carol, who accused him and the actress of 10 "acts of infidelity." Miss Carter filed her answer in Superior Court yesterday. She denied everything and demanded that she be paid for defending herself against the charges. Dietrich, chairman of the board at RKO Studios, also has denied the allegations. A hearing has been set for Dec. 12 on the wife's demand for $5,000 a month temporary support and $25,000 in attorney fees.

Millionth Death May Come Dec. 21

Chicago, Nov. 30 (AP) — The 1,000,000th traffic death in the U. S. may be recorded on Dec. 21.

The National Saftey Council said today that its estimates indicate "M Day" will fall on that date.

The council reported that its tally for October, plus special weekly reports for November from state accident record bureaus, had raised the grand total through yesterday to approximately 997,300.

That leaves just 2,700 lives to be lost before victim No. 1,000,000 is counted.

If "M Day" occurs on Dec. 21, it will be precisely 51 years, three months and seven days after the first known motor vehicle death was recorded in 1899 in New York city.

The date could be postponed, said the council, if:

"The drivers get good or the weather gets bad."

"We can't depend on the weather," it added, "so let's hope and pray that the drivers get good and delay this tragic event at least until after Christmas."

October fatalities totaled 3,760. That was the heaviest toll for any month since December, 1941.

Beer for Free Enjoyed By Fairbanks Folk

Fairbanks, Alaska, Nov. 30 (AP)—A merchants' war drove the price of beer down to zero in Alaska and one dealer even delivered it free.

Fairbanks streets were jammed with hundreds of residents who squeezed, pushed and struggled to get into local retail establishments after the price plummeted from $6.00 a case to nothing.

It started when one dealer slashed his prices from $6 to $3.75 a case last week. A competitor cut to $3.35, scarcely what it costs to ship the beverage from the states to Alaska plus taxes.

Last night the Southside Liquor Market started giving it away. The proprietor, noting that many couldn't get in, started delivering it to downtown points.

Daughter Born

Paris, Nov. 30 (AP)—French film star Micheline Presle, wife of the American screen actor William Marshall, gave birth to a daughter last night.

Woman, 102, Does Christmas Shopping

Mrs. Sarah Swope, who will be 102 years old Nov. 30, talks to her pet dog, Pudgy, as she displays her Christmas gifts already wrapped and ready for distribution in Lancaster, Pa. She said she is more excited over giving Christmas gifts than observing her 102nd birthday. Mrs. Swope was the eldest of seven children and is the last of her family. She has two daughters, ten grandchildren, eleven great grandchildren and six great great grandchildren. (AP Wirephoto).

Farmers Urged To Boost Output

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The government today called upon farmers to push production next year four per cent above this year's near record yields to meet "the greatest needs we have ever faced."

Announcing planting goals for spring crops, Acting Secretary of Agriculture Clarence J. McCormick urged growers to put forth special effort to boost production of livestock feed grains so that a high level output of meat, milk and eggs might be maintained.

Acting in the absence of Secretary Brannan who is on an official trip to the Near East, McCormick acknowledged that farmers will have a tough job because of shortages of fertilizers, some types of farm machinery and a tightening farm labor supply.

To Support Prices

Promising as much help as possible, the department said it would be prepared to support producer prices of corn, cotton, wheat, rice, soybeans, wool, milk and butterfat as maximum levels permitted by law. That level is 90 per cent of parity. (Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products).

However, no supports were promised for hogs, beef cattle, poultry, eggs and other perishable products. None of these products is being supported this year.

Because farmers have just about reached the limit of new cropland, they will have to try to increase the acre yields in order to meet the higher production goals, McCormick said. If goals are attained, planting would total about 377,800,000 acres compared with 374,600,000 this year and twice as much farm produce would go to market as the 1935-39 average.

DA Will Decide Whether O'Dwyer Is To Testify

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn district attorney's office was expected to decide today whether to seek the testimony of former Mayor William O'Dwyer in a grand jury probe into the 10-year-old death of Abe (Kid Twist) Reles.

Miles McDonald, the district attorney, said last night he was considering asking O'Dwyer to come here as a witness.

O'Dwyer, now U. S. ambassador to Mexico, cannot be subpoenaed as a witness. But he could honor a request from McDonald to appear voluntarily. O'Dwyer was Brooklyn district attorney at the time of Reles' death. And "Kid Twist" was O'Dwyer's star witness in the prosecution of Murder, Inc., the old Brooklyn kill-for-hire mob.

Reles died in a plunge from a Coney Island hotel window while under police guard. The death reportedly wrecked O'Dwyer's murder case against Albert Anastasia, reputed executioner for the Murder, Inc., gang.

The manner of Reles' death—did he jump or was he pushed?—has remained an unsolved mystery during the last decade.

The case was revived and received wide public attention during hearings earlier this year by the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Conference on Europe Slated at West Point

West Point, Nov. 29—More than 125 students representing colleges in various sections of the country will gather at West Point on Wednesday, Dec. 5, for a three-day student conference on United States affairs. The topic of this conference, the third sponsored by the Military Academy is United States Policy for the Rimland of Europe.

The first West Point student conference on foreign policy was held in late November of 1949. At that time, United States policy in Europe as a whole was discussed. The second conference, held last year, concerned policy in the Far East.

Jointly sponsored by the United States Military Academy and the Carnegie Corporation of New York, the conferences are attended by students particularly selected for their interest and capabilities in International Relations and in fields of studies such as economics, history or government.

The conferences will open with a Plenary Session at 7:05 p. m. on Wednesday evening.

Vatican Accepts Farouk

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Vatican apparently has accepted King Farouk as ruler of the disputed Sudan as well as King of Egypt. A Foreign Office spokesman said yesterday The Vatican has agreed to accept a new Egyptian minister to the Holy See bearing credentials styling Farouk King of Egypt and the Sudan. Britain sharply disputes Farouk's right to extend his reign to the Sudan, the vast African territory to the south of Egypt, which has been ruled jointly by Britain and Egypt since 1899. The United States supports the British stand. Egypt canceled the 1899 agreement last month and on Oct. 16 the Egyptian Parliament expanded Farouk's title to include the Sudan.

Moose Plan Safety Signs

Ellen, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carter, 673 Broadway, points to safety sign held by Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, which Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, plans to erect on highways entering the city. The signs are given by the Supreme Lodge of the World as awards for reaching membership quotas. Kingston Lodge is conducting a drive at present for 150 members under direction of the national organization which operates Mooseheart in Indiana as an orphanage and needs added revenue to care for children of deceased fraternal brothers. Mooseheart is a complete community in itself with schools and all the facilities for maintenance. (Freeman Photo)

No Zone Opposition

A public hearing on the zoning-change application of Joseph and Alfred Horowitz of the J&A Roofing & Supply Co., closed without opposition in the Common Council chamber, city hall last night. The petitioners seek a business designation for warehouse purposes at 401-03 Hasbrouck avenue. Attorney Abraham Steifer appeared in their behalf. The hearing was conducted by Alderman Abram Relyea, chairman of the council's laws and rules committee.

Tokyo, Nov. 30 (AP)—Harmonica expert Larry Adler gave a special show in a United Nations hospital at Kure today for a soldier who was getting a blood transfusion. "He said he wanted me to play for him while he was getting the transfusion," Adler said.

CIO Council Says It Is Opposed to Bus Fare Increase

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The New York city CIO council has announced its "unalterable opposition" to a bus fare increase to 15 cents as asked by the Bankrupt Third Avenue Transit Corp.

The company yesterday formally petitioned the City Board of Estimate for a five-cent boost over its present 10-cent fare. The firm asked that it be granted the increase by New Year's day or that the city buy its Manhattan and Bronx buses and equipment.

Last night, the CIO council, headed by Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, expressed opposition to the rate-hike move.

TWU leaders have scheduled a strike vote for next Tuesday night among 8,000 drivers and mechanics employed by the city's nine private bus systems. The union wants a cut in the present work week, of 44 to 48 hours, to 40 hours plus pay increases.

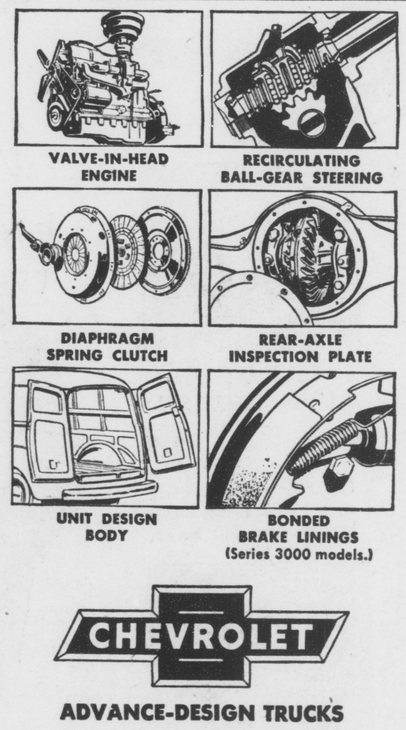

The Third avenue system carries about 1,000,000 riders daily in Manhattan, the Bronx and lower Westchester.

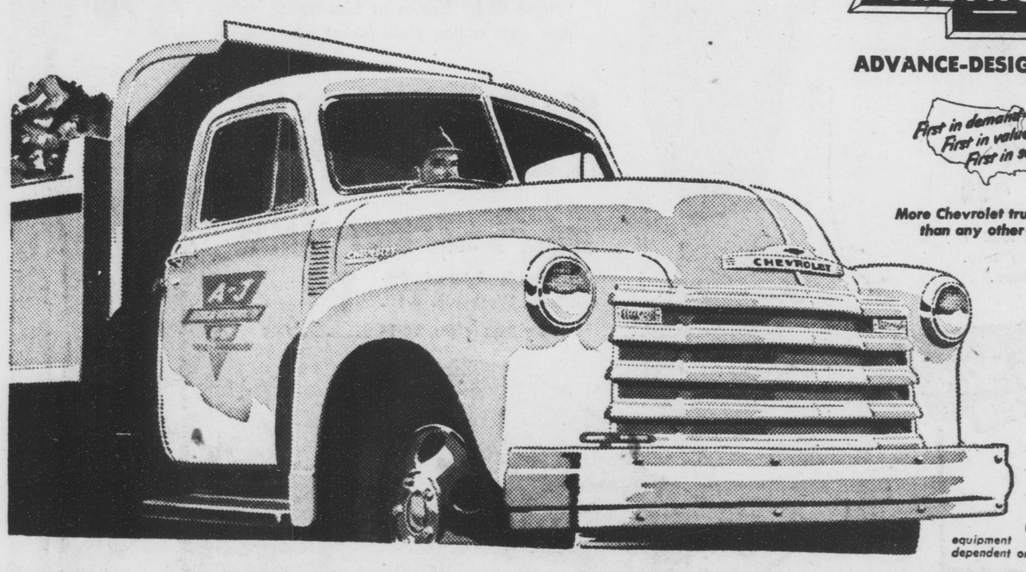

Favor Flood Aid

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Two meetings are being held in Southwestern Iowa in connection with the government's program to provide aid for farm areas damaged by excessive rains and floods last spring. Between $400,000 and $500,000 has been allotted by the Federal government to 23 Southwestern and Western Iowa counties for the work.

Tokyo, Nov. 30 (AP)—Harmonica expert Larry Adler gave a special show in a United Nations hospital at Kure today for a soldier who was getting a blood transfusion. "He said he wanted me to play for him while he was getting the transfusion," Adler said.

CIO Council Says It Is Opposed to Bus Fare Increase

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The New York city CIO council has announced its "unalterable opposition" to a bus fare increase to 15 cents as asked by the Bankrupt Third Avenue Transit Corp.

The company yesterday formally petitioned the City Board of Estimate for a five-cent boost over its present 10-cent fare. The firm asked that it be granted the increase by New Year's day or that the city buy its Manhattan and Bronx buses and equipment.

Last night, the CIO council, headed by Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, expressed opposition to the rate-hike move.

TWU leaders have scheduled a strike vote for next Tuesday night among 8,000 drivers and mechanics employed by the city's nine private bus systems. The union wants a cut in the present work week, of 44 to 48 hours, to 40 hours plus pay increases.

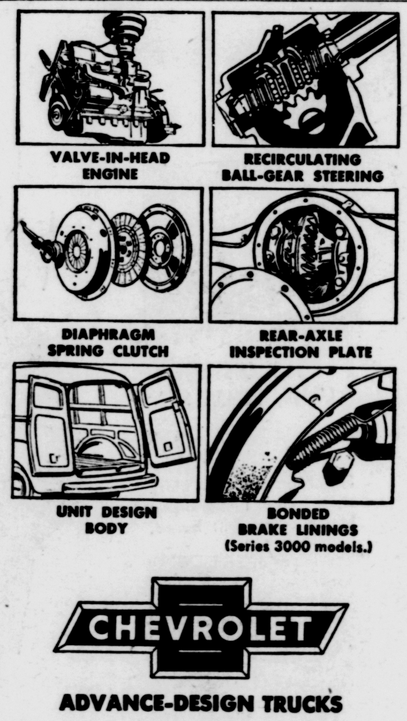

The Third avenue system carries about 1,000,000 riders daily in Manhattan, the Bronx and lower Westchester.

Favor Flood Aid

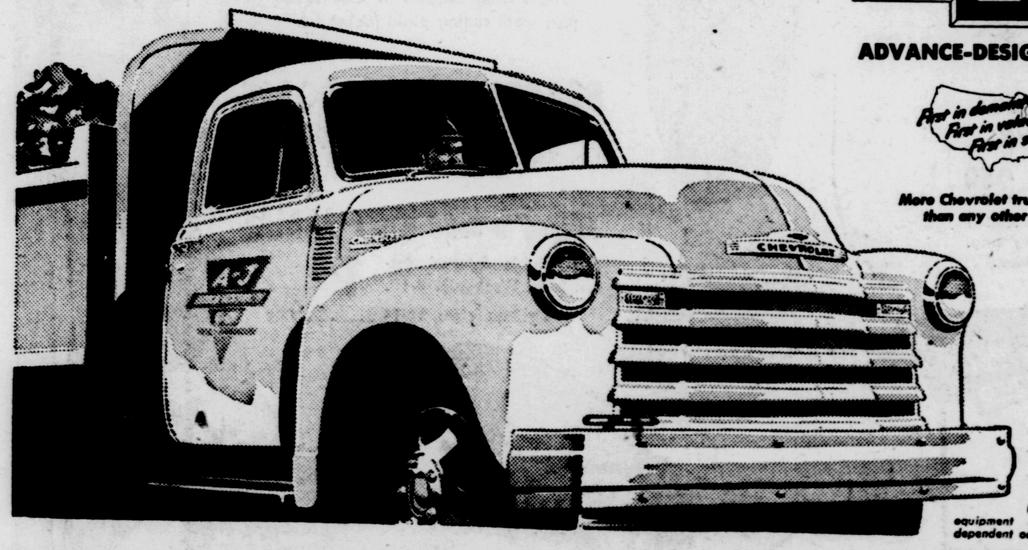

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Two meetings are being held in Southwestern Iowa in connection with the government's program to provide aid for farm areas damaged by excessive rains and floods last spring. Between $400,000 and $500,000 has been allotted by the Federal government to 23 Southwestern and Western Iowa counties for the work.

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

Nat Coyne of 230 William street, New York city, wrote that he received card from Kingston about his poems. It seems he is a mountain climber, as his letter comes from "Somewhere near North Lake, Haines Falls . . ." in which he says in part: "Resting while taking a beautiful hike looking down Palenville outlook from famous Boulder Rock." He also received mail from Mr. Boyle on the poem. In dropping Coyne a card when I received information on his wanted poem, I forgot the name of his firm, and knowing in New York some buildings such as 230 Williams street house hundreds of firms, each employing many persons so in such a case the name of the firm would only be listed on bulletin board and card would never reach him. Although I do remember, that in such cases, the elevator operator tacked mail of this sort on their board so that eventually the owner found them. But Mr. Coyne says, that he is known as the "best mountain climber and hitch-hiker in the paper jobber business." See how a hobby can make you popular.

Mr. Boyle, among other items, brought the "Promotive Survey" of Kingston of March 1923. It is over 200 pages, and looks like a good multigraph job, encased in a good hard cover book. It is written in a sort of conversational manner, and sometimes quite a lot of words are used before the writer came to any conclusion about anything. But in some parts he had his own opinion which I think coincides with the general opinion of those days and perhaps today.

For instance: "Broadway, the main artery of Kingston, is cut in two by a railroad crossing. For a number of years there has been an effort to build a causeway over the tracks. Money was appropriated and plans were under way to make this much needed improvement but the effort was checked by the action of one man or the interests centering in one man. The railroad crossing is a menace to life and hinders the development of the central part of Kingston. But the men of Kingston seem tolerant that conditions should remain as they are." Perhaps some of the readers can explain that "one man." (that is from Page 21—last paragraph.)

Another item reads: "The population growth of Kingston between 1900 and 1920 does not compare favorably with other cities of New York state," or "In 1870 population of Kingston and Rondout was 16,429 and in 1890 the population rose to 21,261. From this time the growth of Kingston has been slow." Another item reads: "Two great centers for manufacture of copper and brass in the USA are about equidistant from Kingston, east at Waterbury, Conn., and west at Rome. Neither of these cities has any natural advantages that is absent from Kingston, while Kingston, could show transportation advantages over both. Then they mention manufacture of silverware at Meriden and at Oneida in the same fashion.

The one who composed this book knew this locality well for he says, for instance, "The first discovery of water-lime rocks in America was at Rosendale, etc."

This is the first time I ever saw a book on this order about Kingston. It was prepared under the supervision of Lucius E. Wilson and Samuel Wilson and Frederick A. Richardson." Were those men Kingstonians?

Cub Pack 7

The regular monthly meeting of the St. John's Espicopal Church Cub Scout Pack No. 7, was held at the St. John's Parish Hall on Monday evening. The meeting was largely attended by the cub scouts and their parents.

Cub scouts of the four dens displayed unusual talent in a demonstration of puppets. Bruce Bishop of Den One entertained with a dancer. Den Two performed the Seven Dwarfs of Snow White fame. The television favorite kiddie show, Howdy-Doody Time was put on by Den Three. Thanksgiving Time was the theme of a shadow show by Den Four.

Awards reflecting progress in cub scouting were presented by Michael Dugan, assistant cub master. Wolf badges were awarded to Douglas Noble, Jeffery Moak, Larry LaGuardia, and John Kelly. Gold arrow points were awarded to Robert Bogert, Larry LaGuardia, John Kelly, Walter Donnaruma, Glenn Miller and Jay Herrington. Silver arrow points were received by John Davis and Walter Donnaruma. The Bear badge was awarded to Robert Bogert while Robert Bold received his bobcat pin.

Serving as Den mothers of the St. John's Cub pack are Mrs. Edwin Strong, Mrs. Lionel Herrington, Mrs. John Kelly and Mrs. Walter Donnaruma.

At the parents business meeting a Christmas party was planned for the December pack meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Steven Keating and Mr. and Mrs. L. LaGuardia will serve as chairmen.

Mrs. Frederick Bruhn and Mrs. Harry Cowan were in charge of the program for the evening.

Rosendale Meeting

There will be an important meeting of men of All Saints Episcopal Church, Rosendale, Monday at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Charles H. Brieant, vicar, requests a large attendance of all men of the parish, as well as those who formerly attended or have moved into Rosendale area from other Episcopal parishes and not as yet affiliated elsewhere. Further information can be obtained at morning services Sunday at 9 a. m., or phone High Falls 4881.

The air is drier after a thundershower than before.

Architect's Drawing of Wallkill School

Central School District voters at Wallkill may decide on December 10 to construct a new 14-classroom elementary school to house grades kindergarten through four. Also included in the bond issue proposal of $600,000 is provision for certain alterations and additions to the present high school building. The proposed school would be erected on a site on Violet avenue. Harry Halverson, AIA of Kingston is the architect.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 30—Every manufacturer, retailer, and consumer is affected by market movements. This especially applies to a consumer whose family depends upon the employment of its father or other members. Therefore, whether you own a business or a share of stock, or are dependent on a job, you should be much interested in the business cycle—and what causes business to improve or to decline.

The Influence of Debt

The changing indebtedness of families, business concerns and governments-at-war is the apparent factor causing the long-term "ups and downs." When people are freely making installment purchases, business improves and more jobs at higher wages follow. When, however, people reduce their installment purchases retail trade declines. Then inventories pile up so that retailers are unable to meet their bank loans. Hence, they reduce their purchases of new goods.

This causes manufacturers to lay off help, which further reduces consumers' purchasing power. As a result, the country heads for a depression. During depressions every reader of this column suffers. As voluntary increases in indebtedness stimulate business, so forced reduction of debt hastens a decline. It would be unwise to say that we are now heading for a depression; but it is generally believed that business is now on a plateau and the next move will be downward with much unemployment.

Importance of Entertainment

Although the superficial factor of the business cycle is debt, yet I ask: What causes the public's changed psychic attitude as to debt? Why do people some years do a lot of buying before any change in wages or prices occurs, while in other years follow a reverse policy without apparent reason? There is some basic spiritual, unseen cause for this changed attitude. Here is where the psychologists claim that they have the answer; namely, in the moods or desires of people. But again we ask: What changes these moods and desires? It certainly seems that such changes must be due to what people read, hear or see.

My feeling is that the newspapers, magazines, radio, movies, theatres, and television (and perhaps churches) are the factors which change people's psychic or spiritual moods and determine their actions. Yet, we find there are times when, even if all these factors unite to influence public opinion, the people refuse to believe them. Hence, the material published or broadcast or shown on the screen and stage is of little use unless the people are ready to believe what they read, hear and see. It is fairly easy to get publishers, broadcasters, film makers, and theatre operators to agree on a propaganda policy; but if the public thinks this is only propaganda, then it is of no use. Only when these material forces arouse the spiritual forces of the people are they effective.

Opportunities for Many

Real opportunities exist for those who will make impartial studies of this problem for their respective communities or industries. This will require months of research in public libraries, studying the advertisements and articles of newspapers and magazines, the movies and theatrical reviews, including comments on radio and television broadcasts. (The latter, of course, have been only recently a factor.) This material should be studied in conjunction with past business cycles to learn the correlation between the spiritual and the material. These public libraries have the answer, and the librarians will be very glad to aid Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations in such research. One of these librarians suggests that the style of women's clothing should also be considered!

Such a study could be of great value to everyone. It might solve the employment problem and enable us to make better forecasts of what is ahead. Such studies could certainly help these "vendors" of public entertainment to at least steady business conditions, employment and prices. Changes from employment to unemployment are what cause heartbreaks of manufacturers, retailers, wageworkers and investors.

PSC Will Hear Telephone Arguments

Albany, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will hear on Dec. 17 any arguments the New York Telephone Company may have for a rate increase based on wage and tax increases since Oct. 3.

The commission turned down, on Oct. 3, the company's application for a $57,000,000 annual rate increase, and yesterday denied a new hearing on the request.

The PSC scheduled the Albany hearing to consider any plea pegged on cost jumps since Oct. 3.

The commission, in rejecting the petition last month, told the utility that it could appeal again if new corporate income taxes deprived it of "an adequate return." Congress since has increased such a tax.

The petition for a new hearing was filed Nov. 1.

The firm estimates that "somewhat more than $10 million a year" would be needed for new taxes alone.

"The telephone company has no magic wand it can wave to escape the effects of large increases in costs," said Keith S. McHugh, company president.

The company, which serves most of the state, won its first rate boost in 20 years in May, 1950. At that time the PSC approved an 11 per cent increase yielding $48,500,000 a year in added revenue. The utility has approximately 5,500,000 telephones.

Can't Bear It

Banaff, Alta. (AP)—A woman and her son leaving the upper Hot Springs Pool recently were startled—to put it mildly—when a mother grizzly with two cubs stood in the road a few yards away. Hurrying back to the Hot Springs office, they telephoned a warning to the folk at their own house nearby. The woman's husband discharged a shot gun into the air to get the bears headed for the mountain bush again.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

When you ask how long a snow man will last, you naturally get the reply—"As long as the cold weather lasts." When you ask how long will your savings last, you get a similar answer—"As long as the habit of savings continues." As the cold weather is the life blood to the snowman, so is regular savigs a lifeblood to your increased bank account.

Architect's Drawing of Wallkill School

Central School District voters at Wallkill may decide on December 10 to construct a new 14-classroom elementary school to house grades kindergarten through four. Also included in the bond issue proposal of $600,000 is provision for certain alterations and additions to the present high school building. The proposed school would be erected on a site on Violet avenue. Harry Halverson, AIA of Kingston is the architect.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 30—Every manufacturer, retailer, and consumer is affected by market movements. This especially applies to a consumer whose family depends upon the employment of its father or other members. Therefore, whether you own a business or a share of stock, or are dependent on a job, you should be much interested in the business cycle—and what causes business to improve or to decline.

The Influence of Debt

The changing indebtedness of families, business concerns and governments-at-war is the apparent factor causing the long-term "ups and downs." When people are freely making installment purchases, business improves and more jobs at higher wages follow. When, however, people reduce their installment purchases retail trade declines. Then inventories pile up so that retailers are unable to meet their bank loans. Hence, they reduce their purchases of new goods.

This causes manufacturers to lay off help, which further reduces consumers' purchasing power. As a result, the country heads for a depression. During depressions every reader of this column suffers. As voluntary increases in indebtedness stimulate business, so forced reduction of debt hastens a decline. It would be unwise to say that we are now heading for a depression; but it is generally believed that business is now on a plateau and the next move will be downward with much unemployment.

Importance of Entertainment

Although the superficial factor of the business cycle is debt, yet I ask: What causes the public's changed psychic attitude as to debt? Why do people some years do a lot of buying before any change in wages or prices occurs, while in other years follow a reverse policy without apparent reason? There is some basic spiritual, unseen cause for this changed attitude. Here is where the psychologists claim that they have the answer; namely, in the moods or desires of people. But again we ask: What changes these moods and desires? It certainly seems that such changes must be due to what people read, hear or see.

My feeling is that the newspapers, magazines, radio, movies, theatres, and television (and perhaps churches) are the factors which change people's psychic or spiritual moods and determine their actions. Yet, we find there are times when, even if all these factors unite to influence public opinion, the people refuse to believe them. Hence, the material published or broadcast or shown on the screen and stage is of little use unless the people are ready to believe what they read, hear and see. It is fairly easy to get publishers, broadcasters, film makers, and theatre operators to agree on a propaganda policy; but if the public thinks this is only propaganda, then it is of no use. Only when these material forces arouse the spiritual forces of the people are they effective.

Opportunities for Many

Real opportunities exist for those who will make impartial studies of this problem for their respective communities or industries. This will require months of research in public libraries, studying the advertisements and articles of newspapers and magazines, the movies and theatrical reviews, including comments on radio and television broadcasts. (The latter, of course, have been only recently a factor.) This material should be studied in conjunction with past business cycles to learn the correlation between the spiritual and the material. These public libraries have the answer, and the librarians will be very glad to aid Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations in such research. One of these librarians suggests that the style of women's clothing should also be considered!

Such a study could be of great value to everyone. It might solve the employment problem and enable us to make better forecasts of what is ahead. Such studies could certainly help these "vendors" of public entertainment to at least steady business conditions, employment and prices. Changes from employment to unemployment are what cause heartbreaks of manufacturers, retailers, wageworkers and investors.

PSC Will Hear Telephone Arguments

Albany, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will hear on Dec. 17 any arguments the New York Telephone Company may have for a rate increase based on wage and tax increases since Oct. 3.

The commission turned down, on Oct. 3, the company's application for a $57,000,000 annual rate increase, and yesterday denied a new hearing on the request.

The PSC scheduled the Albany hearing to consider any plea pegged on cost jumps since Oct. 3.

The commission, in rejecting the petition last month, told the utility that it could appeal again if new corporate income taxes deprived it of "an adequate return." Congress since has increased such a tax.

The petition for a new hearing was filed Nov. 1.

The firm estimates that "somewhat more than $10 million a year" would be needed for new taxes alone.

"The telephone company has no magic wand it can wave to escape the effects of large increases in costs," said Keith S. McHugh, company president.

The company, which serves most of the state, won its first rate boost in 20 years in May, 1950. At that time the PSC approved an 11 per cent increase yielding $48,500,000 a year in added revenue. The utility has approximately 5,500,000 telephones.

Can't Bear It

Banaff, Alta. (AP)—A woman and her son leaving the upper Hot Springs Pool recently were startled—to put it mildly—when a mother grizzly with two cubs stood in the road a few yards away. Hurrying back to the Hot Springs office, they telephoned a warning to the folk at their own house nearby. The woman's husband discharged a shot gun into the air to get the bears headed for the mountain bush again.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

When you ask how long a snow man will last, you naturally get the reply—"As long as the cold weather lasts." When you ask how long will your savings last, you get a similar answer—"As long as the habit of savings continues." As the cold weather is the life blood to the snowman, so is regular savigs a lifeblood to your increased bank account.

Franklin Street Shoemaker Found Dead in His Home

Gregoris Papatolo, shoemaker of 55 Franklin street was found dead in a room of his living quarters in the same building as his shop early today.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was due to coronary occlusion and that he had apparently been dead since Monday when he was last seen. He was a veteran of World War 1 and was believed to be about 60 years old.

Police were notified at 7:45 a. m., today by telephone from the home of William Mergendahl, 54 Franklin street. Lt. William Leonard and Officers Gerald Every and Kenneth Stratton went to the house. The doors were locked and they broke into the place.

They found that the man had toppled to the floor after apparently having been seized with a heart attack. There was no heat in the house.

A letter in the house indicated that the shoemaker, who was also known as William, has a brother, Joseph in Los Angeles, the coroner said. Funeral arrangements will depend upon results of efforts to contact the brother or other possible relatives.

Whenever Truman Is Confused He Puts Blame of Free Press

New York, Nov. 30 (AP) — Arthur Krock, chief Washington correspondent for the New York Times, said today in his editorial page whenever the Truman administration gets confused about major events, it tries to blame the free press.

Krock raised the point in connection with President Truman's complaints yesterday about press reports of a temporary halt of hostilities in Korea.

He wrote:

"Whenever this administration falls into a state of confusion and somewhat of dismay, and when that condition has become a matter of public knowledge and concern, an unusual barrage of official denials of unwelcome news is launched against the free press in a manner to persuade the people that the press is deliberately giving a lying account of the government.

Not Press Error

"The Truman administration is in this plight today, its lack of coordination having reached alarming proportions and its official record showing a growing stain of corruption. Accordingly, its denials have steadily become more short and ugly. In their language there is no recognition of the fact that, if the news reports contained error, it was not the error of the press but of those invested with political responsibility by the administration. Yet the current form of denial has left the implication that reporters rush into print with the flimsiest factual evidence and are willing or careless common carriers of the most transparent fakes, 'planted' by persons with obviously ulterior motives.

"The latest instance was the reception here and in Key West of an Associated Press dispatch that was passed by the military censor yesterday at Seoul.

"After the negotiators of an armistice in Korea agreed on the ultimate dividing line between the opposing forces, to become effective if an armistice had been signed within thirty days, the guns of our ground forces fell silent. Several officers told the A. P. reporter, John Randolph, that this was in obedience to an order from high authorities. The military ones are the chiefs of staff at the Pentagon here and General Ridgway in Tokyo. The superior one, since such an order must have political sanction, is the President. Based soundly on the information he was given the reporter sent the following:

" 'Orders from the highest sources, possibly from the White House itself, brought the ground fighting to a complete, if temporary, halt Wednesday.'

Reporter Was Correct

"At a press conference in Key West, called after the President had conferred with representatives of the chiefs of staff and of the State Department who flew there on an order, Mr. Truman's press secretary, Mr. Joseph Short, issued this bulletin: 'The statement by the Associated Press is not true. There can be no cease-fire in Korea until an armistice agreement has been reached.'

"But the A.P. reporter thus stigmatized (and in Mr. Truman's castigation of the press today) did not use the military expression 'cease-fire.' He correctly reported that the firing had ceased. That it might be only temporary and that the order came from the highest sources. If the White House denial had dealt as scrupulously with the facts as the reporter did and shown the A.P. and its reporter the consideration implicit in the word 'possibly' in his dispatch, the denial would have said:

'No cease-fire order has been given to the United Nations troops in Korea by anyone in authority and certainly not by the President. There can be no cease-fire order until an armistice has been signed. The lull in the ground action is a local military tactic, for military reasons, and has no other significance or origin.'

"That would have been a fair and true account of the meaning of the headquarters directive to the troops from which the Canadian press quoted this today: 'During the remainder of the armistice negotiations every effort will be made to avoid casualties and demonstrate our willingness to honor a cease-fire.' "

Other Denials

Krock went on to describe other recent examples of what he called the administration's "denial routine" as follows:

"1. Jonathan Daniels, a former White House secretary who does not break confidences, wrote in a magazine that Mr. Truman said Congress should have had the courage, when it submitted the amendment limiting White House occupancy to two terms, to submit a similar limitation on its own tenure. The White House repudiated this as 'distorting' and presenting as serious a playful remark made and accepted in confidence.

"2. Merlo Pusey, a careful and reputable journalist, wrote in his authorized biography of Charles E. Hughes that the later had recommended to the President that he appoint Justice Jackson at the time Fred M. Vinson was appointed chief justice, and that this report had been certified by Hughes. The President twice denied it, asserting Hughes had agreed with him that Vinson was 'the better man.'

"3. Representative King of California, after a phone conversation with Mr. Truman, said he had been promised access to certain secret files. This was promptly denied at Key West.

"4. The President, according to a highly placed witness, told a small group during General Eisenhower's recent visit that he had renewed his 1948 offer to help the general to attain the presidency and that Eisenhower had demurred by noting strong exceptions to Fair Deal domestic policy. Mr. Truman has denied this in terms that even imply there was no such witness.

"There is such a thing as protesting too often, as well as too much."

President Says

100 yards from him on one side and another on the other side.

Put Out by Howard

That story, he said, was put out by Roy Howard, then writing for the United Press, and it was a fake.

He went on to say that an Associated Press story out of Seoul Wednesday, saying that on orders from the highest source, possibly the White House, ground fighting had been brought to a complete, if temporary halt, was on a parallel with it.

Mr. Truman said he understood the AP story came out because of intense competition for news.

AP Supports Stories

A spokesman for the Associated Press in New York said:

"There is no foundation for suggesting that pressure was involved in an Associated Press news dispatch from Seoul Wednesday speculating on the battle zone indications that orders causing a lull in the Korean ground fighting came from the 'highest sources, possibly from the White House'."

"It was a fact that the ground shooting was halted as a result of orders or directives given to the UN fighting forces.

"The AP dispatch in question was part of a frontline repertorial effort to explain the effect as well as the possible origins of orders which are still surrounded by mystery. The Associated Press did not report a 'cease-fire' order had been issued. It has fully reported the facts, so far as they have been obtainable and observable, including all authoritative statements which have (1) denied any 'cease-fire' order has been issued, but (2) not disputed the fact that a lull developed in frontline ground fighting."

UP Has No Comment

The United Press in New York had no comment on the president's statement.

There was no direct comment from Howard, now president of Scripps-Howard newspapers and president and editor of the New York World-Telegram and the Sun. But he authorized the following statement in the World-Telegram and Sun:

"The armistice incident of 1918 referred to by President Truman occurred on Nov. 7, 1918, not Oct. 27 as President Truman x x x recalls.

"It was based on a dispatch furnished to Mr. Howard at Brest by Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commander in chief of all American naval forces in European waters, and simultaneously with its release by the admiral to the fleet.

Given by Admiral

"It was given to Mr. Howard by Admiral Wilson in the belief and with the assurance that it was official, the information having been just received by Admiral Wilson from the American naval attache in Paris via the navy's private wire between the embassy and Admiral Wilson's headquarters."

Later, Mr. Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, said the President, after refreshing his memory, was not sure that the Oct. 27 report originated with Howard.

"However," Short added, "it is well known that Mr. Howard was responsible for a false armistice report which reached the United States on Nov. 7, 1918. And the President wanted it understood how much harm false reports create."

The President said newspapermen must be careful in these very dangerous times to stick to the truth.

The welfare of the United States, the United Nations and the world is more important than any competitive situation that may exist among newshounds, he declared.

McFarland Gets

He was sentenced to a term of from 1 to 2 years at hard labor in Clinton state prison but execution of the sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation. One of the conditions of probation was that he pay $150 a month toward the support of his family. Howard St. John appeared for defendant. Judge Cashin suspended sentence and placed the defendant on probation to report to Chief Probation Officer Edmund U. Burhans when Mrs. Schaffer requested by letter that a suspended sentence would meet approval by her.

Conklin Is Sentenced

Melvin Conklin, 28, Ellenville, entered a plea of guilty to a second count in an indictment charging violation of Section 50 of the Penal Law, an abandonment provision. Charles Saccoman appeared for Conklin.

Judge Cashin told Conklin that he had previously violated a probation chance and then sentenced defendant to a term of 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton prison, suspended execution of the sentence on condition Conklin support his family. Judge Cashin warned defendant that a violation of this probation would lead to serving the prison term. The first count of the indictment was dismissed.

An indictment charging Joseph Mertine, Jr., New York city, with burglary, third degree, was ordered sealed when the defendant sought to have his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Thomas Saccoman appeared for defendant. Mertine, who is 16, is eligible for disposition of his case under the Youthful Offender law since he has no prior record and is but 16 years of age.

Court was recessed to 2 o'clock following discharge of the jury with the thanks of the court. Judge Cashin complimented the jurors for their willingness to serve and said jury duty was one of the important things which a citizen could contribute to the enforcement of law under our democratic form of government.

Clique Abolishes Thai Constitution

Bangkok, Nov. 30 (AP)—Thailanders awoke today to find that a military clique had abolished the constitution, dissolved parliament and seized control of the government in a bloodless overnight coup.

A nine-man "state temporary administrative body" ousted the former government, then reappointed Premier Pibulsonggram. He also was given the post of defense minister in the new cabinet.

There was no violence. The coup was carried out in the oldtime tradition of pressure without bloodshed—in sharp contrast to the naval revolt last June and a coup in February, 1949.

The military clique announced it had acted in the interests of combatting communism.

Repeated radio broadcasts declared the coup would have no effect on Thailand's foreign policy.

Motive for the coup was not clear. But there were indications it was a move to solidify power by the military through the elimination of elements which might oppose it.

Military leaders who seized power include three ranking officers from the army, navy and air force. The army is in top position.

They issued a statement citing reports of corruption, opium smuggling and infiltration of Communists into high places.

The new government quickly imposed censorship on all Thai publications and announced it would put through legislation outlawing the Communist party.

Local Death Record

Josephine Esposito

Funeral services for Josephine Esposito were held Thursday from the M. A. Galietta Funeral Home at 9:30 a. m. and at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m. where a solemn requiem high Mass was offered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PRVF. The Rev. John Flaherty was deacon and the Rev. Edward Farrelly subdeacon. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir under the direction of Theodore Riccobono, organist. During the time the body reposed in the funeral home scores of friends called to offer their sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family. Msgr. Drury called at the home and offered prayers for the dead and Wednesday night Father Flaherty called and led the assembled friends and relatives in the recitation of the Rosary. There was a profusion of flowers and many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards, silent tokens of high esteem in which Mrs. Esposito was held. Bearers were Sam Crispino, Thomas Fay, G. A. Smith, James Mancuso, Anthony Canzaneri and William McCabe. Burial was made in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Flaherty pronounced the final absolution.

Eleanor Gets $700 Weekly

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Eleanor Holm, former swimming star, today was awarded $700 weekly temporary alimony from her husband, showman Billy Rose. The award, believed to be the highest ever granted in Manhattan Supreme Court, was made "upon condition that she is permitted to remain in her present abode," the Rose Beekman Place house. In granting the amount, pending trial of Miss Holm's suit for separation, Supreme Court Justice Kenneth O'Brien said: "If there is any change in this respect (about the home), an application for further relief may be made." Justice O'Brien yesterday sealed all papers in the suit. However it was reported that Miss Holm had sought $1,250 a week temporary alimony.

Iowa Farms Get DP's

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Two German displaced brothers and their families have been reunited on adjoining Iowa farms near McClelland. The German brothers are Otto and Christfried Nawrocki. They were sponsored by St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Council Bluffs. Christfried Nawrocki, 24, and his family arrived in New York recently from the Schlesweig-Holstein region in the British zone of Germany. He said he was one of 300 DP's on the ship.

Regents Board Proposes Schools Open With Prayer

Albany, Nov. 30 (AP)—The State Board of Regents proposed today that every school day be opened with a prayer as well as the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

The Regents, in a statement on moral and spiritual training in schools, said that the peace and safety of the country "points to the essentiality of teaching our children * * * that Almighty God is their creator, and that by Him they have been endowed with their inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The statement was approved unanimously by the 13-member board, which governs education in the state. It declared:

"We believe that at the commencement of each school day the act of allegiance to the flag might well be joined with this act of reverence to God: 'Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

The Regents said they were convinced that the fundamental belief of "dependence upon Almighty God * * * and dependence of the American * * * people is the best security against the dangers of these difficult days."

Under the federal and state constitution, the teaching of religion is prohibited in publicly supported schools, on the principle of separation of church and state.

However, scripture readings from the Old Testament of the Bible are given in many schools.

Would Call O'Dwyer

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn grand jury investigating the 10-year-old death of Abe (Kid Twist) Reles today asked District Attorney Miles McDonald to produce as witnesses former Mayor William O'Dwyer and Senator Charles Tobey (R.-N. H.). "Accordingly," McDonald told reporters, "a telegram will be sent today to each of these men requesting their appearance at their earliest convenience during the term of the grand jury." McDonald did not say why Senator Tobey, a member of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, was wanted by the jury.

Hiccougher Is Sworn In

Los Angeles, Nov. 30 (AP)—Jack O'Leary, who has hiccoughed once a second for most of the past three and a half years, was sworn in yesterday as a tempoary postal employe. O'Leary, 26, should know a good deal about mail: He has received 20,000 letters during his sickness—mostly home remedy cures.

Firemen Are Called

Firemen were called to the Moe Schantzer Delicatessen in the Moe Schantzer Delicatessen in the building at 53-55 North Front street at 8:22 a. m. today for a defect in an oil burner. No damage was reported.

RESCUES 800—Lt. Joseph L. Bowler of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., tells Washington reporters how he and 11 other helicopter pilots in Korea rescued 1500 UN wounded from no-man's-land or behind enemy lines. Bowler holds the record for helicopter evacuations, with 806 men brought to safety on 487 flights.

Pickets' Absence Causes Idea Strike Might Be Ended

Although union pickets were absent last night from their posts in front of the Kingston and Broadway theatres here, the strike of Local B-42, IATSE, members against the two local Walter Reade theatres has not been settled.

Statement from Walter Reade, Jr., and from union sources indicate that neither side has retrenched from its position when the strike began on Sept. 22.

Indications were that picketing not only will resume tonight, but will be increased with the aid of other unions next week.

Reached at his New York office Thursday afternoon, Walter Reade, Jr., told The Freeman that the Reade interests have nothing to report on any progress toward a settlement.

"Our position was stated completely and unequivocally on the first day of the strike," Reade said. "There is nothing further to report," he added.

(The statement released by Reade on Sept. 24 outlined the theatre chain's position in the strike, and concluded, "We are ready and willing to employ any of our employes under the same conditions as before this misled action.")

Councils Will Meet

Meanwhile, it was reported by George E. Yerry, Jr., president of the District Council of Carpenters and business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council that those two councils will meet the early part of next week to discuss assisting Local B-42 "increase" its picket line.

The carpenters and metal trades unions, which are AFL affiliates, are continuing to request their members to "respect the picket line" established by Local B-42, also an AFL affiliate.

Mrs. Phoebe VanWagenen, president of the striking local, said Thursday that no offer of settlement had been made by management to her knowledge.

Union leaders did not explain last night's absence of pickets, but it was understood that picketing will continue tonight.

The statement released by Walter Reade, Jr., on Sept. 24 and reaffirmed by him on Thursday said: "Walter Reade Theatres have always been fair to its many employes. We have always employed union stage hands and motion picture operators from Local 637. The remainder of our employes have requested an independent union consisting of porters, ushers, doormen, cashiers and candy attendants. Even though we do not have such a union in any of our other enterprises we agreed to have an election under the supervision of the New York State Labor Board. This was not acceptable to some of our employes who struck without notice Saturday, Sept. 22. We are ready and willing to employ any of our employes under the same conditions as before this misled action."

Guardsmen Will Go

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The army is going ahead with plans to send to Korea at least one of the two national guard divisions on occupation duty in Japan, it was learned today. A proposal to use the two divisions, the 45th of Oklahoma and the 40th of California, for replacement of units long in the Korean battle line was first considered last summer. Recently, a decision was made to send one division, the 45th, before the end of the year. The two divisions sailed for the Far East late in March.

Eleven Are Killed

Quito, Ecuador, Nov. 30 (AP)—A bus carrying pilgrims home from a visit to the Virgin De La Pena Sanctuary upset on a curve today, killing 11 of those aboard. Twenty others were injured. The accident occurred on the Licto-Riobama road.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Nov. 28: Net budget receipts, $77,090,-131.58; budget expenditures, $278,-831,328.38; cash balance, $4,873,-390,983.75; customs receipts for month, $42,335,073.33; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $18,336,-287,056.43; budget expenditures fiscal year, $24,965,487,244.77; budget deficit, $6,629,200,188.34; total debt, $259,517,721,831.60; increase over previous day, $34,-122,752.46; gold assets, $22,332,-127,819.19.

TO BE FREED?—Reports from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, indicate that Catholic Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac, above, may soon be released from prison by Marshal Tito after serving five years of a 16-year sentence. Stepinac was convicted in a widely publicized trial in 1946 on charges of alleged "collaboration with the Nazis." His conviction has been soundly denounced by Catholic dignitaries in this country and elsewhere.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Stock prices edged cautiously forward today under leadership of the railroad shares.

Despite a trading pace that was around the best of the week, little buying urgency appeared. Most gains were limited to less than a dollar a share, and some issues failed to hold initial advances.

Joining the carriers on the upside were selected steels, which had been backward in the face of a general rise Thursday, farm implements, rubbers and some copper and oil stocks.

Wall Street refused to become exercised over the Russian announcement they would join in disarmament talks. In the current atmosphere of uncertain international trends, most traders are inclined to wait for something more specific before altering investment positions.

Leading the rails in the advance were Northern Pacific (which opened up 1½ on a block of 5,000 shares), Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Illinois Central and Nickel Plate.

Other stock gainers included Sinclair Oil, Gulf Oil, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Caterpillar Tractor, J. I. Case, Sears Roebuck, American Cyanamid, Union Carbide, Chrysler and International Telephone.

Corporate bonds improved somewhat, while U. S. Governments steadied in over-the-counter dealings.

river events into the news again although war correspondents had been reluctant to publish "details of the disastrous push to the Yalu." The reluctance, he says, was based on the fear something "might detract from the almost unbelievable heroism of field officers and men" who managed to avert a military debacle.

Walker's Story

Referring to the mid-October meeting between President Truman and MacArthur, Walker writes:

"The overwhelming bulk of evidence available to newsmen at headquarters in Tokyo shows conclusively that General MacArthur at this time was fully aware that a Chinese expeditionary force of major proportions already had moved across the Yalu river into Korea."

At Wake Island, MacArthur gave his opinion that there "was very little chance of Chinese intervention in Korea."

Willoughby, on the other hand, says Washington was provided with full information by Tokyo—a daily report "almost the size of a magazine" and "radiographic summaries" practically every night.

Walker says information about the Chinese came from several sources—Chinese Nationalist headquarters in Taipeh, Formosa, from British intelligence sources in Hong Kong, and from Koreans parachuted along the Yalu river "who walked back through enemy lines."

Cites 'Bluff' Reason

In the Monitor, Walker theorizes that MacArthur might have been trying to "bluff" the Chinese force "out of full-scale intervention." Walker suggests that the supreme commander hoped to do this with a major United Nations thrust.

MacArthur also might have believed, Walker goes on, "that the Chinese really did not want to fight.  Undoubtedly, General MacArthur felt that if Washington were fully aware of the extent of the Chinese intervention," Walker declares, "it might veto his own plan for an offensive toward the Yalu and refer the entire matter back to the United Nations General Assembly."

Tax Investigators

The committee has been questioning Caudle all week on his activities as head of the department tax division. Caudle was fired two weeks ago by President Truman for "outside activities" deemed incompatible with his office.

Memorandum Is Signed

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—A memorandum which virtually defers from the draft all college students now in Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) units was signed yesterday by Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense. Aides of Mrs. Rosenberg said the memorandum told the army it could order local draft boards to defer up to 129,-500 men in ROTC units. Congress last year gave the secretary of defense the right to order the deferments and to set deferment quotas for the various services.

Apartment Is Damaged

Miami, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—A dynamite explosion today badly damaged an apartment building in Carver Village, controversial Negro housing development where another building was dynamited 69 days ago. An unoccupied eight unit apartment building was the latest target. The "village" is a private development in Edison Center, a white development. A concrete wall separates the Negro area from the white project.

Franklin Street Shoemaker Found Dead in His Home

Gregoris Papatolo, shoemaker of 55 Franklin street was found dead in a room of his living quarters in the same building as his shop early today.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was due to coronary occlusion and that he had apparently been dead since Monday when he was last seen. He was a veteran of World War 1 and was believed to be about 60 years old.

Police were notified at 7:45 a. m., today by telephone from the home of William Mergendahl, 54 Franklin street. Lt. William Leonard and Officers Gerald Every and Kenneth Stratton went to the house. The doors were locked and they broke into the place.

They found that the man had toppled to the floor after apparently having been seized with a heart attack. There was no heat in the house.

A letter in the house indicated that the shoemaker, who was also known as William, has a brother, Joseph in Los Angeles, the coroner said. Funeral arrangements will depend upon results of efforts to contact the brother or other possible relatives.

Whenever Truman Is Confused He Puts Blame of Free Press

New York, Nov. 30 (AP) — Arthur Krock, chief Washington correspondent for the New York Times, said today in his editorial page whenever the Truman administration gets confused about major events, it tries to blame the free press.

Krock raised the point in connection with President Truman's complaints yesterday about press reports of a temporary halt of hostilities in Korea.

He wrote:

"Whenever this administration falls into a state of confusion and somewhat of dismay, and when that condition has become a matter of public knowledge and concern, an unusual barrage of official denials of unwelcome news is launched against the free press in a manner to persuade the people that the press is deliberately giving a lying account of the government.

Not Press Error

"The Truman administration is in this plight today, its lack of coordination having reached alarming proportions and its official record showing a growing stain of corruption. Accordingly, its denials have steadily become more short and ugly. In their language there is no recognition of the fact that, if the news reports contained error, it was not the error of the press but of those invested with political responsibility by the administration. Yet the current form of denial has left the implication that reporters rush into print with the flimsiest factual evidence and are willing or careless common carriers of the most transparent fakes, 'planted' by persons with obviously ulterior motives.

"The latest instance was the reception here and in Key West of an Associated Press dispatch that was passed by the military censor yesterday at Seoul.

"After the negotiators of an armistice in Korea agreed on the ultimate dividing line between the opposing forces, to become effective if an armistice had been signed within thirty days, the guns of our ground forces fell silent. Several officers told the A. P. reporter, John Randolph, that this was in obedience to an order from high authorities. The military ones are the chiefs of staff at the Pentagon here and General Ridgway in Tokyo. The superior one, since such an order must have political sanction, is the President. Based soundly on the information he was given the reporter sent the following:

"'Orders from the highest sources, possibly from the White House itself, brought the ground fighting to a complete, if temporary, halt Wednesday.'

Reporter Was Correct

"At a press conference in Key West, called after the President had conferred with representatives of the chiefs of staff and of the State Department who flew there on an order, Mr. Truman's press secretary, Mr. Joseph Short, issued this bulletin: 'The statement by the Associated Press is not true. There can be no cease-fire in Korea until an armistice agreement has been reached.'

"But the A.P. reporter thus stigmatized (and in Mr. Truman's castigation of the press today) did not use the military expression 'cease-fire.' He correctly reported that the firing had ceased. That it might be only temporary and that the order came from the highest sources. If the White House denial had dealt as scrupulously with the facts as the reporter did and shown the A.P. and its reporter the consideration implicit in the word 'possibly' in his dispatch, the denial would have said:

'No cease-fire order has been given to the United Nations troops in Korea by anyone in authority and certainly not by the President. There can be no cease-fire order until an armistice has been signed. The lull in the ground action is a local military tactic, for military reasons, and has no other significance or origin.'

"That would have been a fair and true account of the meaning of the headquarters directive to the troops from which the Canadian press quoted this today: 'During the remainder of the armistice negotiations every effort will be made to avoid casualties and demonstrate our willingness to honor a cease-fire.'"

Other Denials

Krock went on to describe other recent examples of what he called the administration's "denial routine" as follows:

"1. Jonathan Daniels, a former White House secretary who does not break confidences, wrote in a magazine that Mr. Truman said Congress should have had the courage, when it submitted the amendment limiting White House occupancy to two terms, to submit a similar limitation on its own tenure. The White House repudiated this as 'distorting' and presenting as serious a playful remark made and accepted in confidence.

"2. Merlo Pusey, a careful and reputable journalist, wrote in his authorized biography of Charles E. Hughes that the later had recommended to the President that he appoint Justice Jackson at the time Fred M. Vinson was appointed chief justice, and that this report had been certified by Hughes. The President twice denied it, asserting Hughes had agreed with him that Vinson was 'the better man.'

"3. Representative King of California, after a phone conversation with Mr. Truman, said he had been promised access to certain secret files. This was promptly denied at Key West.

"4. The President, according to a highly placed witness, told a small group during General Eisenhower's recent visit that he had renewed his 1948 offer to help the general to attain the presidency and that Eisenhower had demurred by noting strong exceptions to Fair Deal domestic policy. Mr. Truman has denied this in terms that even imply there was no such witness.

"There is such a thing as protesting too often, as well as too much."

President Says

100 yards from him on one side and another on the other side.

Put Out by Howard

That story, he said, was put out by Roy Howard, then writing for the United Press, and it was a fake.

He went on to say that an Associated Press story out of Seoul Wednesday, saying that on orders from the highest source, possibly the White House, ground fighting had been brought to a complete, if temporary halt, was on a parallel with it.

Mr. Truman said he understood the AP story came out because of intense competition for news.

AP Supports Stories

A spokesman for the Associated Press in New York said:

"There is no foundation for suggesting that pressure was involved in an Associated Press news dispatch from Seoul Wednesday speculating on the battle zone indications that orders causing a lull in the Korean ground fighting came from the 'highest sources, possibly from the White House'."

"It was a fact that the ground shooting was halted as a result of orders or directives given to the UN fighting forces.

"The AP dispatch in question was part of a frontline repertorial effort to explain the effect as well as the possible origins of orders which are still surrounded by mystery. The Associated Press did not report a 'cease-fire' order had been issued. It has fully reported the facts, so far as they have been obtainable and observable, including all authoritative statements which have (1) denied any 'cease-fire' order has been issued, but (2) not disputed the fact that a lull developed in frontline ground fighting."

UP Has No Comment

The United Press in New York had no comment on the president's statement.

There was no direct comment from Howard, now president of Scripps-Howard newspapers and president and editor of the New York World-Telegram and the Sun. But he authorized the following statement in the World-Telegram and Sun:

"The armistice incident of 1918 referred to by President Truman occurred on Nov. 7, 1918, not Oct. 27 as President Truman x x x recalls.

"It was based on a dispatch furnished to Mr. Howard at Brest by Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commander in chief of all American naval forces in Europe-waters, and simultaneously with its release by the admiral to the fleet.

Given by Admiral

"It was given to Mr. Howard by Admiral Wilson in the belief and with the assurance that it was official, the information having been just received by Admiral Wilson from the American naval attache in Paris via the navy's private wire between the embassy and Admiral Wilson's headquarters."

Later, Mr. Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, said the President, after refreshing his memory, was not sure that the Oct. 27 report originated with Howard.

"However," Short added, "it is well known that Mr. Howard was responsible for a false armistice report which reached the United States on Nov. 7, 1918. And the President wanted it understood how much harm false reports create."

The President said newspapermen must be careful in these very dangerous times to stick to the truth.

The welfare of the United States, the United Nations and the world is more important than any competitive situation that may exist among newshounds, he declared.

McFarland Gets

He was sentenced to a term of from 1 to 2 years at hard labor in Clinton state prison but execution of the sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation. One of the conditions of probation was that he pay $150 a month toward the support of his family. Howard St. John appeared for defendant. Judge Cashin suspended sentence and placed the defendant on probation to report to Chief Probation Officer Edmund U. Burhans when Mrs. Schaffer requested by letter that a suspended sentence would meet approval by her.

Conklin Is Sentenced

Melvin Conklin, 28, Ellenville, entered a plea of guilty to a second count in an indictment charging violation of Section 50 of the Penal Law, an abandonment provision. Charles Saccoman appeared for Conklin.

Judge Cashin told Conklin that he had previously violated a probation chance and then sentenced defendant to a term of 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton prison, suspended execution of the sentence on condition Conklin support his family. Judge Cashin warned defendant that a violation of this probation would lead to serving the prison term. The first count of the indictment was dismissed.

An indictment charging Joseph Mertine, Jr., New York city, with burglary, third degree, was ordered sealed when the defendant sought to have his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Thomas Saccoman appeared for defendant. Mertine, who is 16, is eligible for disposition of his case under the Youthful Offender law since he has no prior record and is but 16 years of age.

Court was recessed to 2 o'clock following discharge of the jury with the thanks of the court. Judge Cashin complimented the jurors for their willingness to serve and said jury duty was one of the important things which a citizen could contribute to the enforcement of law under our democratic form of government.

Clique Abolishes Thai Constitution

Bangkok, Nov. 30 (AP)—Thailanders awoke today to find that a military clique had abolished the constitution, dissolved parliament and seized control of the government in a bloodless overnight coup.

A nine-man "state temporary administrative body" ousted the former government, then reappointed Premier Pibulsonggram. He also was given the post of defense minister in the new cabinet.

There was no violence. The coup was carried out in the oldtime tradition of pressure without bloodshed—in sharp contrast to the naval revolt last June and a coup in February, 1949.

The military clique announced it had acted in the interests of combatting communism.

Repeated radio broadcasts declared the coup would have no effect on Thailand's foreign policy.

Motive for the coup was not clear. But there were indications it was a move to solidify power by the military through the elimination of elements which might oppose it.

Military leaders who seized power include three ranking officers from the army, navy and air force. The army is in top position.

They issued a statement citing reports of corruption, opium smuggling and infiltration of Communists into high places.

The new government quickly imposed censorship on all Thai publications and announced it would put through legislation outlawing the Communist party.

Local Death Record

Josephine Esposito

Funeral services for Josephine Esposito were held Thursday from the M. A. Galietta Funeral Home at 9:30 a. m. and at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m. where a solemn requiem high Mass was offered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PRVF. The Rev. John Flaherty was deacon and the Rev. Edward Farrelly subdeacon. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir under the direction of Theodore Riccobono, organist. During the time the body reposed in the funeral home scores of friends called to offer their sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family. Msgr. Drury called at the home and offered prayers for the dead and Wednesday night Father Flaherty called and led the assembled friends and relatives in the recitation of the Rosary. There was a profusion of flowers and many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards, silent tokens of high esteem in which Mrs. Esposito was held. Bearers were Sam Crispino, Thomas Fay, G. A. Smith, James Mancuso, Anthony Canzaneri and William McCabe. Burial was made in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Flaherty pronounced the final absolution.

Eleanor Gets $700 Weekly

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Eleanor Holm, former swimming star, today was awarded $700 weekly temporary alimony from her husband, showman Billy Rose. The award, believed to be the highest ever granted in Manhattan Supreme Court, was made "upon condition that she is permitted to remain in her present abode," the Rose Beekman Place house. In granting the amount, pending trial of Miss Holm's suit for separation, Supreme Court Justice Kenneth O'Brien said: "If there is any change in this respect (about the home), an application for further relief may be made." Justice O'Brien yesterday sealed all papers in the suit. However it was reported that Miss Holm had sought $1,250 a week temporary alimony.

Iowa Farms Get DP's

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Two German displaced brothers and their families have been reunited on adjoining Iowa farms near McClelland. The German brothers are Otto and Christfried Nawrocki. They were sponsored by St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Council Bluffs. Christfried Nawrocki, 24, and his family arrived in New York recently from the Schlesweig-Holstein region in the British zone of Germany. He said he was one of 300 DP's on the ship.

Regents Board Proposes Schools Open With Prayer

Albany, Nov. 30 (AP)—The State Board of Regents proposed today that every school day be opened with a prayer as well as the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

The Regents, in a statement on moral and spiritual training in schools, said that the peace and safety of the country "points to the essentiality of teaching our children * * * that Almighty God is their creator, and that by Him they have been endowed with their inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The statement was approved unanimously by the 13-member board, which governs education in the state. It declared:

"We believe that at the commencement of each school day the act of allegiance to the flag might well be joined with this act of reverence to God: 'Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country.'"

The Regents said they were convinced that the fundamental belief of "dependence upon Almighty God * * * and dependence of the American * * * people is the best security against the dangers of these difficult days."

Under the federal and state constitution, the teaching of religion is prohibited in publicly supported schools, on the principle of separation of church and state.

However, scripture readings from the Old Testament of the Bible are given in many schools.

Would Call O'Dwyer

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn grand jury investigating the 10-year-old death of Abe (Kid Twist) Reles today asked District Attorney Miles McDonald to produce as witnesses former Mayor William O'Dwyer and Senator Charles Tobey (R.-N.H.). "Accordingly," McDonald told reporters, "a telegram will be sent today to each of these men requesting their appearance at their earliest convenience during the term of the grand jury." McDonald did not say why Senator Tobey, a member of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, was wanted by the jury.

Hiccougher Is Sworn In

Los Angeles, Nov. 30 (AP)—Jack O'Leary, who has hiccoughed once a second for most of the past three and a half years, was sworn in yesterday as a tempoary postal employe. O'Leary, 26, should know a good deal about mail: He has received 20,000 letters during his sickness—mostly home remedy cures.

Firemen Are Called

Firemen were called to the Moe Schantzer Delicatessen in the Moe Schantzer Delicatessen in the building at 53-55 North Front street at 8:22 a. m. today for a defect in an oil burner. No damage was reported.

RESCUES 800—Lt. Joseph L. Bowler of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., tells Washington reporters how he and 11 other helicopter pilots in Korea rescued 1500 UN wounded from no-man's-land or behind enemy lines. Bowler holds the record for helicopter evacuations, with 806 men brought to safety on 487 flights.

Pickets' Absence Causes Idea Strike Might Be Ended

Although union pickets were absent last night from their posts in front of the Kingston and Broadway theatres here, the strike of Local B-42, IATSE, members against the two local Walter Reade theatres has not been settled.

Statement from Walter Reade, Jr., and from union sources indicate that neither side has retrenched from its position when the strike began on Sept. 22.

Indications were that picketing not only will resume tonight, but will be increased with the aid of other unions next week.

Reached at his New York office Thursday afternoon, Walter Reade, Jr., told The Freeman that the Reade interests have nothing to report on any progress toward a settlement.

"Our position was stated completely and unequivocally on the first day of the strike," Reade said. "There is nothing further to report," he added.

(The statement released by Reade on Sept. 24 outlined the theatre chain's position in the strike, and concluded, "We are ready and willing to employ any of our employes under the same conditions as before this misled action.")

Councils Will Meet

Meanwhile, it was reported by George E. Yerry, Jr., president of the District Council of Carpenters and business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council that those two councils will meet the early part of next week to discuss assisting Local B-42 "increase" its picket line.

The carpenters and metal trades unions, which are AFL affiliates, are continuing to request their members to "respect the picket line" established by Local B-42, also an AFL affiliate.

Mrs. Phoebe VanWagenen, president of the striking local, said Thursday that no offer of settlement had been made by management to her knowledge.

Union leaders did not explain last night's absence of pickets, but it was understood that picketing will continue tonight.

The statement released by Walter Reade, Jr., on Sept. 24 and reaffirmed by him on Thursday said: "Walter Reade Theatres have always been fair to its many employes. We have always employed union stage hands and motion picture operators from Local 637. The remainder of our employes have requested an independent union consisting of porters, ushers, doormen, cashiers and candy attendants. Even though we do not have such a union in any of our other enterprises we agreed to have an election under the supervision of the New York State Labor Board. This was not acceptable to some of our employes who struck without notice Saturday, Sept. 22. We are ready and willing to employ any of our employes under the same conditions as before this misled action."

Guardsmen Will Go

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The army is going ahead with plans to send to Korea at least one of the two national guard divisions on occupation duty in Japan, it was learned today. A proposal to use the two divisions, the 45th of Oklahoma and the 40th of California, for replacement of units long in the Korean battle line was first considered last summer. Recently, a decision was made to send one division, the 45th, before the end of the year. The two divisions sailed for the Far East late in March.

Eleven Are Killed

Quito, Ecuador, Nov. 30 (AP)—A bus carrying pilgrims home from a visit to the Virgin De La Pena Sanctuary upset on a curve today, killing 11 of those aboard. Twenty others were injured. The accident occurred on the Licto-Riobama road.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Nov. 28: Net budget receipts, $77,090,-131.58; budget expenditures, $278,-831,328.38; cash balance, $4,873,-390,983.75; customs receipts for month, $42,335,073.33; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $18,336,-287,056.43; budget expenditures fiscal year, $24,965,487,244.77; budget deficit, $6,629,200,188.34; total debt, $259,517,721,831.60; increase over previous day, $34,-122,752.46; gold assets, $22,332,-127,819.19.

TO BE FREED?—Reports from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, indicate that Catholic Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac, above, may soon be released from prison by Marshal Tito after serving five years of a 16-year sentence. Stepinac was convicted in a widely publicized trial in 1946 on charges of alleged "collaboration with the Nazis." His conviction has been soundly denounced by Catholic dignitaries in this country and elsewhere.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Stock prices edged cautiously forward today under leadership of the railroad shares.

Despite a trading pace that was around the best of the week, little buying urgency appeared. Most gains were limited to less than a dollar a share, and some issues failed to hold initial advances.

Joining the carriers on the upside were selected steels, which had been backward in the face of a general rise Thursday, farm implements, rubbers and some copper and oil stocks.

Wall Street refused to become exercised over the Russian announcement they would join in disarmament talks. In the current atmosphere of uncertain international trends, most traders are inclined to wait for something more specific before altering investment positions.

Leading the rails in the advance were Northern Pacific (which opened up 1½ on a block of 5,000 shares), Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Illinois Central and Nickel Plate.

Other stock gainers included Sinclair Oil, Gulf Oil, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Caterpillar Tractor, J. I. Case, Sears Roebuck, American Cyanamid, Union Carbide, Chrysler and International Telephone.

Corporate bonds improved somewhat, while U. S. Governments steadied in over-the-counter dealings.

Religious Paper

river events into the news again although war correspondents had been reluctant to publish "details of the disastrous push to the Yalu." The reluctance, he says, was based on the fear something "might detract from the almost unbelievable heroism of field officers and men" who managed to avert a military debacle.

Walker's Story

Referring to the mid-October meeting between President Truman and MacArthur, Walker writes:

"The overwhelming bulk of evidence available to newsmen at headquarters in Tokyo shows conclusively that General MacArthur at this time was fully aware that a Chinese expeditionary force of major proportions already had moved across the Yalu river into Korea."

At Wake Island, MacArthur gave his opinion that there "was very little chance of Chinese intervention in Korea."

Willoughby, on the other hand, says Washington was provided with full information by Tokyo—a daily report "almost the size of a magazine" and "radiographic summaries" practically every night.

Walker says information about the Chinese came from several sources—Chinese Nationalist headquarters in Taipeh, Formosa, from British intelligence sources in Hong Kong, and from Koreans parachuted along the Yalu river "who walked back through enemy lines."

Cites 'Bluff' Reason

In the Monitor, Walker theorizes that MacArthur might have been trying to "bluff" the Chinese force "out of full-scale intervention." Walker suggests that the supreme commander hoped to do this with a major United Nations thrust.

MacArthur also might have believed, Walker goes on, "that the Chinese really did not want to fight.  Undoubtedly, General MacArthur felt that if Washington were fully aware of the extent of the Chinese intervention," Walker declares, "it might veto his own plan for an offensive toward the Yalu and refer the entire matter back to the United Nations General Assembly."

Memorandum Is Signed

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—A memorandum which virtually defers from the draft all college students now in Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) units was signed yesterday by Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense. Aides of Mrs. Rosenberg said the memorandum told the army it could order local draft boards to defer up to 129,-500 men in ROTC units. Congress last year gave the secretary of defense the right to order the deferments and to set deferment quotas for the various services.

Apartment Is Damaged

Miami, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—A dynamite explosion today badly damaged an apartment building in Carver Village, controversial Negro housing development where another building was dynamited 69 days ago. An unoccupied eight unit apartment building was the latest target. The "village" is a private development in Edison Center, a white development. A concrete wall separates the Negro area from the white project.

Loans Explained To Farmers in 4 Counties of Area

How to obtain and use production and subsistence loans was explained to farmers of Ulster and three neighboring counties in a series of recent meetings it was announced today by the Farmers' Home Administration.

F. A. Norman, county supervisor of the organization for Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Sullivan counties, said that there was full discussion of the Magnuson Bill or Public Law 123 passed by the 82nd Congress.

This law increased the size of initial loans and total loans to applicants for operating purposes. These loans are known as production and subsistence loans and the primary object is to help eligible applicants become successful farmers. Through Farmers' Home Administration credit and guidance, borrowers will be assisted and encouraged to make full and efficient use of their land and labor resources. Greater emphasis will be placed on adjustment type credit and annual operating loans will be restricted to emergency needs caused by natural calamities.

To be eligible for a loan from the Farmers' Home Administration, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must receive the major portion of his income from farming and devote the major portion of his time to farming and have the use of land and buildings that can be developed into a full time economic farming enterprise. Loans cannot be made to part time farmers. No loan can be made to an applicant who can secure the needed credit from other regular credit sources at terms common in his locality.

What May Be Bought

Loans can be made to purchase livestock, machinery, seed, feed, fertilizer, necessary home equipment and medical needs, and minor repairs and building improvements. Production and subsistence loan funds cannot be used to purchase a passenger automobile, to pay unsecured notes or open accounts, to pay current taxes nor to refinance household goods.

Initial loans of over $7,000 cannot be made but if additional funds are needed, a loan of not over $3,000 can be made 120 days after the date of the initial loan. No loan can be made that will cause a borrower to have a total indebtedness to the Farmers' Home Administration of over $10,000.

The loan can be repaid over a period up to seven years and interest is charged on the unpaid balance at five per cent per year.

Loans are made with the advice of a local county committee who have to certify as to the eligibility of the applicant.

U. S. Insures Loans

The Farmers' Home Administration also makes loans under the farm ownership program for the purchase, repair and development, and the enlargement of farms. These loans are made either with direct government funds or under the insured mortgage program. Under the insured mortgage program, local banks, savings and loan associations, institutions or private individuals may provide the funds and have the loan fully insured by the government.

The Housing Act of 1949 also authorizes the Farmers' Home Administration to make loans to farm owners for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings.

The Farmers' Home Administration office at 25 East O'Reilly street serves the counties of Dutchess, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster, and residents of these counties may file applications at the Kingston office.

Information on the services of the Farmers' Home Administration is also available from the local county committeemen who are: Dutchess county — Clifford Buck, Arthur Hoose, John Ronner; Greene county—Leland Cole, Alex Parks, Milton Goslee; Sullivan county — Louis Komancheck, Andrew Schoonmaker, Edwin von Bergen; Ulster county — Frank Aldrich, Myron Boice, Edward Wood.

Doctors Approve Fluorine in Water

Chicago, Nov. 30 (AP)—Treatment of drinking water supplies with fluorine to combat tooth decay was approved today by the American Medical Association.

The fluoridation process has been hailed by the American Dental Association and several public health groups on the basis of tests which have been in operation for up to more than four years in 140 communities.

The AMA approval was announced today in the association's journal after investigation of the clinical results of the city water supply experiments by its Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry and its Council on Foods and Nutrition.

The AMA said "the councils believe that the use of drinking water containing up to one part per million of fluoride is safe. However, the use of products which are naturally high in fluoride content, such as bone meal tablets, or of lozenges, dentifrices or chewing gum to which fluoride has been added should be avoided where the drinking water has been fluoridated."

Too much fluoride intake, it was explained, may result in mottling of the teeth.

"In cases where fluoridation has been carried out for three or four years there has been a general reduction of decay in the teeth of younger children," the AMA said.

"Statistics show that fluoridation has resulted in a reduction in tooth decay of from 35 to more than 50 per cent."

Multi-Million Will Is Probated

Bartow, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—The will disposing the multi-million dollar estate of William P. McDonald, who died November 20, was filed for probate yesterday.

McDonald, who built many miles of Florida and Canadian highways, died at his mountain lake home near Lake Wales. He also was a citrus operator.

The will, filed with County Judge C. M. Wiggins, provides:

That one-fourth of the estate go to his widow, Mrs. Adelaide S. McDonald, and one-fourth to Mrs. McDonald to furnish her a monthly income.

Each of three daughters was willed $300,000. They are Mrs. Ruth E. Hald of Douglaston, L. I., N. Y.; Mrs. Hazel M. Hamill of Fort Worth, Texas, and Sister Regina Immaculee of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, West Chester, Pa.

A $2,000,000 "William P. McDonald charitable" trust was provided for the exclusive use of "religious, educational and charitable non-profit purposes under Catholic auspices" at the discretion of the estate's executors.

A $300,000 trust fund and additional needed was set up to provide a $500 monthly income for life to his brother, John I. McDonald of Coral Gables, Fla.

Two of his sisters, Mrs. Catherine Stanton of Philadelphia and Mrs. Thomas Dobbings of Lakeland, Fla., were given $150 monthly incomes for life. Another sister, Mrs. A. D. Tierney of Lakeland, received $75 a month for life.

His brother and three sisters also received flat amounts of $10,000 each. McDonald also willed Tillie C. McDonald (relationship not shown) of Roslyn, L. I., $20,000.

Sums of $15,000 each were given to Kathleen McDonald Scholz of Port Washington, N. Y.; Rita McDonald Duggan of Roslyn Heights, L. I., Doris McDonald Walsh of Garden City, N. Y. These were not further identified.

The will also provided $4,000 each to Mrs. Lillian Condon, Mrs. Josephine Ferber, Mrs. Anne Patterson and Mrs. Mary Hetherton, all of Floral Park, L. I., but relationship was not shown.

A gift of $100,000 also went to the sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The remainder of the estate is to be divided equally among his three daughters.

Italian Non-Coms

Rome, (AP)—The Italian army is to have non-commissioned officers for the first time in history. Special courses will start this year to train 21-year-old boys with good school grades who have finished at least five of the eight years of high school. After six months in a special school, where they will be promoted to corporals, they will spend six months in a regiment as sergeants. Special provisions for better pay have been approved and a $85 discharge bonus will be given at the end of their year of service.

Fitzpatrick to Ask Confidence Vote; To Quit, if Denied

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick — meeting the challenge of foes within the party seeking to oust him—will ask the state committee for a vote of confidence.

"I am sure this will be forthcoming," he says. "If not, I will resign immediately."

Fitzpatrick announced last night he had issued a call for a meeting of the Democratic state committee here Dec. 7. He said the issue of his chairmanship should "be brought to a head immediately."

The chairman acted after a petition for a special ouster meeting against him next month began circulating among the 300 members of the committee.

The movement against Fitzpatrick, chairman since 1944, is led by Daniel P. O'Connell, Albany county Democratic chairman.

Will Clarify Matter

O'Connell said in Albany last night that the meeting called by Fitzpatrick for 11 a. m. (EST) Dec. 7 at party state headquarters at the Hotel Belmore "will clarify the matter."

O'Connell, the most powerful Democratic leader upstate, had said previously:

"We need state leadership. One look at our past record will make that obvious. It's time we changed and got some new blood down there at headquarters."

Dissatisfaction with Fitzpatrick reportedly has risen since Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's decisive defeat of Rep. Walter A. Lynch, New York city Democrat, in the 1950 gubernatorial election.

Fitzpatrick was reported by friends to have been planning recently to resign and devote all his time to business, but to have decided to accept the challenge to his chairmanship.

Foes of Fitzpatrick are aiming also at Benjamin Wetzler, of New York city, secretary of the state committee. There was no comment from him.

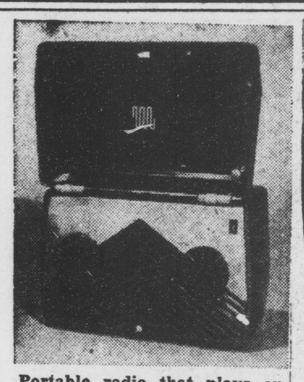

Among those mentioned as possible successors to Fitzpatrick are Thomas J. Cullen, Orange county party leader; William B. Mahoney, Erie county Democratic chief, and Richard W. Balch, of Utica, who was defeated last year as candidate for lieutenant governor.

Canine Paratroops

Manila, (AP) — The Philippines army is preparing to train a new paratroop team of dogs to aid airborne units in fighting the elusive Communist Huks. Dogs presently are assisting army forces in tracking down Reds in thick jungle areas. The new K-9 airborne unit will be 160 strong and include German Shepherd police dogs imported from Japan and a mixed assortment of 10 other dogs. American military advisers now are training recruits for a full airborne battalion of 500 men. The para-dogs will be attached to the battalion.

One-Room School Decline

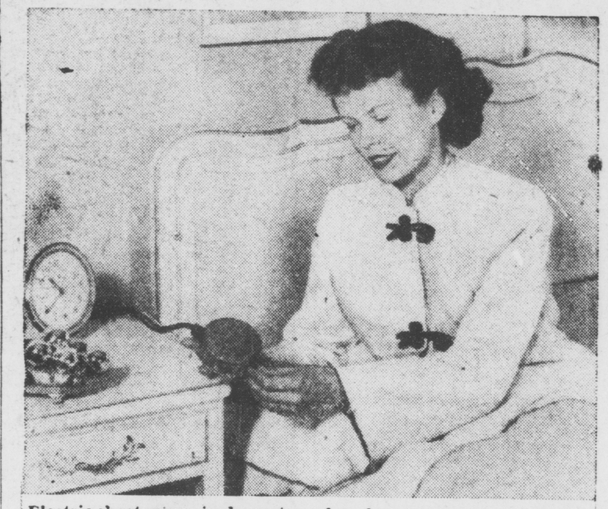

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—There is a direct relationship between increased farm mechanization and a decline in the number of one-room rural houses. Modern farm machinery is enabling individuals to farm larger acreages, so that larger farms are becoming the rule. This means, of course, fewer farm families and children in any rural area.

Electricity Is a Gift To Turn On--Or Tune In

Electric sheet comes in decorator colors, has single or dual controls, is washable. It can pack in overnight bag.

Westinghouse Electric

By GAILE DUGAS

Electrical gifts are high on the nation's shopping list every Christmas. It isn't just the initial pleasure they give; it's the knowledge that for many Christmases after, they'll be making life easier and more pleasant.

New for shoppers this Christmas is an electric sheet that's both practical and pretty. Made of mercerized broadcloth in decorator colors, it has single or dual controls.

It's washable and compact enough to pack easily in an overnight bag. The control case goes either on a night table or in a special metal hanger that clips to the headboard of the bed.

A brand new waffle baker, one with 81 square inches of griddle area, will bake four king-size waffles at a cooking. Any waffle lover will be won over by the grids, which require no greasing or breaking-in.

Further, there's a built-in batter rim to catch the overflowing and prevent it from dripping onto the table top. The baker also has five automatically controlled settings that offer a choice of browning texture from light and tender to crispy and dark.

New, and medium-priced, is a portable radio that plays on ordinary house current or its own battery power. Constructed with a sturdy, enameled steel case with satin brass trim and a plastic cover in maroon or forest green, it has an automatic switch that turns the set on the moment the flip-up cover opens. Control knobs are protected by the cover unless the set is in operation.

An alarm clock that's designed for cliff dwellers in a small apartment or young couples furnishing a new house on a tiny budget doubles as an occasional clock. The dial face is in tweed fabric.

This timepiece, which takes over when a living room becomes a bedroom at night, has handsome, modern lines.

A new styling of the standard iron produces, in time for Christmas giving, an iron with an open handle designed to reduce the whole task to a minimum of physical effort.

The handle fits the palm of the hand so that there's no gripping under pressure. And, because of the open handle, the iron slips easily into pockets, pleats and sleeves and thus cuts ironing time and effort.

Foot Trouble for Cops

St. Louis (AP) — Chalk up the traffic cop as a victim of this streamlined age. For, say St. Louis patrolmen, today's traffic officer just doesn't have a staisfactory place to plant his foot while writing a ticket for a motorist. No running boards, sighs Lt. J. A. McNamara, a veteran of 33 years. Things were different, he says, in the Pierce-Arrow and Stutz Bearcat day—when a cop could lecture with dignity. McNamara adds that now with the low-slung cars, the policeman has to bend over so far that a lecture just isn't worth the effort.

As Pegler Sees It

Vernons, deducted 20 per cent. The average amount distributed each week by the Littlewood pools was about 365,000 pounds. Vernons paid about 175,000 pounds. The reason why the arbitrary limit of 75,000 pounds for a single winner was set was that it was thought the exaggerated odds would tend to demoralize the people and make them think of enrichment by penny bets to the neglect of the serious things of life.

In addition to the deduction for operating expenses, the pool is tapped for 30 per cent of the gross for government taxes. And then, of course, the incomes of the promoters are subject to the confiscatory British income taxes and the "little" employes have to shower down in due proportion. So, altogether, this shapes up as an economic equivalent of a national lottery and the British government by a technicality is spared the ignominy of an appeal to this last resort of bankrupt nations. In most of our American gambling systems and devices we try to believe that the take-off is not more than 20 per cent, but the British football pools are little more than half-size by the time the winners are paid. And they are absolutely nuts about these pools. Our slot machine manufacturers were fixing their one-armed banditti to pay back between 85 and 90 per cent in the long run when the roof fell in last year. Some of the operators monkeyed with them, but that is not as simple as most people used to think it was, and I don't believe the slots in our respectable joints ever took off as much as 50 per cent.

The biggest ALARM of all...

WHEN FIRE STRIKES, you may hear one alarm... maybe a second alarm... perhaps even a third. But the biggest alarm of all is the alarm in your heart.

"Was anybody caught inside... anybody I know... hurt?... burned?... overcome? How'd it start? How much loss? What's the whole story?"

Even if you have a police pass or a good view from a roof, you still burn up with unsatisfied suspense and curiosity...

Until you see your newspaper.

You grab your paper and all the answers are there. First, in complete detail, full of local color—as it never could be anywhere else.

You knew it would all be there. Together with all the other news to be found anywhere that matters to you. Plus a hundred things you don't find anywhere else.

It doesn't take a fire. You can be just as wrought up tomorrow about a plan in the town council to widen your street. You never know what's coming... so you read your newspaper every day.

Everybody else is just like you. Everybody reads the newspaper every day. If one thing doesn't stir them—it's another. To a thrifty housewife, the fire sale can be just as important as the fire.

That's why when you have something to sell, the newspaper is the one place to reach all the people all the time.

Loans Explained To Farmers in 4 Counties of Area

How to obtain and use production and subsistence loans was explained to farmers of Ulster and three neighboring counties in a series of recent meetings it was announced today by the Farmers' Home Administration.

F. A. Norman, county supervisor of the organization for Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Sullivan counties, said that there was full discussion of the Magnuson Bill or Public Law 123 passed by the 82nd Congress.

This law increased the size of initial loans and total loans to applicants for operating purposes. These loans are known as production and subsistence loans and the primary object is to help eligible applicants become successful farmers. Through Farmers' Home Administration credit and guidance, borrowers will be assisted and encouraged to make full and efficient use of their land and labor resources. Greater emphasis will be placed on adjustment type credit and annual operating loans will be restricted to emergency needs caused by natural calamities.

To be eligible for a loan from the Farmers' Home Administration, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must receive the major portion of his income from farming and devote the major portion of his time to farming and have the use of land and buildings that can be developed into a full time economic farming enterprise. Loans cannot be made to part time farmers. No loan can be made to an applicant who can secure the needed credit from other regular credit sources at terms common in his locality.

What May Be Bought

Loans can be made to purchase livestock, machinery, seed, feed, fertilizer, necessary home equipment and medical needs, and minor repairs and building improvements. Production and subsistence loan funds cannot be used to purchase a passenger automobile, to pay unsecured notes or open accounts, to pay current taxes nor to refinance household goods.

Initial loans of over $7,000 cannot be made but if additional funds are needed, a loan of not over $3,000 can be made 120 days after the date of the initial loan. No loan can be made that will cause a borrower to have a total indebtedness to the Farmers' Home Administration of over $10,000.

The loan can be repaid over a period up to seven years and interest is charged on the unpaid balance at five per cent per year.

Loans are made with the advice of a local county committee who have to certify as to the eligibility of the applicant.

U. S. Insures Loans

The Farmers' Home Administration also makes loans under the farm ownership program for the purchase, repair and development, and the enlargement of farms. These loans are made either with direct government funds or under the insured mortgage program. Under the insured mortgage program, local banks, savings and loan associations, institutions or private individuals may provide the funds and have the loan fully insured by the government.

The Housing Act of 1949 also authorizes the Farmers' Home Administration to make loans to farm owners for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings.

The Farmers' Home Administration office at 25 East O'Reilly street serves the counties of Dutchess, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster, and residents of these counties may file applications at the Kingston office.

Information on the services of the Farmers' Home Administration is also available from the local county committeemen who are: Dutchess county — Clifford Buck, Arthur Hoose, John Ronner; Greene county—Leland Cole, Alex Parks, Milton Goslee; Sullivan county — Louis Komancheck, Andrew Schoonmaker, Edwin von Bergen; Ulster county — Frank Aldrich, Myron Boice, Edward Wood.

Doctors Approve Fluorine in Water

Chicago, Nov. 30 (AP)—Treatment of drinking water supplies with fluorine to combat tooth decay was approved today by the American Medical Association.

The fluoridation process has been hailed by the American Dental Association and several public health groups on the basis of tests which have been in operation for up to more than four years in 140 communities.

The AMA approval was announced today in the association's journal after investigation of the clinical results of the city water supply experiments by its Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry and its Council on Foods and Nutrition.

The AMA said "the councils believe that the use of drinking water containing up to one part per million of fluoride is safe. However, the use of products which are naturally high in fluoride content, such as bone meal tablets, or of lozenges, dentifrices or chewing gum to which fluoride has been added should be avoided where the drinking water has been fluoridated."

Too much fluoride intake, it was explained, may result in mottling of the teeth.

"In cases where fluoridation has been carried out for three or four years there has been a general reduction of decay in the teeth of younger children," the AMA said.

"Statistics show that fluoridation has resulted in a reduction in tooth decay of from 35 to more than 50 per cent."

Multi-Million Will Is Probated

Bartow, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—The will disposing the multi-million dollar estate of William P. McDonald, who died November 20, was filed for probate yesterday.

McDonald, who built many miles of Florida and Canadian highways, died at his mountain lake home near Lake Wales. He also was a citrus operator.

The will, filed with County Judge C. M. Wiggins, provides:

That one-fourth of the estate go to his widow, Mrs. Adelaide S. McDonald, and one-fourth to Mrs. McDonald to furnish her a monthly income.

Each of three daughters was willed $300,000. They are Mrs. Ruth E. Hald of Douglaston, L. I., N. Y.; Mrs. Hazel M. Hamill of Fort Worth, Texas, and Sister Regina Immaculee of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, West Chester, Pa.

A $2,000,000 "William P. McDonald charitable" trust was provided for the exclusive use of "religious, educational and charitable non-profit purposes under Catholic auspices" at the discretion of the estate's executors.

A $300,000 trust fund and additional needed was set up to provide a $500 monthly income for life to his brother, John I. McDonald of Coral Gables, Fla.

Two of his sisters, Mrs. Catherine Stanton of Philadelphia and Mrs. Thomas Dobbings of Lakeland, Fla., were given $150 monthly incomes for life. Another sister, Mrs. A. D. Tierney of Lakeland, received $75 a month for life.

His brother and three sisters also received flat amounts of $10,000 each. McDonald also willed Tillie C. McDonald (relationship not shown) of Roslyn, L. I., $20,000.

Sums of $15,000 each were given to Kathleen McDonald Scholz of Port Washington, N. Y.; Rita McDonald Duggan of Roslyn Heights, L. I., Doris McDonald Walsh of Garden City, N. Y. These were not further identified.

The will also provided $4,000 each to Mrs. Lillian Condon, Mrs. Josephine Ferber, Mrs. Anne Patterson and Mrs. Mary Hetherton, all of Floral Park, L. I., but relationship was not shown.

A gift of $100,000 also went to the sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The remainder of the estate is to be divided equally among his three daughters.

Italian Non-Coms

Rome, (AP)—The Italian army is to have non-commissioned officers for the first time in history. Special courses will start this year to train 21-year-old boys with good school grades who have finished at least five of the eight years of high school. After six months in a special school, where they will be promoted to corporals, they will spend six months in a regiment as sergeants. Special provisions for better pay have been approved and a $85 discharge bonus will be given at the end of their year of service.

Fitzpatrick to Ask Confidence Vote; To Quit, if Denied

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick — meeting the challenge of foes within the party seeking to oust him—will ask the state committee for a vote of confidence.

"I am sure this will be forthcoming," he says. "If not, I will resign immediately."

Fitzpatrick announced last night he had issued a call for a meeting of the Democratic state committee here Dec. 7. He said the issue of his chairmanship should "be brought to a head immediately."

The chairman acted after a petition for a special ouster meeting against him next month began circulating among the 300 members of the committee.

The movement against Fitzpatrick, chairman since 1944, is led by Daniel P. O'Connell, Albany county Democratic chairman.

Will Clarify Matter

O'Connell said in Albany last night that the meeting called by Fitzpatrick for 11 a. m. (EST) Dec. 7 at party state headquarters at the Hotel [illegible]more "will clarify the matter."

O'Connell, the most powerful Democratic leader upstate, had said previously:

"We need state leadership. One look at our past record will make that obvious. It's time we changed and got some new blood down there at headquarters."

Dissatisfaction with Fitzpatrick reportedly has risen since Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's decisive defeat of Rep. Walter A. Lynch, New York city Democrat, in the 1950 gubernatorial election.

Fitzpatrick was reported by friends to have been planning recently to resign and devote all his time to business, but to have decided to accept the challenge to his chairmanship.

Foes of Fitzpatrick are aiming also at Benjamin Wetzler, of New York city, secretary of the state committee. There was no comment from him.

Among those mentioned as possible successors to Fitzpatrick are Thomas J. Cullen, Orange county party leader; William B. Mahoney, Erie county Democratic chief, and Richard W. Balch, of Utica, who was defeated last year as candidate for lieutenant governor.

Canine Paratroops

Manila, (AP) — The Philippines army is preparing to train a new paratroop team of dogs to aid airborne units in fighting the elusive Communist Huks. Dogs presently are assisting army forces in tracking down Reds in thick jungle areas. The new K-9 airborne unit will be 160 strong and include German Shepherd police dogs imported from Japan and a mixed assortment of 10 other dogs. American military advisers now are training recruits for a full airborne battalion of 500 men. The para-dogs will be attached to the battalion.

One-Room School Decline

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—There is a direct relationship between increased farm mechanization and a decline in the number of one-room rural houses. Modern farm machinery is enabling individuals to farm larger acreages, so that larger farms are becoming the rule. This means, of course, fewer farm families and children in any rural area.

Electricity Is a Gift To Turn On--Or Tune In

By GAILE DUGAS

Electrical gifts are high on the nation's shopping list every Christmas. It isn't just the initial pleasure they give; it's the knowledge that for many Christmases after, they'll be making life easier and more pleasant.

New for shoppers this Christmas is an electric sheet that's both practical and pretty. Made of mercerized broadcloth in decorator colors, it has single or dual controls.

It's washable and compact enough to pack easily in an overnight bag. The control case goes either on a night table or in a special metal hanger that clips to the headboard of the bed.

A brand new waffle baker, one with 81 square inches of griddle area, will bake four king-size waffles at a cooking. Any waffle lover will be won over by the grids, which require no greasing or breaking-in.

Further, there's a built-in batter rim to catch the overflowing and prevent it from dripping onto the table top. The baker also has five automatically controlled settings that offer a choice of browning texture from light and tender to crispy and dark.

New, and medium-priced, is a portable radio that plays on ordinary house current or its own battery power. Constructed with a sturdy, enameled steel case with satin brass trim and a plastic cover in maroon or forest green, it has an automatic switch that turns the set on the moment the flip-up cover opens. Control knobs are protected by the cover unless the set is in operation.

An alarm clock that's designed for cliff dwellers in a small apartment or young couples furnishing a new house on a tiny budget doubles as an occasional clock. The dial face is in tweed fabric.

This timepiece, which takes over when a living room becomes a bedroom at night, has handsome, modern lines.

The handle fits the palm of the hand so that there's no gripping under pressure. And, because of the open handle, the iron slips easily into pockets, pleats and sleeves and thus cuts ironing time and effort.

Senator Prods U. S. State Department In Case of Oatis

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator O'Conor (D.-Md.) sharply prodded the State Department today for action to get Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis freed from a Communist prison in Czechoslovakia.

He termed the handling of the case "a most important phase of the current psychological warfare" and urged that steps be taken to make clear that the U. S. will not tolerate continued inaction by the Czechs.

O'Conor made public a letter to Secretary of State Acheson saying "that this is a proper time to reappraise what has been and is being done to secure Mr. Oatis' release, in the light of the apparent failure of such efforts."

The department, without giving details, has said it is doing all it can to obtain Oatis' release.

The western world has denounced as a travesty of justice the Czech Communist government's conviction of Oatis on spy charges. He was sentenced last July 4 to serve 10 years in a Czech prison. He had been arrested April 23.

Offers Resolutions

O'Conor has offered resolutions in the Senate proposing trade reprisals against the Communists, an appeal to the United Nations and retaliatory actions against foreign Communist news correspondents. Some trade measures against the Czechs have been taken.

"Renewed activity in this connection by the responsible government departments at this time would, I know, be thoroughly in line with the desires of the great mass of our people," the senator told Acheson.

In his letter to the secretary, O'Conor called attention to statements by Robert A. Vogeler in a magazine article (Saturday Evening Post) that a tougher attitude by this government would have sped his own release from a Communist jail and averted Oatis' arrest.

Vogeler is the American business man who served 17 months of a 15-year sentence in Communist Hungary, also after a "spy" trial, before the U. S. government arranged for his release by making concessions to Hungary. Vogeler has termed the concessions "humiliating."

Beer, who lives on the island off the Southeast Australia coast, raises bees and his family uses about 60 pounds per year for each of its five members. The average American family uses one and two-thirds pounds per person per year. Boy, 15, Admits He Wounded Deer

Rochester, Nov. 30 (AP)—A 15-year-old boy has admitted wounding Lambie, the "expectant mother" Japanese deer, according to Police Chief Henry C. Schroth of the suburban town of Gates.

The deer was felled Sunday in a pasture owned by Charles Weylman. She is one of four pet deer kept by him.

Lambie still is in critical condition. She has been given a blood transfusion, penicillin and tetanus shots—and plenty of loving care from neighborhood children.

Schroth said last night the boy, whose name was not revealed, was charged with juvenile delinquency and released in the custody of his parents. He will be brought to juvenile court, Schroth said.

The police chief said the boy told him he and several companions were rabbit hunting in a field near Lambie's romping pasture. They had a shotgun owned by one of the boys.

Schroth quoted the youth as saying:

"I was in the field with the gun and then I heard a noise behind me. I turned around and fired and one of the other kids came up and looked at the deer and said 'you've shot one of Mr. Weylman's pets.'"

New Economic Boss

Saigon, Vietnam (AP) — A longtime American diplomat is the new "boss" of the United States economic mission in the Associated States of Indochina. He is David Williamson, of Chestertown, Md. He had long service with the State Department and immediately before World War 2 was attached to the American embassy in Rome. He succeeded Robert Blum, former Yale professor, as ECA chief here. Blum now is in Washington directing Far East affairs for ECA.

Measles Increasing Outside of New York

Albany, Nov. 30 (AP) — Measles are on the rise in counties outside of New York city — but there's no epidemic.

The State Health Department said yesterday that 1,057 cases were reported in October, and 1,663 cases listed through Nov. 27 for the 57 counties outside the metropolitan area.

The October total has been topped only three times—in 1913, 1919 and 1923, a spokesman said.

The upswing is "unusual," he said, but "such a seasonal pattern is not necessarily a harbinger of a large epidemic year to follow."

Moore Proposes Review of Welfare Financing System

New York, Nov. 30 (AP) — Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, saying there is "public dissatisfaction with the total cost of relief," proposes that New York state review its welfare financing system.

Some local administrators, he says, believe that welfare services could be provided at less cost if localities had more freedom of action.

Moore made the statements yesterday in addressing the annual conference of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers. The group is composed of legal officers of 635 municipalities in the United States, its territories and Canada.

The lieutenant governor told the 300 delegates that the people of New York state "have a feeling that the state and local governments are spending more for welfare than is needed to help the unfortunate people who are unemployed."

Moore said the problem is complicated by the fact that welfare contributions come from federal, state and local governments. He added that local administrators often attempt to "excuse administrative costs by claiming federal and state regulations require them to provide services which are more expensive than necessary."

Carolina Tobacco

Raleigh (AP) — Tar Heel tobacco growers today face one of the greatest challenges in years, tobacco specialists at North Carolina University say. Diseases, notably "black shank", have hit the flue-cured crop in North Carolina harder this summer than ever before. A large number of growers tried to get by with non-resistant varieties and in many cases the results were disastrous. Research is being continued and every effort is being made to find varieties of good quality, good yields, and higher disease resistance. Tobacco experts recommend planting more acreage with a strongly resistant variety of tobacco known as "Dixie Bright, 101."

Senator Prods U. S. State Department In Case of Oatis

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator O'Conor (D.-Md.) sharply prodded the State Department today for action to get Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis freed from a Communist prison in Czechoslovakia.

He termed the handling of the case "a most important phase of the current psychological warfare" and urged that steps be taken to make clear that the U. S. will not tolerate continued inaction by the Czechs.

O'Conor made public a letter to Secretary of State Acheson saying "that this is a proper time to reappraise what has been and is being done to secure Mr. Oatis' release, in the light of the apparent failure of such efforts."

The department, without giving details, has said it is doing all it can to obtain Oatis' release.

The western world has denounced as a travesty of justice the Czech Communist government's conviction of Oatis on spy charges. He was sentenced last July 4 to serve 10 years in a Czech prison. He had been arrested April 23.

Offers Resolutions

O'Conor has offered resolutions in the Senate proposing trade reprisals against the Communists, an appeal to the United Nations and retaliatory actions against foreign Communist news correspondents. Some trade measures against the Czechs have been taken.

"Renewed activity in this connection by the responsible government departments at this time would, I know, be thoroughly in line with the desires of the great mass of our people," the senator told Acheson.

In his letter to the secretary, O'Conor called attention to statements by Robert A. Vogeler in a magazine article (Saturday Evening Post) that a tougher attitude by this government would have sped his own release from a Communist jail and averted Oatis' arrest.

Vogeler is the American business man who served 17 months of a 15-year sentence in Communist Hungary, also after a "spy" trial, before the U. S. government arranged for his release by making concessions to Hungary. Vogeler has termed the concessions "humiliating."

RIFTON

Rifton, Nov. 30—The Rifton Methodist Church will hold Sunday school at 11 a. m. and the regular church service at 2:30 p. m. each Sunday under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Herron.

Several cases of measles have been reported in the village.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rifton Fire Department will hold a Christmas party Dec. 10.

The Ladies' Aid of the Rifton Methodist Church will hold a Christmas party and pot-luck supper Dec. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Langenegger have returned from a visit to Long Island. Mr. Langenegger has purchased the McMahon house next to the Rock School.

Sweet-Toothed Family

Columbus, O. (AP)—A honey of a family in distant Tasmania is looking around for new uses for the sweet stuff. Harold R. Beer, who lives on the island off the Southeast Australia coast, raises bees and his family uses about 60 pounds per year for each of its five members. The average American family uses one and two-thirds pounds per person per year. In order to get further mileage out of their crop, Beer recently wrote the Ohio State University extension service to get their booklet, "Honey and Honey Cookery."

Oklahoma City (AP) — L. H. Bengston, a staunch Oklahoma A & M alumnus, has been faithfully attending Aggie home football games this year. And his companions have been A. O. Boy, 15, Admits He Wounded Deer

Rochester, Nov. 30 (AP)—A 15-year-old boy has admitted wounding Lambie, the "expectant mother" Japanese deer, according to Police Chief Henry C. Schroth of the suburban town of Gates.

The deer was felled Sunday in a pasture owned by Charles Weylman. She is one of four pet deer kept by him.

Lambie still is in critical condition. She has been given a blood transfusion, penicillin and tetanus shots—and plenty of loving care from neighborhood children.

Schroth said last night the boy, whose name was not revealed, was charged with juvenile delinquency and released in the custody of his parents. He will be brought to juvenile court, Schroth said.

The police chief said the boy told him he and several companions were rabbit hunting in a field near Lambie's romping pasture. They had a shotgun owned by one of the boys.

Schroth quoted the youth as saying:

"I was in the field with the gun and then I heard a noise behind me. I turned around and fired and one of the other kids came up and looked at the deer and said 'you've shot one of Mr. Weylman's pets.'"

Ex-Record Breaker

Rome, (AP)—The man who gave Italy her only speed record for the North Atlantic crossing by ship is now retired on an $11 a month pension. This is the typical pension some 20,000 Italian merchant seamen who sailed the seas for at least two decades before being retired. Francesco Tarabotto, former captain of the "Rex" luxury liner, guided the "Rex" across the ocean in 1933 in four days 13 hours and 58 minutes—breaking the record held at that time by the German transatlantic liner, Bremen.

Weeks before Christmas, they've ticked the last name off their Christmas shopping list, bought and wrapped the last present for children and grandchildren. "No two bows alike," brags Mrs. Kreager, who started Christmas shopping away back in October. When you're out collecting bruises to buy that last gift on Christmas Eve, make a note to make a New Year's resolution to do your next year's Yule shopping the way the Kreagers did.

Taft Challenges Stassen Control

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) today challenged former Gov. Harold E. Stassen's control of the Minnesota delegation to the 1952 GOP presidential nominating convention.

Taft, flying to Cincinnati, told a reporter in a telephone interview before taking off that he has authorized Roy E. Dunn, Minnesota national committeeman, to conduct his campaign for delegates in Minnesota.

The Ohioan thus reversed the political field on Stassen, who challenged Taft's control of the Ohio delegation in 1948 and won 9 delegates of the total of 53 assigned to that state in that year. Stassen did not try for all 53. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York won the 1948 nomination, defeating both Taft and Stassen.

Taft said his entry into the contest for Minnesota's delegation does not mean his name will go on the ballot of the presidential preferential primary there March 18. The preferential primary is a popularity contest in which Stassen, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and others may be entered.

The winner of this contest does not necessarily get control of the 28-man Minnesota delegation.

Barefooted Cleric Walks 14 Miles to Get Aid for Two

Ellenburgh, Wash., Nov. 30 (AP)—A minister injured in a plane crash hiked barefooted 14 miles through snow and water in the Cascade mountains to bring word that led to the rescue of his two badly hurt companions.

The Rev. Harold W. Borhauer, 29, of Wilbur, Wash., his feet half-frozen and cut, stumbled into a logging camp near Easton yesterday and told of his friends' plight.

Borhauer suffered two broken ribs and an injured left arm in the crash Wednesday in the rugged Lost Lake country near Snoqualmie Pass.

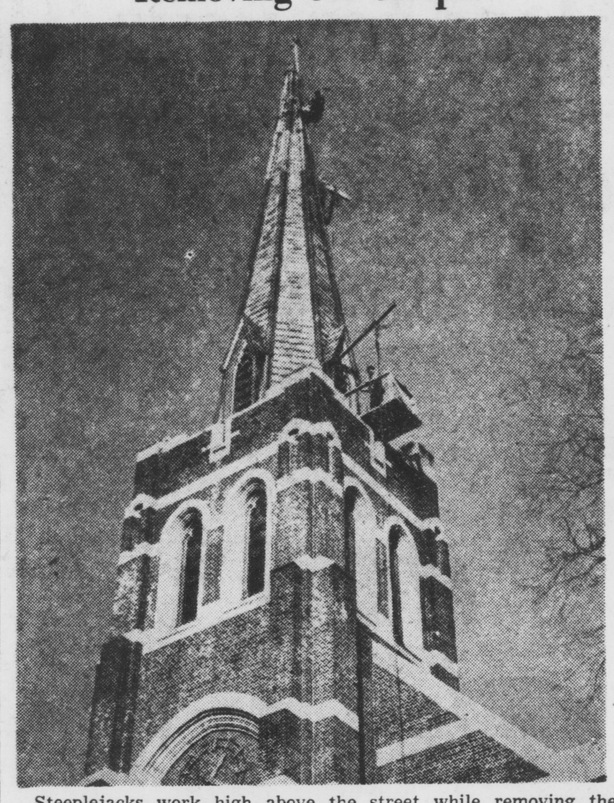

Left on the trail were pilot Paul Gemberlin, Spokane, Wash., contractor, and Harold Lanphere, a parishioner of Rev. Borhauer's at Wilbur. They were left under a tree when Gemberlin's injuries forced him to stop after hiking five miles.

Last night, a state patrol rescue party reached both men and reported they were "stretcher cases."

The Presbyterian pastor lost his loafer shoes early on the trek and his sox wore out soon after. He walked much of the way in a creek, which helped restore the circulation to his nearly frozen feet. The last two miles he could only take steps of six inches, and then only about 10 at a time before resting.

The trio's light plane crashed after icing up and going into a spin.

orange grove several miles from the hospital.

Mrs. Judd killed her Phoenix roomates, Agnes Anne LeRoi, and Hedvig Samuelson, on Oct. 16, 1931.

Their bodies expertly cut into pieces, were crammed into a trunk and a suitcase and shipped to Los Angeles by train. The contents were discovered when a baggage room employe noticed blood seeping from the trunk.

Mrs. Judd eluded capture for a week, then surrendered to police in an undertaking parlor.

She was convicted of murder Feb. 8, 1932, and was sentenced to be hanged. The prosecution contended she killed Miss LeRoi and Miss Samuelson in a jealous rage over the attentions of a prominent Phoenix business man.

Mrs. Judd escaped twice in the fall of 1939, remaining at liberty six days the first time and 12 days the second.

60 Millions Raised

Hong Kong, Nov. 30 (AP)—Official Red China reports today said the national subscription for weapons and planes had netted $60,000,00 in East China, 11 per cent over quota.

When Japan was defeated, the nation's inner life "went to pieces and left a vacuum," Dr. Jones said. "Into that vacuum are moving communism and Christianity. For the time being Christianity has the inside track. Japan is the ripest evangelistic field the church has faced in a thousand years," he said, adding that in the three months he spent in Japan this year, more than 22,000 persons made decisions to become Christians. This figure included many prominent people he said.

The final service in the week-long Preaching Mission by Dr. Jones will be held tonight at St. James Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. His topic will be, "My Personal Spiritual Experience."

Sees His Presents, Relapse Is Fatal

Evansville, Nov. 30 (AP)—Christmas for Kenny Lowey came earlier than he needed it last year and earlier than he wanted it this year.

Kenny's parents knew more than a year ago that he had leukemia. The doctors said the nine-year-old boy probably wouldn't live through the winter, and that was why Christmas was early.

Kenny more than doubled the time they allotted him, but last week he had a relapse. His mother trimmed a tree and brought out the presents Tuesday. The boy looked at the presents, and he knew why they were ready so early, but he said, "tie them up again until Christmas."

He slipped fast after that. Yesterday he told his mother, "I don't want to leave you and daddy, but I'm ready." Two hours later he died.

AP Corrects Story On Vehicle Fees

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—The 1952 state registration fee for trucks, trailers and suburbans will be computed on the basis of 50 cents a hundred pounds of each vehicle's maximum gross weight.

The fee has been based on the vehicle's unladen weight, at the rate of 80 cents a hundred pounds. The 1951 legislature changed the method of computing the fee.

An Associated Press story yesterday erred in saying that the 1952 fee for such vehicles was 40 cents a hundred pounds.

In 1949 in the United States, there were 1,585,440 marriages compared to 386,000 divorces.

Government Arsenal Explodes at Pusan

Pusan, Korea, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Korean government arsenal here blew up today in a series of awesome blasts that spread damage across an area four miles wide.

American soldiers housed in the general area escaped injury but U. S. Army authorities said six Koreans were killed and at least 50 were injured.

Korean authorities said 48 homes were destroyed, 100 others were badly damaged and 400 more were damaged in some degree. They estimated total damage at $20,000,000.

Civilian and army rescue workers dug in the ruins searching for, possibly more victims.

U. S. Orders Check On Some Services

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The government today ordered a nationwide check to see whether there is compliance with price regulations by such services as laundries, cleaning and repair shops, parking lots, golf courses and juke box operators.

Price Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) agents will check particularly to see whether prices have been posted as required and whether any firms have raised prices unlawfully.

The regulation on such services has been in effect since May 16.

Among establishments coming under the regulation are linen supply and diaper services, shoe repair and hat cleaning shops, cleaning and dyeing plants, radio and television service and repair shops, auto repair shops, bowling alleys and billiard and pool parlors, and auto storage firms.

Beauty and barber shops are exempt from price control.

Taft Expected . . .

regret at Wherry's death. He is expected to maintain silence until after Wherry's funeral in Pawnee City, Neb., Monday.

Wherry's death left open the minority floor leader's job—a job carrying with it the prospect that its holder, if the GOP should win the presidency next year, would become the Senate spokesman for a Republican administration.

Two Possible Candidates

These two possible candidates to succeed Wherry's emerged immediately:

Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who has called himself as an "internationalist" and is supporting Eisenhower. Saltonstall, who was Wherry's assistant, declined comment.

Senator William Knowland of California, one of the leading critics of the Truman administration's handling of Far Eastern affairs, who is supporting Gov. Earl Warren in the latter's active bid for the GOP nomination.

Taft might easily add a third of his own choosing — or he might back either Saltonstall or Knowland in a move to avoid a party-splitting fight. Senators Dirksen of Illinois or Brewster of Maine, outright Taft backers, or Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa were mentioned as possible candidates.

Backing for Saltonstall

Republicans who are trying to get their party's nomination for Eisenhower lined up immediately behind Saltonstall. Senator Duff (R-Pa.) and others in this camp made in clear, however, they had no particular objections to Konwland.

Knowland was the candidate of a group of insurgents when Wherry was chosen floor leader in January, 1949, by a 28 to 14 vote. Included in this group were Saltonstall and Senators Ives of New York, Lodge of Massachusetts and Morse of Oregon, all now plugging for Eisenhower. Lodge was the group's candidate for chairmanship of the GOP Policy Committee; he lost to Taft.

Lodge is now busy as national chairman of the Eisenhower-for-President Movement, and said that "not under any circumstances would he seek Wherry's post." Taft's policy chairmanship is not at stake, since he was picked without opposition for a two-year term last January.

Lodge said in a radio broadcast (Mutual) last night he believes Eisenhower will be nominated by the Republicans even if the general can't leave his North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) command before the time of the July GOP convention.

Prudential Says Service to Go On

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Prudential Insurance Company said today it would "continue all essential services" to its 28,000,000 policy holders in 35 states during a strike of 15,500 of its agents starting tomorrow.

The agents are seeking higher pay. Contract negotiations between the company and the AFL Insurance Agents International Union were broken off Tuesday.

Carrol M. Shanks, Prudential president, told a news conference today that about half the policy holders would be affected directly by the strike.

He said they would be notified by mail, and through newspaper advertisements and radio, that they could pay their premiums by mail or in person at company offices.

There's Style for Every Occasion

Warm footwear for winter weather can be both pretty and protective. Boots shown here are made in high fashion colors. Before and after skiing (left), there's a rubber over-the-sock boot that has a wool fleece lining for warmth. It's made in holly red, pine green, sable brown and fashion black. Rubber boot (upper center) is light and bright, fits over wedge shoes but can be worn with higher heels, too. Velveteen boots (lower center) have wool fleece lining and electrified shearling cuffs. Dressy boots in velvet (upper right) are fur cuffed, having slanted slide fastener for easy slip-on. Nylon boots (lower right) contain some rayon, come in beige, are lined in all-wool alpaca. Cuff and instep trim is sable brown wool.

They hate overshoes, they say. They are awkward and unbecoming. They'd rather catch a cold than be seen in overshoes.

Overshoes, as such, no longer exist. In their place are fashion-right snow boots, in many designs and in high fashion colors. There are boots for every purpose, for every costume, for every liking.

Boots in nylon-rayon gabardine provide warmth because they're lined with all-wool alpaca. And they're pretty because they have cuff and instep trim of sable brown wool.

They slip neatly over both flat heels and higher heels, thus eliminating the objection of many women that it takes a whole wardrobe of boots to accommodate every heel height in their closets.

The very sophisticated woman is likely to pick a slim velvet boot that's cuffed in fur and closed with a sleek slide fastener. While this is a dressy boot, it could be be all-purpose for city wear.

There are several boots to start a teen-ager out on the right foot. One boot in white rubber has a fleece lining and wool pile cuffs. It comes in bright colors as well and will guide a girl safely through snow, slush and rain.

A casual boot with a pixy look is right for teen-agers, too. It's designed to wear over wedge shoes but adapts itself nicely to higher heels.

The girl who earns her own living will want a boot that's fashion-right, that accommodates many heel heights, that will serve on numerous occasions.

A velveteen boot with electrified shearling cuff will solve her problem. It has wool fleece lining, closes with a slide fastener, is done in vivid colors.

Both before and after skiing, the active sportswoman needs a light, warm boot to guard her from wet and cold. A new one, in all rubber, pulls on over ski socks. This one is lined with warm fleece, and it comes in an array of colors to harmonize or contrast with colorful ski costumes.

Taft Challenges Stassen Control

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) today challenged former Gov. Harold E. Stassen's control of the Minnesota delegation to the 1952 GOP presidential nominating convention.

Taft, flying to Cincinnati, told a reporter in a telephone interview before taking off that he has authorized Roy E. Dunn, Minnesota national committeeman, to conduct his campaign for delegates in Minnesota.

The Ohioan thus reversed the political field on Stassen, who challenged Taft's control of the Ohio delegation in 1948 and won 9 delegates of the total of 53 assigned to that state in that year. Stassen did not try for all 53. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York won the 1948 nomination, defeating both Taft and Stassen.

Taft said his entry into the contest for Minnesota's delegation does not mean his name will go on the ballot of the presidential preferential primary there March 18. The preferential primary is a popularity contest in which Stassen, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and others may be entered.

The winner of this contest does not necessarily get control of the 28-man Minnesota delegation.

Barefooted Cleric Walks 14 Miles to Get Aid for Two

Ellenburgh, Wash., Nov. 30 (AP)—A minister injured in a plane crash hiked barefooted 14 miles through snow and water in the Cascade mountains to bring word that led to the rescue of his two badly hurt companions.

The Rev. Harold W. Borhauer, 29, of Wilbur, Wash., his feet half-frozen and cut, stumbled into a logging camp near Easton yesterday and told of his friends' plight.

Borhauer suffered two broken ribs and an injured left arm in the crash Wednesday in the rugged Lost Lake country near Snoqualmie Pass.

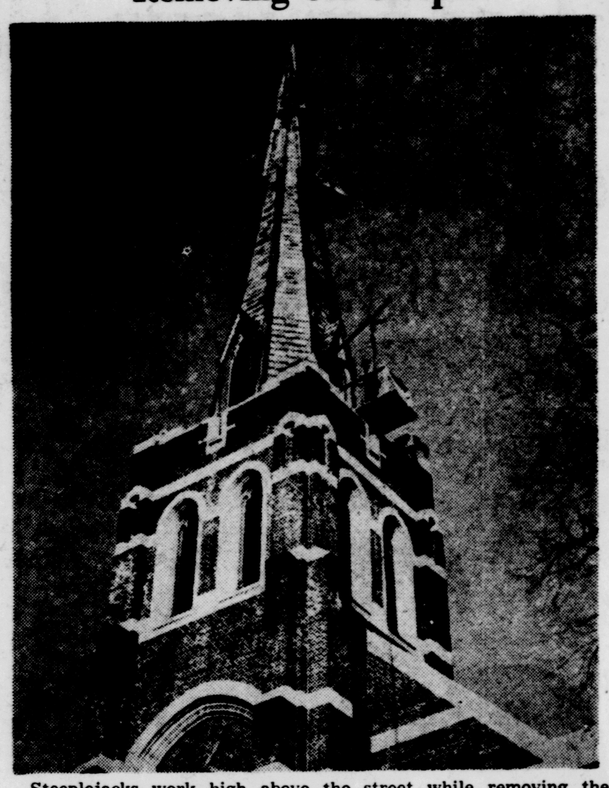

Left on the trail were pilot Paul Gemberlin, Spokane, Wash., contractor, and Harold Lanphere, a parishioner of Rev. Borhauer's at Wilbur. They were left under a tree when Gemberlin's injuries forced him to stop after hiking five miles.

Last night, a state patrol rescue party reached both men and reported they were "stretcher cases."

The Presbyterian pastor lost his loafer shoes early on the trek and his sox wore out soon after. He walked much of the way in a creek, which helped restore the circulation to his nearly frozen feet. The last two miles he could only take steps of six inches, and then only about 10 at a time before resting.

The trio's light plane crashed after icing up and going into a spin.

Winnie Ruth Judd

orange grove several miles from the hospital.

Mrs. Judd killed her Phoenix roomates, Agnes Anne LeRoi, and Hedvig Samuelson, on Oct. 16, 1931.

Their bodies expertly cut into pieces, were crammed into a trunk and a suitcase and shipped to Los Angeles by train. The contents were discovered when a baggage room employe noticed blood seeping from the trunk.

Mrs. Judd eluded capture for a week, then surrendered to police in an undertaking parlor.

She was convicted of murder Feb. 8, 1932, and was sentenced to be hanged. The prosecution contended she killed Miss LeRoi and Miss Samuelson in a jealous rage over the attentions of a prominent Phoenix business man.

Mrs. Judd escaped twice in the fall of 1939, remaining at liberty six days the first time and 12 days the second.

60 Millions Raised

Hong Kong, Nov. 30 (AP)—Official Red China reports today said the national subscription for weapons and planes had netted $60,000,00 in East China, 11 per cent over quota.

Lazaro Cardenas was the first president of Mexico to be elected to a six-year term.

United Church . . .

have been merged into India, and the right to profess, practice and propogate one's faith has been guaranteed," he reported.

When Japan was defeated, the nation's inner life "went to pieces and left a vacuum," Dr. Jones said. "Into that vacuum are moving communism and Christianity. For the time being Christianity has the inside track. Japan is the ripest evangelistic field the church has faced in a thousand years," he said, adding that in the three months he spent in Japan this year, more than 22,000 persons made decisions to become Christians. This figure included many prominent people he said.

The final service in the week-long Preaching Mission by Dr. Jones will be held tonight at St. James Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. His topic will be, "My Personal Spiritual Experience."

J. A. Cooke Dies

Monticello, Nov. 30 (AP)—John A. Cooke, 78, former mayor of Monticello and one of the founders of the Hammond & Cooke department store here, died at Hamilton Avenue Hospital last night.

At least 75 cents of every dollar consumers spend for pork goes for cuts that make up less than half of a hog's live weight.

Sees His Presents, Relapse Is Fatal

Evansville, Nov. 30 (AP)—Christmas for Kenny Lowey came earlier than he needed it last year and earlier than he wanted it this year.

Kenny's parents knew more than a year ago that he had leukemia. The doctors said the nine-year-old boy probably wouldn't live through the winter, and that was why Christmas was early.

Kenny more than doubled the time they allotted him, but last week he had a relapse. His mother trimmed a tree and brought out the presents Tuesday. The boy looked at the presents, and he knew why they were ready so early, but he said, "tie them up again until Christmas."

He slipped fast after that. Yesterday he told his mother, "I don't want to leave you and daddy, but I'm ready." Two hours later he died.

AP Corrects Story On Vehicle Fees

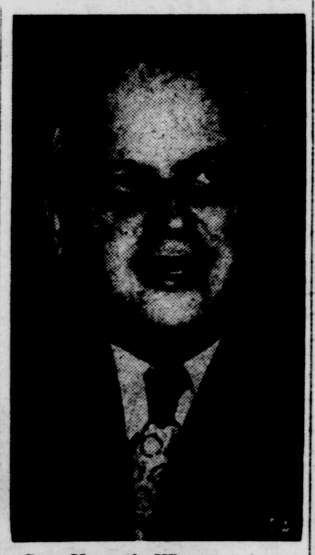

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—The 1952 state registration fee for trucks, trailers and suburbans will be computed on the basis of 50 cents a hundred pounds of each vehicle's maximum gross weight.

The fee has been based on the vehicle's unladen weight, at the rate of 80 cents a hundred pounds. The 1951 legislature changed the method of computing the fee.

An Associated Press story yesterday erred in saying that the 1952 fee for such vehicles was 40 cents a hundred pounds.

In 1949 in the United States, there were 1,585,440 marriages compared to 386,000 divorces.

Senate Leader Dies

Sen. Kenneth Wherry (above), the Republican floor leader from Nebraska, died, Nov. 29, in the George Washington Hospital, Washington. Wherry, 59, died of pneumonia, his doctors said.

Government Arsenal Explodes at Pusan

Pusan, Korea, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Korean government arsenal here blew up today in a series of awesome blasts that spread damage across an area four miles wide.

American soldiers housed in the general area escaped injury but U. S. Army authorities said six Koreans were killed and at least 50 were injured.

Korean authorities said 48 homes were destroyed, 100 others were badly damaged and 400 more were damaged in some degree. They estimated total damage at $20,000,000.

Civilian and army rescue workers dug in the ruins searching for, possibly more victims.

U. S. Orders Check On Some Services

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The government today ordered a nationwide check to see whether there is compliance with price regulations by such services as laundries, cleaning and repair shops, parking lots, golf courses and juke box operators.

Price Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) agents will check particularly to see whether prices have been posted as required and whether any firms have raised prices unlawfully.

The regulation on such services has been in effect since May 16.

Among establishments coming under the regulation are linen supply and diaper services, shoe repair and hat cleaning shops, cleaning and dyeing plants, radio and television service and repair shops, auto repair shops, bowling alleys and billiard and pool parlors, and auto storage firms.

Beauty and barber shops are exempt from price control.

Will Plan Christmas Party at TB Hospital

A meeting of the planning committee of the Patients Service Group will meet at the office of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association Monday, at 5 p. m. Arrangements will be completed at this time for the Christmas party to be given for the patients at the Ulster County TB Hospital through the sponsorship of this group which represents many civic organizations in the city and Ulster county.

Each year, since 1910, when the first tuberculosis hospital was opened, the patients have been given a party with gifts, refreshments, and everything that goes with Christmas. Each year, too, many organizations and individuals in the community have made themselves a part of this annual affair by their contributions and help.

Those wishing to take a part in this program may contact or forward checks to the chairman, Miss Janice Baker, 123 South Manor avenue.

Solian-Cozza

Miss Virginia Cozza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cozza, 33 Gill street, was married to Metro Solian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Metro Solian, Saugerties. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, officiated at the ceremony.

MRS. RAYMOND HENDRICKS

Michaeline Amarello Married Saturday to R. Hendricks, USN

The marriage of Miss Michaeline Amarello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Amarello, 64 Prince street, to Raymond Hendricks, seaman apprentice in the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hendricks, 599 Abeel street, took place in St. Mary's R. C. Church, Saturday, Nov. 24, at 2:30 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Farrelly. A reception for 100 guests followed at the Pleasure Yacht, Eddyville.

Traditional wedding music was played by Ted Riccobono, organist and Miss Barbara Bruck, soloist, sang the Ave Maria. Pompons were used for the church decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin and finger tip veil attached to a crown of seed pearls.

Miss Rita Amarello was her sister's maid of honor and the Misses Theresa Fondino, 342 Broadway and Josie Perry, 141 Washington avenue were bridesmaids.

Kenneth Hendricks, USN, was his brother's best man. The ushers were Henry C. Amell, 46 Franklin street and Albert Hendricks, St. Remy.

For their wedding journey, the couple went to Newport, R. I., and Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Hendricks graduated from Kingston High School, class of '50, and is employed by the New York Telephone Company.

Seaman Hendricks graduated from Kingston High School in 1949. He has just completed training at the Storekeeper's School in Newport, R. I. and expects to be assigned as storekeeper in Brooklyn.

Elks Announce Testimonial for Newkirk Dec. 12th

A testimonial dinner in honor of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has been announced by Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks, for Wednesday, Dec. 12, at the club on Fair street.

Past Exalted Ruler James G. Connelly is chairman of the affair to take place at 6:30 p. m. for Elks and their friends.

Connelly said the event is being sponsored in accordance with the fraternity's policy of honoring Elks who serve in public office throughout the nation.

In one of their recent monthly magazines, the Elks listed members in Congress, those acting as state governors and published the number of Elks serving as mayors and as other public officials.

Newkirk, one of many Elks serving Kingston, was elected in November for his third term as mayor.

Chairman Connelly is in his cabinet, filling the post of corporation counsel.

Girl Scout News

Troop 71

Girl Scouts of Troop 71 and their leader, Mrs. Frank Graney, conducted a hike to Forsyth Park Sunday to complete the outdoor safety badge. One of the requirements for this badge is to organize and execute an outdoor fire drill. Patsy Perry and Maryann Richards were in charge of this part of the program. The troop also learned what to do if a companion became lost in a strange territory. Members enjoyed frankfurters and hamburgers and a song program. After the campsite was cleaned, the girls left for home.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM

An unbelievably dull custom is described as follows: "At all of the parties my husband and I have gone to lately, the men congregate in one room and the women in another, and I don't see my husband until it is time to go home. If I want to go to a 'hen party,' I can do this during the day. I say it is up to the host or hostess to see that this doesn't happen, but my husband says there is nothing wrong in it. I happen to like mixed company, as many of the other women do, but no one seems to be able to put a stop to it. Have you any suggestions?"

You are quite right—it is up to the hostess to go into the room where the men are, and, rounding them up, lead them back to where they belong. Or she could start bridge or canasta and send word to them to come.

Not Improper

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly settle a dispute as to whether or not it is proper to tip a soup plate at the dinner table? I have never heard of this but have been informed by several people that it is proper to do so.

Answer: To take the last one or two spoonfuls, it is not improper to lift the rim of your plate slightly on the bent forefinger of your left hand, and then dip the spoon away from you.

Repaying Mailing Charges

Dear Mrs. Post: I spent the weekend at a friend's house and after returning home I discovered that I had forgotten a pair of brand new slippers. I wrote and told my friend about it and she mailed them back to me. After I received the package, I sent her the mailing cost. Now I understand she considered this an insult. Was I wrong in what I did?

Answer: To send back a very few cents change was very petty. Had the sum been of importance, that would have been another matter.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, if you would like to know the details for a small wedding, her leaflet E-8, "Today's Typical Wedding," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Soloists Announced For Messiah Dec. 23

Soloists for the performance of Handel's Messiah on Dec. 23 in the Old Dutch Church have been announced. They are Elizabeth Larsen, soprano; Madeleine Wood, alto; John McCullough, tenor; and Allan Curtiss, bass. Accompanists will be Mrs. William Rylance, organ, and Mrs. Lester Decker, piano. Rehearsals will be resumed on Sunday, Dec. 2, at 3 p. m., in Bethany Hall of the church.

The response of the community has been most gratifying to Donald Romme, director, who states more singers in all four of the parts, but especially tenors and basses would be welcomed. Anyone interested in singing with the Community Chorus may telephone Mr. Romme at 2921-M or 6759.

MRS. EDWARD J. EDWARDS

Married

(Sterling Photo)

Miss Blanche Pruden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pruden, 17 Rogers street, was married to John Witkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Witkowski, 68 Third avenue, on Sunday, Nov. 25 in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The Rev. Joseph J. Sieczek, pastor, officiated at the ceremony.

Run on Twins

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Three sets of twin calves were born all within 10 days, on the Mauritz Lind farm near Pilot recently. The calves were born to three Swiss heifers. There were four bulls and two heifers.

Faith E. Robinson Wed To Edward Edwards In St. Joseph's

The marriage of Miss Faith E. Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Robinson, 457 Washington avenue, to Edward J. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Edwards, 59 Esopus avenue, took place on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 25, at 2 o'clock in St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor, officiated at the ceremony. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums. A reception for 45 guests was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Given in marriage by her brother, Arthur Robinson, the bride wore a white satin gown with long sleeves and train and carried a cascade of white roses.

Mrs. Werner Senor, 130 Smith avenue was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was of lime green color having a lace top and full satin skirt. A matching headpiece, lace gloves and a cascade of yellow gladioli and pompons completed her ensemble. The bridesmaids, Miss Anna Grube of 22 Taylor street and Miss Rose Berardi of East Kingston wore gowns similar to that worn by the matron of honor. Miss Grube's gown was blue and she carried pink flowers. With her gold colored gown, Miss Berardi carried blue flowers.

Werner Senor was the groom's best man. Allen J. Robinson, brother of the bride, and Albert Cross, Lincoln Park, were the ushers.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York, the couple will reside at 457 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Edwards attended Kingston High School and is employed at The Fessenden Shirt Co., Inc.

Mr. Edwards attended Kingston High School and is employed by L. C. Dixon & Son.

Late Blossoms

Halifax, N. S. (AP)—Flowers blossomed in many parts of Nova Scotia in November. Grafton residents picked pansies and buttercups, and others found daisies in bloom.

Saugerties Choir Will Sing Sunday

A program of sacred music will be presented Sunday, Dec. 2, at the Atonement Lutheran Church, in Saugerties, beginning at 7:45 p. m. The service will mark the twentieth anniversary of Donald S. Fellows as director of the choir.

Guest soloists for the occasion will be Mrs. Ray E. Fulman, soprano of Schenectady, a former member of the choir, and Hermon Dilmore, violinist, supervisor of music in the Saugerties public schools.

The Junior and Senior choirs will participate. Thomas Crosby will be at the organ and Miss Jeannette Spring at the piano.

A brief opening and closing service will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Theodore Hammer. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Finch-DeHoff

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. DeHoff of this city announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ruth Irene DeHoff, to Charles Finch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Finch of Windham, Sunday, Nov. 25, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Ira B. Holland, pastor of the Free Methodist Church officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by the Rev. H. E. Bissett.

The bride wore a street length dress of navy blue taffeta and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Donald Richardson of Diamond, Pa., was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of grey wool and a corsage of red carnations.

Edwin F. DeHoff, USN, was best man for the groom.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served for the wedding party and 30 guests.

Lorraine Donnelly Becomes Bride of Harold Kellerman

Miss Lorraine Marie Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Donnelly, 39 West Union street, was married to Harold F. Kellerman, son of Mrs. Patrick Jordan, 316 Hasbrouck avenue, and the late John Kellerman, Sr., in St. Mary's Church, on Thursday, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Edward Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono, organist, played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of slipper satin with marquisette yoke, a peplum of rose point lace cascading down the back of the dress and ending in a peacock shaped train. Her French illusion fingertip veil edged with Chantilly lace was fastened to a crown of cut beads and seed pearls.

Mrs. George Proper, 11 West Union street, was the matron of honor. Her colonial styled gown was of rose slipper satin with matching mitts and she carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. John Kellerm, Jr., 114 Newkirk avenue, and Mrs. Frank Tomaseski, 95 Elmendorf street, were their sister's bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of Skinner satin made with basque bodices, off the shoulder bertha collars with inserts of nylon net, and bouffant skirts trimmed with peplums. Small sweetheart bonnets of net and satin and bouquets of chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

John Kellerman was the groom's best man. The ushers were William Doyle, 193 Bruyn avenue, and Raymond Abbott, Troy, brother-in-law to the groom.

A reception was held for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents.

Upon their return from a trip to New York and Washington, D. C., the couple will live at 318 Hasbrouck avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a grey gabardine suit, winter white coat and black accessories.

Mrs. Kellerman graduated from St. Mary's School and is employed at the Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen.

Mr. Kellerman graduated from the Immaculate Conception school and is employed at Montgomery Ward & Co. He has served for five years with the U. S. Marine Corps.

A meeting of the planning committee of the Patients Service Group will meet at the office of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association Monday, at 5 p. m. Arrangements will be completed at this time for the Christmas party to be given for the patients at the Ulster County TB Hospital through the sponsorship of this group which represents many civic organizations in the city and Ulster county.

Each year, since 1910, when the first tuberculosis hospital was opened, the patients have been given a party with gifts, refreshments, and everything that goes with Christmas. Each year, too, many organizations and individuals in the community have made themselves a part of this annual affair by their contributions and help.

Those wishing to take a part in this program may contact or forward checks to the chairman, Miss Janice Baker, 123 South Manor avenue.

MRS. RAYMOND HENDRICKS

Michaeline Amarello Married Saturday to R. Hendricks, USN

The marriage of Miss Michaeline Amarello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Amarello, 64 Prince street, to Raymond Hendricks, seaman apprentice in the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hendricks, 599 Abeel street, took place in St. Mary's R. C. Church, Saturday, Nov. 24, at 2:30 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Farrelly. A reception for 100 guests followed at the Pleasure Yacht, Eddyville.

Traditional wedding music was played by Ted Riccobono, organist and Miss Barbara Bruck, soloist, sang the Ave Maria. Pompons were used for the church decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin and finger tip veil attached to a crown of seed pearls.

Miss Rita Amarello was her sister's maid of honor and the Misses Theresa Fondino, 342 Broadway and Josie Perry, 141 Washington avenue were bridesmaids.

Kenneth Hendricks, USN, was his brother's best man. The ushers were Henry C. Amell, 46 Franklin street and Albert Hendricks, St. Remy.

For their wedding journey, the couple went to Newport, R. I., and Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Hendricks graduated from Kingston High School, class of '50, and is employed by the New York Telephone Company.

Seaman Hendricks graduated from Kingston High School in 1949. He has just completed training at the Storekeeper's School in Newport, R. I. and expects to be assigned as storekeeper in Brooklyn.

Elks Announce Testimonial for Newkirk Dec. 12th

A testimonial dinner in honor of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has been announced by Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks, for Wednesday, Dec. 12, at the club on Fair street.

Past Exalted Ruler James G. Connelly is chairman of the affair to take place at 6:30 p. m. for Elks and their friends.

Connelly said the event is being sponsored in accordance with the fraternity's policy of honoring Elks who serve in public office throughout the nation.

In one of their recent monthly magazines, the Elks listed members in Congress, those acting as state governors and published the number of Elks serving as mayors and as other public officials.

Newkirk, one of many Elks serving Kingston, was elected in November for his third term as mayor.

Chairman Connelly is in his cabinet, filling the post of corporation counsel.

Girl Scout News

Troop 71

Girl Scouts of Troop 71 and their leader, Mrs. Frank Graney, conducted a hike to Forsyth Park Sunday to complete the outdoor safety badge. One of the requirements for this badge is to organize and execute an outdoor fire drill. Patsy Perry and Maryann Richards were in charge of this part of the program. The troop also learned what to do if a companion became lost in a strange territory. Members enjoyed frankfurters and hamburgers and a song program. After the campsite was cleaned, the girls left for home.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM

An unbelievably dull custom is described as follows: "At all of the parties my husband and I have gone to lately, the men congregate in one room and the women in another, and I don't see my husband until it is time to go home. If I want to go to a 'hen party,' I can do this during the day. I say it is up to the host or hostess to see that this doesn't happen, but my husband says there is nothing wrong in it. I happen to like mixed company, as many of the other women do, but no one seems to be able to put a stop to it. Have you any suggestions?"

You are quite right—it is up to the hostess to go into the room where the men are, and, rounding them up, lead them back to where they belong. Or she could start bridge or canasta and send word to them to come.

Not Improper

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly settle a dispute as to whether or not it is proper to tip a soup plate at the dinner table? I have never heard of this but have been informed by several people that it is proper to do so.

Answer: To take the last one or two spoonfuls, it is not improper to lift the rim of your plate slightly on the bent forefinger of your left hand, and then dip the spoon away from you.

Repaying Mailing Charges

Dear Mrs. Post: I spent the weekend at a friend's house and after returning home I discovered that I had forgotten a pair of brand new slippers. I wrote and told my friend about it and she mailed them back to me. After I received the package, I sent her the mailing cost. Now I understand she considered this an insult. Was I wrong in what I did?

Answer: To send back a very few cents change was very petty. Had the sum been of importance, that would have been another matter.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, if you would like to know the details for a small wedding, her leaflet E-8, "Today's Typical Wedding," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Soloists Announced For Messiah Dec. 23

Soloists for the performance of Handel's Messiah on Dec. 23 in the Old Dutch Church have been announced. They are Elizabeth Larsen, soprano; Madeleine Wood, alto; John McCullough, tenor; and Allan Curtiss, bass. Accompanists will be Mrs. William Rylance, organ, and Mrs. Lester Decker, piano. Rehearsals will be resumed on Sunday, Dec. 2, at 3 p. m., in Bethany Hall of the church.

The response of the community has been most gratifying to Donald Romme, director, who states more singers in all four of the parts, but especially tenors and basses would be welcomed. Anyone interested in singing with the Community Chorus may telephone Mr. Romme at 2921-M or 6759.

Faith E. Robinson Wed To Edward Edwards In St. Joseph's

The marriage of Miss Faith E. Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Robinson, 457 Washington avenue, to Edward J. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Edwards, 59 Esopus avenue, took place on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 25, at 2 o'clock in St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor, officiated at the ceremony. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums. A reception for 45 guests was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Given in marriage by her brother, Arthur Robinson, the bride wore a white satin gown with long sleeves and train and carried a cascade of white roses.

Mrs. Werner Senor, 130 Smith avenue was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was of lime green color having a lace top and full satin skirt. A matching headpiece, lace gloves and a cascade of yellow gladioli and pompons completed her ensemble. The bridesmaids, Miss Anna Grube of 22 Taylor street and Miss Rose Berardi of East Kingston wore gowns similar to that worn by the matron of honor. Miss Grube's gown was blue and she carried pink flowers. With her gold colored gown, Miss Berardi carried blue flowers.

Werner Senor was the groom's best man. Allen J. Robinson, brother of the bride, and Albert Cross, Lincoln Park, were the ushers.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York, the couple will reside at 457 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Edwards attended Kingston High School and is employed at The Fessenden Shirt Co., Inc.

Mr. Edwards attended Kingston High School and is employed by L. C. Dixon & Son.

Saugerties Choir Will Sing Sunday

A program of sacred music will be presented Sunday, Dec. 2, at the Atonement Lutheran Church, in Saugerties, beginning at 7:45 p. m. The service will mark the twentieth anniversary of Donald S. Fellows as director of the choir.

Guest soloists for the occasion will be Mrs. Ray E. Fulman, soprano of Schenectady, a former member of the choir, and Hermon Dilmore, violinist, supervisor of music in the Saugerties public schools.

The Junior and Senior choirs will participate. Thomas Crosby will be at the organ and Miss Jeannette Spring at the piano.

A brief opening and closing service will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Theodore Hammer. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Finch-DeHoff

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. DeHoff of this city announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ruth Irene DeHoff, to Charles Finch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Finch of Windham, Sunday, Nov. 25, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Ira B. Holland, pastor of the Free Methodist Church officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by the Rev. H. E. Bissett.

The bride wore a street length dress of navy blue taffeta and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Donald Richardson of Diamond, Pa., was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of grey wool and a corsage of red carnations.

Edwin F. DeHoff, USN, was best man for the groom.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served for the wedding party and 30 guests.

Lorraine Donnelly Becomes Bride of Harold Kellerman

Miss Lorraine Marie Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Donnelly, 39 West Union street, was married to Harold F. Kellerman, son of Mrs. Patrick Jordan, 316 Hasbrouck avenue, and the late John Kellerman, Sr., in St. Mary's Church, on Thursday, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Edward Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono, organist, played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of slipper satin with marquisette yoke, a peplum of rose point lace cascading down the back of the dress and ending in a peacock shaped train. Her French illusion fingertip veil edged with Chantilly lace was fastened to a crown of cut beads and seed pearls.

Mrs. George Proper, 11 West Union street, was the matron of honor. Her colonial styled gown was of rose slipper satin with matching mitts and she carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. John Kellerm, Jr., 114 Newkirk avenue, and Mrs. Frank Tomaseski, 95 Elmendorf street, were their sister's bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of Skinner satin made with basque bodices, off the shoulder bertha collars with inserts of nylon net, and bouffant skirts trimmed with peplums. Small sweetheart bonnets of net and satin and bouquets of chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

John Kellerman was the groom's best man. The ushers were William Doyle, 193 Bruyn avenue, and Raymond Abbott, Troy, brother-in-law to the groom.

A reception was held for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents.

Upon their return from a trip to New York and Washington, D. C., the couple will live at 318 Hasbrouck avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a grey gabardine suit, winter white coat and black accessories.

Mrs. Kellerman graduated from St. Mary's School and is employed at the Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen.

Mr. Kellerman graduated from the Immaculate Conception school and is employed at Montgomery Ward & Co. He has served for five years with the U. S. Marine Corps.

Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Announces Committees for Annual Hospital Ball

Mrs. Frederick W. Holcomb, Sr., past president, has been appointed chairman of the annual Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Ball to be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel during the month of February, it was announced today by Mrs. Peter D. Corsones, president.

The chairmen of committees who will assist Mrs. Holcomb include Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, music; Mrs. Sherwood Davis, treasurer; Mrs. George Rifenbary, publicity; Mrs. Fred S. Carr and Mrs. John A. Hawthorne, tickets, Mrs. Ted R. Smalldon, door, and Mrs. Peter D. Corsones, social arrangements.

Mrs. William Mock, executive housekeeper at the hospital, addressed the members of the auxiliary at a regular meeting on Tuesday in the nurses' home, and gave a talk on the housekeeping problems of that institution.

It was decided to change the time of meetings for the future from 2:30 p. m. to 7:45 p. m. as it was believed it would be more convenient for the majority of the members to attend meetings held in the evening than in the afternoon as has been done for many years.

Refreshments were served following adjournment of the meeting by Mrs. N. Levan Haver and Mrs. Kenneth Wood, hostesses. Mrs. Holcomb, Sr., poured.

Elks Set Dec. 7th For Teen-Age Dance

Another teen-age dance is scheduled by Kingston Lodge, 550, B.P.O. Elks at the club on Fair street, Friday, Dec. 7, it has been announced by Exalted Ruler John J. Schwalbach.

Chairman Joseph Kelly of the Youth Activities Committee said that music for the event will be furnished by Leo Mosher's orchestra from 8 to 11 p. m. for the dance.

Ladies of the Elks Auxiliary will chaperone the event the same as they did the first teen-age dance several months ago, which was attended by 450 high school students.

Complimentary tickets for the December 7 affair will be available soon at the high school.

The dances and a series of dinners for boys clubs were instituted under the youth activities program started by Exalted Ruler Schwalbach when he took office in accordance with the fraternity's policy of civic welfare and interest in youth.

Louis Hurley Addressed Parents and Teachers At School 5 Thursday on Juvenile Delinquency

"Conduct yourselves in the home and outside as you would like to have your children conduct themselves," urged Louis P. Hurley, special investigator of the Greene-Ulster district of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Thursday night when he was the guest speaker at a meeting attended by more than 50 parents and teachers at School 5. Mr. Hurley's topic was Juvenile Delinquency.

Mr. Hurley told those present that an idle mind is a dangerous mind and that children must be kept busy. He outlined the many causes of Juvenile Delinquency, naming those heading the list as parents refusing to recognize their responsibility, broken homes, neglected homes where both parents are working, immorality in the home and the lack of religion. Children must be taught to respect the property rights of others but above all, he asserted, you must set a good example for them.

Fingerprinting

The speaker described the wide scope of the fingerprinting division and stressed its importance for personal identification. He presented many interesting facts and figures on crime in the country today and pointed out that the greatest number of crimes was committed by people under 25 years of age.

Local Man in Films

In the film Inside the FBI shown in connection with Mr. Hurley's talk, it was a surprise to some of those present to see John Mohr, former resident, in many of the scenes. Mr. Mohr is now an inspector with the FBI in Washington. The film depicted the techniques used by the FBI in a typical espionage case.

During the business meeting preceding Mr. Hurley's address, the revised constitution read by Howard DeWitt, chairman, of that committee, was discussed and approved by the members. The new constitution states that the organization shall henceforth be known as the Parent and Teachers Organization of School 5.

Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president, presided at the meeting and announced the following standing committee chairmen for the year. They include Mrs. Herbert I. Engle, service; Mrs. John Ennis, social; Mrs. Elmer Carney, program; Howard DeWitt, auditing; Mrs. Walter Fallon, membership; and Mrs. Henry Singer, publicity.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Ennis, Mrs. Richard Kalish, Mrs. Henry Eighmey, and Mrs. Maroon Sarkies. Baby sitters for the parents were provided by students of the sixth grade.

The speaker was introduced by Philip Gillen.

Musical Program Scheduled Tonight

A program of music is scheduled tonight at New Central Baptist Church, 229 East Strand, featuring the Southern Gospel Jubilee Male Quartet and the Silver Echol Female Gospel Singers of Brooklyn.

This was announced by the Rev. P. N. Saunders, pastor of the church, who said the presentation would be of a spiritual nature as well as entertaining, and he extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bloom and daughter, Margery, of New York, will spend the weekend with Mrs. Bloom's mother, Mrs. Mary Seigel, 61 West O'Reilly street.

Robert S. Yallum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yallum, 79 Highland avenue, has been pledged to the Syracuse University chapter of Tau Delta Phi social fraternity. Mr. Yallum, a sophomore in the College of Business Administration, is affiliated with the men's student government. He was graduated from Kingston High School, class of 1950.

Miss Ruth E. Vining, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Vining of Port Ewen, has been put on the Dean's list at Houghton College, Houghton. Miss Vining is a junior at the college.

Elects Officers

The Women's League for Service of the Ulster Park Reformed Church held its annual meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, at the home of Mrs. Harry Christiana of Port Ewen when the election of officers was held. Those elected include Mrs. Edward Saqui, president; Mrs. Holt Winfield, vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Dumond, Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Philip Schultz, treasurer.

The meeting opened with a worship service and was followed by reports of the year's work, when it was learned that over four hundred dollars had been raised through the efforts of members and friends of the church.

An interesting and varied program has been planned for next year. Mrs. Saqui and Mrs. John Karag will be in charge of arrangements for the Christmas party scheduled to take place on Dec. 20.

The group voted a sum of money to be used for the annual children's Christmas party which this year will be directed by Mrs. Frank Van Aken. The purchase of articles to be sent to the Winnebago Indians was also authorized.

Mrs. Mary Beaver was introduced as a new member to the group. All women members of the congregation have been invited to join this society which has for its purpose Christian fellowship and service both to the local church and community and which also supports the missionary program of the church at home and abroad.

Prior to the meeting, the members had a dinner party at Judie's restaurant. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 20.

Junior Students To Be Discussed At Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Myron J. Michael School Education Association and the Monday Night Discussion Group will be held at the MJM auditorium, Monday at 8 p. m.

Preceding the meeting a musical program will be presented by the MJM chorus. Mrs. Margaret Brannigan, supervisor of music within the Kingston public schools, will direct the choral group.

The junior high boy and girl will be the topic for discussion by a panel of speakers with Harry T. Gumaer, principal of MJM, acting as moderator.

Albert G. Gruner, physical education teacher at MJM, will open the discussion by presenting the physical phases of growth among junior high children. He will stress the skills and coordinations that the physical education program strives to develop.

Miss Clara Ostrander and Mrs. Helen G. Terwilliger, members of the MJM faculty, will talk on the intellectual capacity, needs and interests of the junior high child. They will emphasize how the educational program is meeting these problems in the school of today.

Mrs. Gorman Schellhammer and Mrs. Henry Eighmey, as parents, will discuss the similarity and difference in the problems of parents of the present generation and those of former generations.

Concluding the panel, Dr. Robert F. Moseley will speak on bodily changes, emotional and physical, during the adolescent period. Dr. Moseley will stress practical ways of helping the child to adjust to these vital changes and of guiding the child toward a healthy, happy adulthood.

The MJM Education Association, comprised of parents and teachers, holds quarterly meetings and the recently organized Monday Night Discussion Group assembles weekly so parents, teachers and youth leaders may talk about the development of the child on various age levels.

Miss Beatrice Newkirk, chairman, states many surprises are in store for those attending.

Dog's Funeral, $1,000

Denver, Nov. 30 (AP)—Pal, a 15-year-old of indefinite breed, went to the grave yesterday with a funeral his master estimated cost $1,000. Fred Schmitt rated Pal above all other pets on his 40-acre farm north of Denver. And there are a lot of pets—50 dogs, 75 cats, four horses and many pigeons. Mourners, friends of Schmitt and his wife and Pal, filed by a mahogany casket to look at Pal for the last time. Some petted him. A minister spoke. The casket, made by Schmitt, was banked in flowers. "That dog was my whole life," Schmitt said.

Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Announces Committees for Annual Hospital Ball

Mrs. Frederick W. Holcomb, Sr., past president, has been appointed chairman of the annual Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Ball to be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel during the month of February, it was announced today by Mrs. Peter D. Corsones, president.

The chairmen of committees who will assist Mrs. Holcomb include Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, music; Mrs. Sherwood Davis, treasurer; Mrs. George Rifenbary, publicity; Mrs. Fred S. Carr and Mrs. John A. Hawthorne, tickets, Mrs. Ted R. Smalldon, door, and Mrs. Peter D. Corsones, social arrangements.

Mrs. William Mock, executive housekeeper at the hospital, addressed the members of the auxiliary at a regular meeting on Tuesday in the nurses' home, and gave a talk on the housekeeping problems of that institution.

It was decided to change the time of meetings for the future from 2:30 p. m. to 7:45 p. m. as it was believed it would be more convenient for the majority of the members to attend meetings held in the evening than in the afternoon as has been done for many years.

Refreshments were served following adjournment of the meeting by Mrs. N. Levan Haver and Mrs. Kenneth Wood, hostesses. Mrs. Holcomb, Sr., poured.

Elks Set Dec. 7th For Teen-Age Dance

Another teen-age dance is scheduled by Kingston Lodge, 550, B.P.O. Elks at the club on Fair street, Friday, Dec. 7, it has been announced by Exalted Ruler John J. Schwalbach.

Chairman Joseph Kelly of the Youth Activities Committee said that music for the event will be furnished by Leo Mosher's orchestra from 8 to 11 p. m. for the dance.

Ladies of the Elks Auxiliary will chaperone the event the same as they did the first teen-age dance several months ago, which was attended by 450 high school students.

Complimentary tickets for the December 7 affair will be available soon at the high school.

The dances and a series of dinners for boys clubs were instituted under the youth activities program started by Exalted Ruler Schwalbach when he took office in accordance with the fraternity's policy of civic welfare and interest in youth.

Woodstock Artists Donate Works for Hadassah Bazaar

Prominent Woodstock artists have donated their work to be auctioned for the benefit of Hadassah's annual bazaar which will take place on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 2, 3, and 4, at the Jewish Community Center, 265 Wall street. The pictures are on display in several stores on Wall street. Shown in the usual order are the pictures donated by the artists, top row, Harry D. Froot, Joseph Presser and Agnes Hart; lower, Florence Stein, John McClellan and Daniel Revzan; front, Nahum Tschacbasov. Background sketches of the artists indicate their permanent representation in leading art museums and private collections. Tschacbasov is represented in 15 important museums including the Tel-a-Viv Museum as well as several hundred private collections. For many years, he has been an instructor at the Art Students League in New York. Josef Presser is represented in eight leading museums including the Royal Uffizi Museum in Florence, Italy, and in the private collections of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mrs. Ellen Dupont and Dr. Paul J. Sachs of the Fogg Museum, Harvard University. (Freeman Photo)

Louis Hurley Addressed Parents and Teachers At School 5 Thursday on Juvenile Delinquency

"Conduct yourselves in the home and outside as you would like to have your children conduct themselves," urged Louis P. Hurley, special investigator of the Greene-Ulster district of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Thursday night when he was the guest speaker at a meeting attended by more than 50 parents and teachers at School 5. Mr. Hurley's topic was Juvenile Delinquency.

Mr. Hurley told those present that an idle mind is a dangerous mind and that children must be kept busy. He outlined the many causes of Juvenile Delinquency, naming those heading the list as parents refusing to recognize their responsibility, broken homes, neglected homes where both parents are working, immorality in the home and the lack of religion. Children must be taught to respect the property rights of others but above all, he asserted, you must set a good example for them.

Fingerprinting

The speaker described the wide scope of the fingerprinting division and stressed its importance for personal identification. He presented many interesting facts and figures on crime in the country today and pointed out that the greatest number of crimes was committed by people under 25 years of age.

Local Man in Films

In the film Inside the FBI shown in connection with Mr. Hurley's talk, it was a surprise to some of those present to see John Mohr, former resident, in many of the scenes. Mr. Mohr is now an inspector with the FBI in Washington. The film depicted the techniques used by the FBI in a typical espionage case.

During the business meeting preceding Mr. Hurley's address, the revised constitution read by Howard DeWitt, chairman, of that committee, was discussed and approved by the members. The new constitution states that the organization shall henceforth be known as the Parent and Teachers Organization of School 5.

Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president, presided at the meeting and announced the following standing committee chairmen for the year. They include Mrs. Herbert I. Engle, service; Mrs. John Ennis, social; Mrs. Elmer Carney, program; Howard DeWitt, auditing; Mrs. Walter Fallon, membership; and Mrs. Henry Singer, publicity.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Ennis, Mrs. Richard Kalish, Mrs. Henry Eighmey, and Mrs. Maroon Sarkies. Baby sitters for the parents were provided by students of the sixth grade.

The speaker was introduced by Philip Gillen.

Elects Officers

The Women's League for Service of the Ulster Park Reformed Church held its annual meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, at the home of Mrs. Harry Christiana of Port Ewen when the election of officers was held. Those elected include Mrs. Edward Saqui, president; Mrs. Holt Winfield, vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Dumond, Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Philip Schultz, treasurer.

The meeting opened with a worship service and was followed by reports of the year's work, when it was learned that over four hundred dollars had been raised through the efforts of members and friends of the church.

An interesting and varied program has been planned for next year. Mrs. Saqui and Mrs. John Karag will be in charge of arrangements for the Christmas party scheduled to take place on Dec. 20.

The group voted a sum of money to be used for the annual children's Christmas party which this year will be directed by Mrs. Frank Van Aken. The purchase of articles to be sent to the Winnebago Indians was also authorized.

Mrs. Mary Beaver was introduced as a new member to the group. All women members of the congregation have been invited to join this society which has for its purpose Christian fellowship and service both to the local church and community and which also supports the missionary program of the church at home and abroad.

Prior to the meeting, the members had a dinner party at Judie's restaurant. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 20.

Junior Students To Be Discussed At Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Myron J. Michael School Education Association and the Monday Night Discussion Group will be held at the MJM auditorium, Monday at 8 p. m.

Preceding the meeting a musical program will be presented by the MJM chorus. Mrs. Margaret Brannigan, supervisor of music within the Kingston public schools, will direct the choral group.

The junior high boy and girl will be the topic for discussion by a panel of speakers with Harry T. Gumaer, principal of MJM, acting as moderator.

Albert G. Gruner, physical education teacher at MJM, will open the discussion by presenting the physical phases of growth among junior high children. He will stress the skills and coordinations that the physical education program strives to develop.

Miss Clara Ostrander and Mrs. Helen G. Terwilliger, members of the MJM faculty, will talk on the intellectual capacity, needs and interests of the junior high child. They will emphasize how the educational program is meeting these problems in the school of today.

Mrs. Gorman Schellhammer and Mrs. Henry Eighmey, as parents, will discuss the similarity and difference in the problems of parents of the present generation and those of former generations.

Concluding the panel, Dr. Robert F. Moseley will speak on bodily changes, emotional and physical, during the adolescent period. Dr. Moseley will stress practical ways of helping the child to adjust to these vital changes and of guiding the child toward a healthy, happy adulthood.

The MJM Education Association, comprised of parents and teachers, holds quarterly meetings and the recently organized Monday Night Discussion Group assembles weekly so parents, teachers and youth leaders may talk about the development of the child on various age levels.

KHS Has Carnival Tonight at School

The Student Council of KHS is sponsoring a Penny Carnival this afternoon and tonight in the high school gymnasium. The afternoon festivities are reserved for school children from 3:30 to 6 p. m. In the evening, beginning at 7, and continuing until 10, adults and students of KHS and MJM will be welcomed.

Miss Beatrice Newkirk, chairman, states many surprises are in store for those attending.

Dog's Funeral, $1,000

Denver, Nov. 30 (AP)—Pal, a 15-year-old of indefinite breed, went to the grave yesterday with a funeral his master estimated cost $1,000. Fred Schmitt rated Pal above all other pets on his 40-acre farm north of Denver. And there are a lot of pets—50 dogs, 75 cats, four horses and many pigeons. Mourners, friends of Schmitt and his wife and Pal, filed by a mahogany casket to look at Pal for the last time. Some petted him. A minister spoke. The casket, made by Schmitt, was banked in flowers. "That dog was my whole life," Schmitt said.

New Paltz State Teachers Open 17-Game Schedule on December 7

Danbury Teachers First Opponent; 4 Vets Return

Manzi, McMann, Wulff and Donohue Holdovers

Coach Loren D. Campbell will have only four veterans for the New Paltz Teachers College basketball squad which opens a 17-game schedule on December 7 against Danbury Teachers at the New Paltz gym.

The four returnees have plenty of class, however, and the veteran mentor is expected to assemble New Paltz's best post-war quintet.

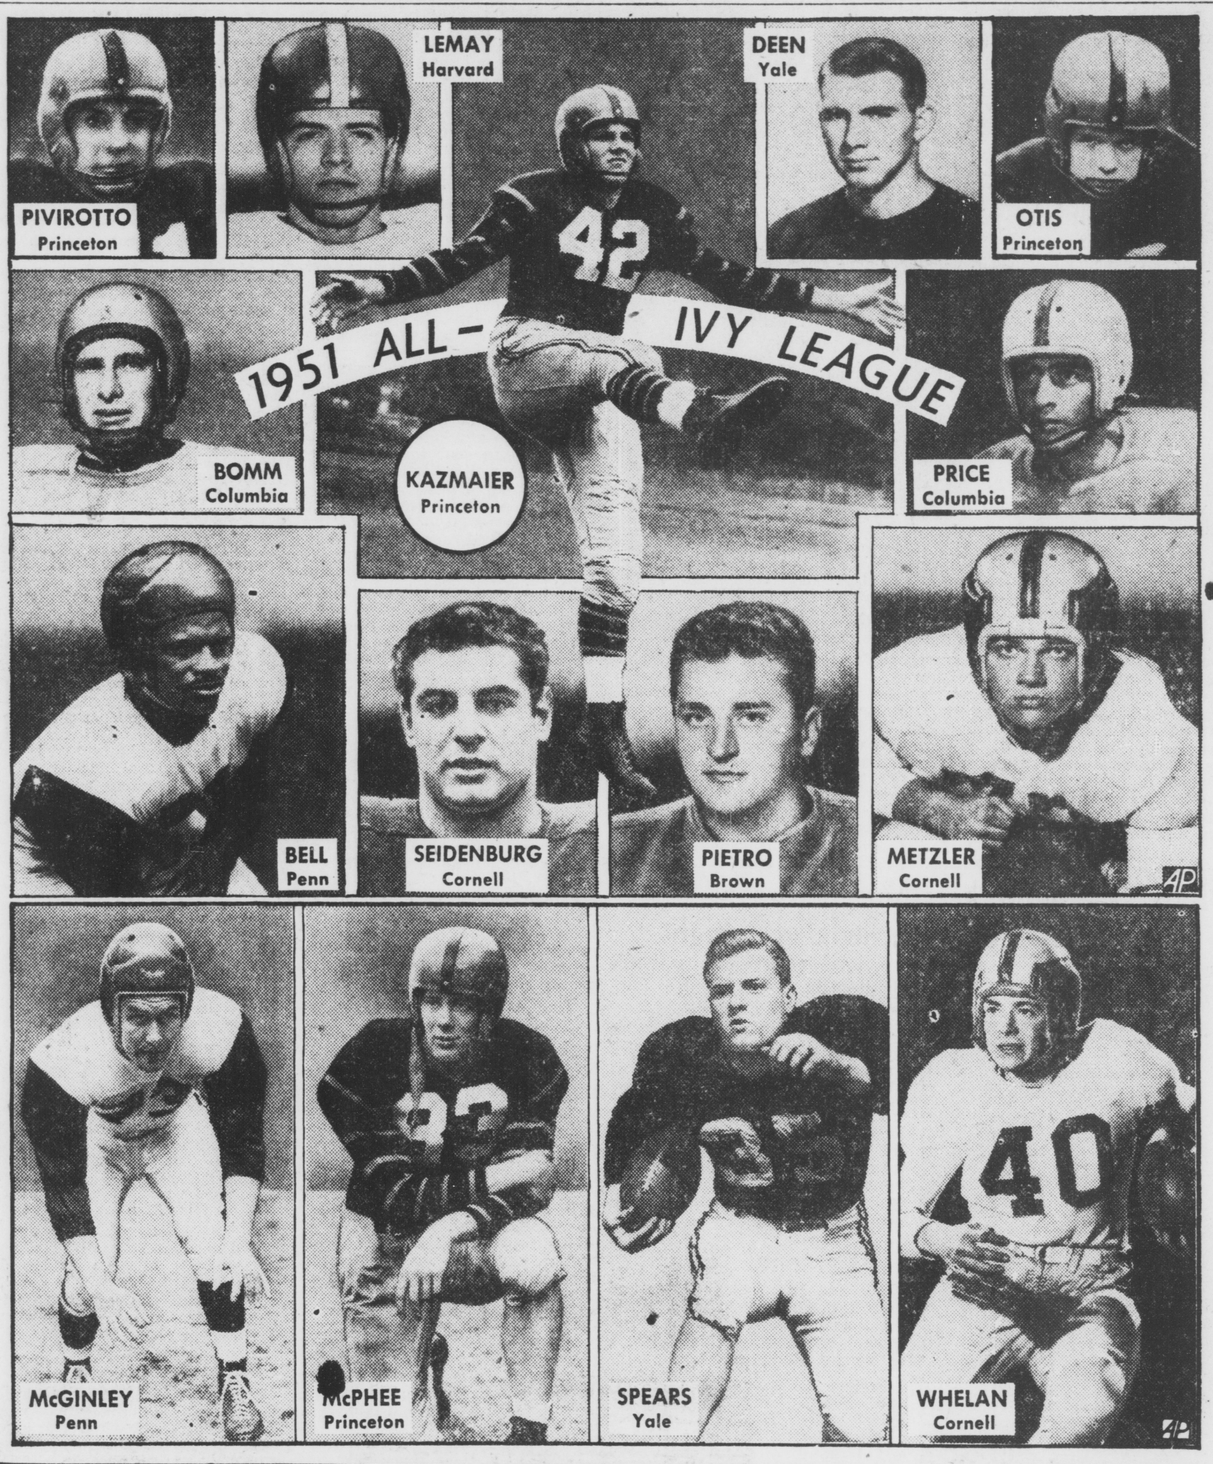

Among those returning are last season's high scorer, Frank Manzi of Peekskill; and Pat McMann of Walden, a set shot artist. Bill Donohue of Yonkers and Jack Wulff of Flushing are the other two experienced cagers.

The 1951-52 schedule lists the first five games at home against Danbury, Potsdam, Willimantic, Waterbury and Oneonta State Teachers. The season's finale is carded on March 15 against the Alumni.

Drew University will be met on February 2 and Feb. 16.

T.C.U.-S.M.U. Game To Decide Title

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The waning college football season comes to the end of the trail tomorrow and when all the returns are in, the last two major bowl teams probably will be decided.

Kentucky's opponent in the Cotton Bowl will be the winner of the Southwest Conference, and Georgia Tech's Orange Bowl competition may come from one of the Southwest Conference teams that lose out.

Texas Christian can win the Cotton Bowl bid by beating Southern Methodist. If, however, TCU loses and Baylor whips Rice, then Baylor finishes at the top. If Rice wins while TCU loses, the two will wind up in a deadlock for first.

Texas is out of it, having bowed to Texas A. and M. yesterday, 22-21. The Aggies came from behind with 15 points in the third quarter to beat Texas for the first time in 12 years.

There are two other big battles—in a traditional sense—though actually neither means much from a national standpoint. Army meets Navy in Philadelphia, and Notre Dame travels to Los Angeles to play Southern California.

Time was when a couple of contests like this would have definite bearing on the final national rankings. Not this year, though. Southern California is the only one of the four with a top team. The Trojans won six in a row but have lost their last two.

Notre Dame has been having its ups and downs all season, and Army and Navy for a time looked as though they were going to enter the fray with nary a victory between them. But both defeated Columbia, and Army added the Citadel while Navy also tied Yale.

100,000 at Philly

Even with their poor records, a crowd of about 100,000 is expected to jam Municipal Stadium for the Army-Navy affair, attracted to a large extent by the pomp and ceremony attached to it. Notre Dame and Southern California figure to lure some 50,000.

Both contests will be televised over a coast-to-coast hookup. Starting time for the former is 1:30 p. m. (EST) and the latter 5:00 p. m. (EST).

Navy and the Trojans rate favorites. The Middies are eight points over the Cadets while Southern Cal is regarded as a seven-point choice over the Irish.

Tennessee, the No. 1 team in the country in the weekly Associated Press poll, goes against Vanderbilt and is a 26-point choice to record its 20th straight victory. The Vols meet Maryland in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1.

Georgia Tech, which has been waiting for its Orange Bowl opponent to be named for nearly a month, will meet Georgia, with the Engineers favored by seven and a half points. The Vols and Tech probably will wind up co-champions of the Southeastern Conference.

Other major games include: Oklahoma-Oklahoma A and M, Missouri vs. Kansas, Hardin-Simmons vs. Texas Tech, Holy Cross vs. Boston College, Alabama vs. Auburn, Tulane vs. Louisiana State, Mississippi vs. Mississippi State, Detroit vs. Tulsa, Marquette vs. San Jose State, Utah State vs. New Mexico, Houston vs. North Texas State, and East Texas State vs. Sul Ross State.

Randy Kelder Pounds 278-638 in Major; Miriam Posner's 521 High for Women

Miriam Posner showed the way in the distaff department with a 521 series in the Sisterhood League via solos of 177, 149 and 195.

Cora DeCicco's 181-159-152-492 led the Central Rec Women. Other league leaders included Lou Navara with a new high of 173-165-173-521 in the Jacobson Mixer; J. Peterson, 199-213-186-599, in the Federation American; and Herm Seelbach with a new individual high of 214-157-233-594 in the Commercial League.

Charlie Gildersleeve took runnerup honors in the Major with 247-210-635. Ross Ellis (204-236) and Johnny Ferraro (269) tied with 611s and Jack Altamore southpawed a 609. George Shufeldt clicked for 204-210-607; Larry Weishaupt 236-606; Len Freer 210-605; and Jack Houghtaling 232-604.

J. Wolfersteig—554

J. Wolfersteig reeled off 234-554; Doug Kennedy 218-546 and Bill Hornbeck 516 in the Federation American. Art Crist had 509; Ralph Post 495 and Harold Pine 491.

Bea Arlensky was second best in the Sisterhood loop with 437 and Shirley Bahl clicked for 418. Rosalie Eckdish and F. Schechter tied at 413 and E. Kantrowitz rolled 406. The real starlet of the circuit was Muriel Levine, an 82-average keglerette, who came up with a 148 solo.

Seelbach's 594 in the Commercial eclipsed the former record of 589 held by Frank Grimaldi. Runnerup Ferrell McElrath posted 200-543; Craig Plough 212-540; Jack Hartman 534; G. Stoutenburgh 205-514; W. Brown 504; R. Felton 500; F. Grimaldi 489.

Val Janaczek's 481 and Warren Robinson's 477 were among the best efforts in the Jacobson Mixer. Other top bracket results included Joe Heidcamp's 463; W. Hoffay 432; Reuben Lewis 422; D. Simmons 408; and C. Burgher and E. Hammond 400.

Jennie Spada tossed 434 for runnerup honors in the Central Rec, with Janet Hines rolling 424; Margie DeWitt 406; Jackie Kean 405 and Lois DeCicco 401.

Package Brings $41

Norwich, Nov. 30 (AP)—A package contributed by Mrs. Harry S. Truman brought $41 last night at a church society's auction. It contained a picture of the White House. The package was sold three times and returned for reauctioning before it finally was claimed. The first bidding went to $26, the others to $5. The Women's Society of Christian Service staged the auction at the Methodist Church.

New Paltz State Teachers Open 17-Game Schedule on December 7

Danbury Teachers First Opponent; 4 Vets Return

Manzi, McMann, Wulff and Donohue Holdovers

Coach Loren D. Campbell will have only four veterans for the New Paltz Teachers College basketball squad which opens a 17-game schedule on December 7 against Danbury Teachers at the New Paltz gym.

The four returnees have plenty of class, however, and the veteran mentor is expected to assemble New Paltz's best post-war quintet.

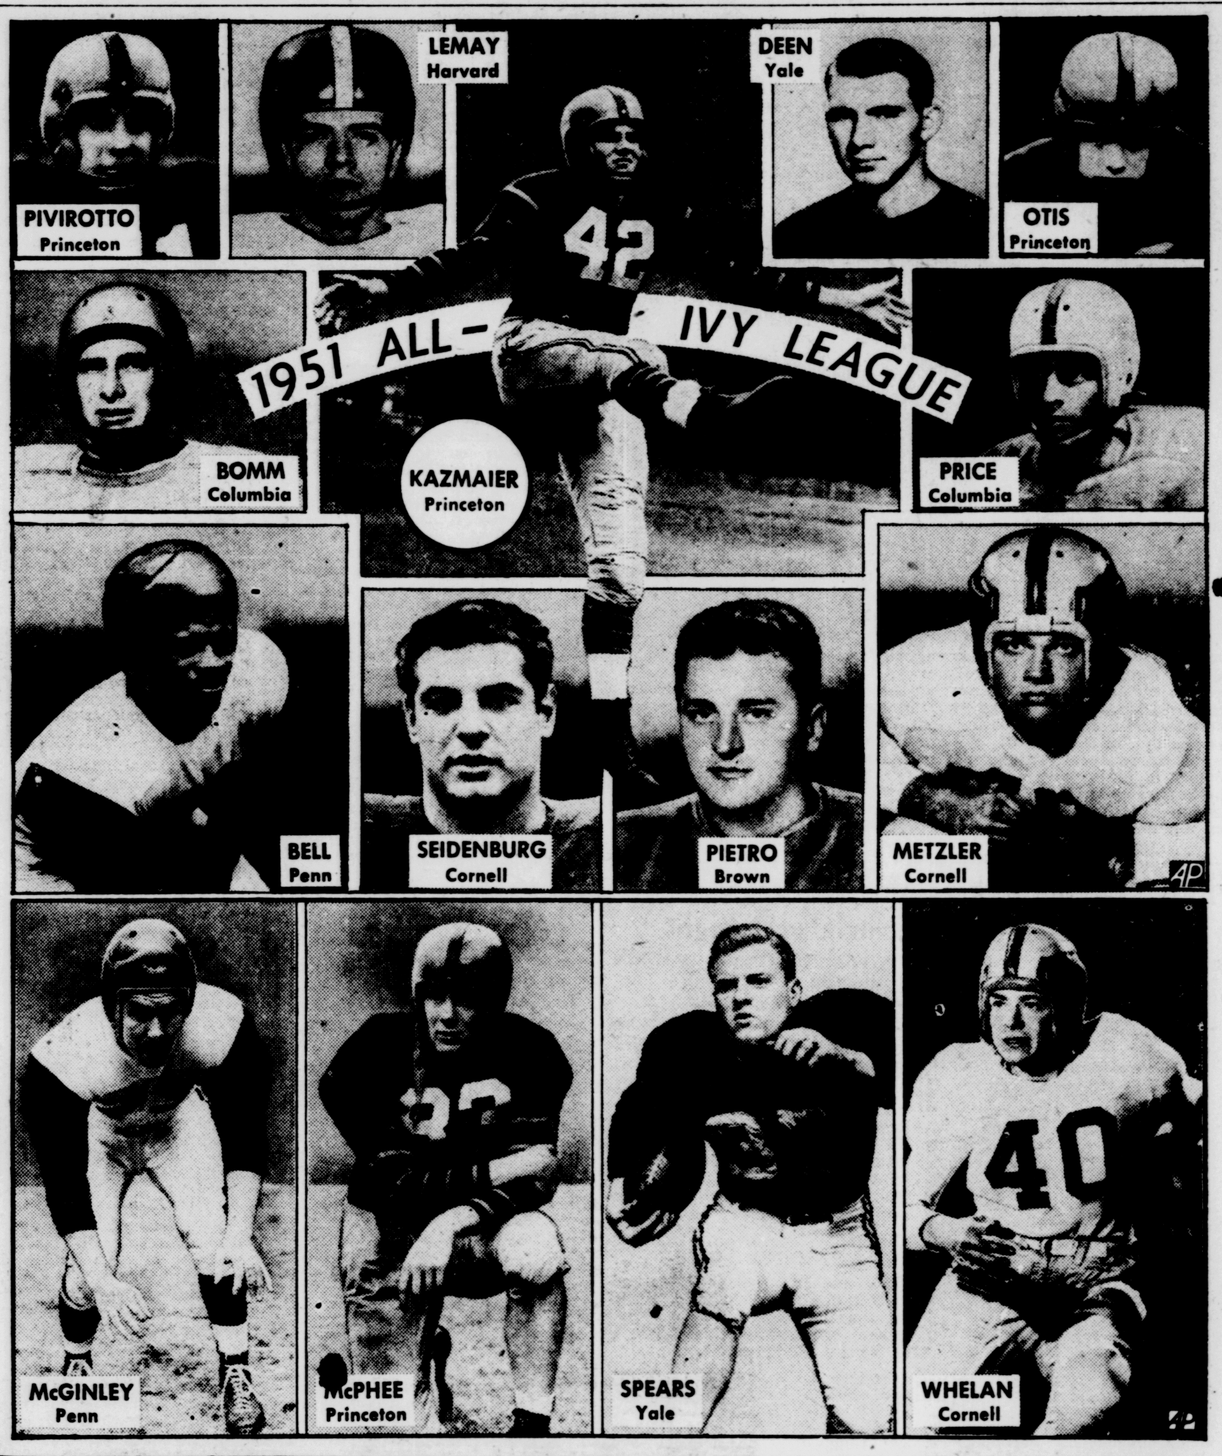

Among those returning are last season's high scorer, Frank Manzi of Peekskill; and Pat McMann of Walden, a set shot artist. Bill Donohue of Yonkers and Jack Wulff of Flushing are the other two experienced cagers.

The 1951-52 schedule lists the first five games at home against Danbury, Potsdam, Willimantic, Waterbury and Oneonta State Teachers. The season's finale is carded on March 15 against the Alumni.

Drew University will be met on February 2 and Feb. 16.

Army-Navy, Notre Dame-USC Top Finales for Grid Season

Seats Available For Bowling Trip

Several reservations are still available for the bus that will make the trip to the Bowlmor alleys in New York city on Sunday, Dec. 9, for "Kingston Night" on WOR-TV (Channel 9), Addison Jones said today.

Reservations can be made at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium and Ferraro Bowlodrome. All reservations must be in by Thursday, Dec. 6.

T.C.U.-S.M.U. Game To Decide Title

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—The waning college football season comes to the end of the trail tomorrow and when all the returns are in, the last two major bowl teams probably will be decided.

Kentucky's opponent in the Cotton Bowl will be the winner of the Southwest Conference, and Georgia Tech's Orange Bowl competition may come from one of the Southwest Conference teams that lose out.

Texas Christian can win the Cotton Bowl bid by beating Southern Methodist. If, however, TCU loses and Baylor whips Rice, then Baylor finishes at the top. If Rice wins while TCU loses, the two will wind up in a deadlock for first.

Texas is out of it, having bowed to Texas A. and M. yesterday, 22-21. The Aggies came from behind with 15 points in the third quarter to beat Texas for the first time in 12 years.

There are two other big battles—in a traditional sense—though actually neither means much from a national standpoint. Army meets Navy in Philadelphia, and Notre Dame travels to Los Angeles to play Southern California.

Time was when a couple of contests like this would have definite bearing on the final national rankings. Not this year, though. Southern California is the only one of the four with a top team. The Trojans won six in a row but have lost their last two.

Notre Dame has been having its ups and downs all season, and Army and Navy for a time looked as though they were going to enter the fray with nary a victory between them. But both defeated Columbia, and Army added the Citadel while Navy also tied Yale.

100,000 at Philly

Even with their poor records, a crowd of about 100,000 is expected to jam Municipal Stadium for the Army-Navy affair, attracted to a large extent by the pomp and ceremony attached to it. Notre Dame and Southern California figure to lure some 50,000.

Both contests will be televised over a coast-to-coast hookup. Starting time for the former is 1:30 p. m. (EST) and the latter 5:00 p. m. (EST).

Navy and the Trojans rate favorites. The Middies are eight points over the Cadets while Southern Cal is regarded as a seven-point choice over the Irish.

Tennessee, the No. 1 team in the country in the weekly Associated Press poll, goes against Vanderbilt and is a 28-point choice to record its 20th straight victory. The Vols meet Maryland in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1.

Georgia Tech, which has been waiting for its Orange Bowl opponent to be named for nearly a month, will meet Georgia, with the Engineers favored by seven and a half points. The Vols and Tech probably will wind up co-champions of the Southeastern Conference.

Other major games include: Oklahoma-Oklahoma A and M, Missouri vs. Kansas, Hardin-Simmons vs. Texas Tech, Holy Cross vs. Boston College, Alabama vs. Auburn, Tulane vs. Louisiana State, Mississippi vs. Mississippi State, Detroit vs. Tulsa, Marquette vs. San Jose State, Utah State vs. New Mexico, Houston vs. North Texas State, and East Texas State vs. Sul Ross State.

Oldest Driver

Sheet Harbor, N. S. (AP)—Nova Scotia's oldest licensed automobile driver is 93-year-old Henry Hall of this eastern shore town. Active and alert despite his years, he has had only one accident in 36 years of driving—he knocked the hub cap off another car while passing on a narrow road 35 years ago.

Hailstones have fallen which weighed a pound or more each.

Randy Kelder Pounds 278-638 in Major; Miriam Posner's 521 High for Women

Veteran Randy Kelder opened with a 278 blast in last night's Ferraro Major and finished with 638 for the top male score of the night.

Miriam Posner showed the way in the distaff department with a 521 series in the Sisterhood League via solos of 177, 149 and 195.

Cora DeCicco's 181-159-152-492 led the Central Rec Women. Other league leaders included Lou Navara with a new high of 173-165-173-521 in the Jacobson Mixer; J. Peterson, 199-213-186-599, in the Federation American; and Herm Seelbach with a new individual high of 214-157-233-594 in the Commercial League.

Charlie Gildersleeve took runnerup honors in the Major with 247-210-635. Ross Ellis (204-236) and Johnny Ferraro (269) tied with 611s and Jack Altamore southpawed a 609. George Shufeldt clicked for 204-210-607; Larry Weishaupt 236-606; Len Freer 210-605; and Jack Houghtaling 232-604.

J. Wolfersteig—554

J. Wolfersteig reeled off 234-554; Doug Kennedy 218-546 and Bill Hornbeck 516 in the Federation American. Art Crist had 509; Ralph Post 495 and Harold Pine 491.

Bea Arlensky was second best in the Sisterhood loop with 437 and Shirley Bahl clicked for 418. Rosalie Eckdish and F. Schechter tied at 413 and E. Kantrowitz rolled 406. The real starlet of the circuit was Muriel Levine, an 82-average keglerette, who came up with a 148 solo.

Seelbach's 594 in the Commercial eclipsed the former record of 589 held by Frank Grimaldi. Runnerup Ferrell McElrath posted 200-543; Craig Plough 212-540; Jack Hartman 534; G. Stoutenburgh 205-514; W. Brown 504; R. Felton 500; F. Grimaldi 489.

Val Janaczek's 481 and Warren Robinson's 477 were among the best efforts in the Jacobson Mixer. Other top bracket results included Joe Heidcamp's 463; W. Hoffay 432; Reuben Lewis 422; D. Simmons 408; and C. Burgher and E. Hammond 400.

Jennie Spada tossed 434 for runnerup honors in the Central Rec, with Janet Hines rolling 424; Margie DeWitt 406; Jackie Kean 405 and Lois DeCicco 401.

Joe Sangi and Ada Markle Fire Top Triples of 664-542 at Local Lanes

Joe "Bush" Sangi, who was the top male pin-toppler during Tuesday night's local bowling activities with a gaudy 643 in the Central Rec League, came back even stronger Wednesday night to do it all over again.

Bowling in the Central Rec Major wheel, Sangi led a field of five 600s with a hefty 664 blast around scores of 233-223-208 for the hat trick as well.

Meanwhile, the distaff leader for the night was Ada Markle in the Colonial Women's League who pounded out 188-161-193 for a neat 542 triple.

Topping the pinfall throughout the other leagues were Bill Davis with 248-163-163 for 574 in the Junior Major; C. Prendergast 209-177-187 for 574 in the CYO Holy Name League; Eleanor Dumenigo 144-173-172 for 489 in the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's loop; Helen Buchholtz 150-149-163 for 462 in the Purple Division of the Colonial Women's; and Dottie LaRocca 188-172-123 for 483 in the Pioneer Women's League.

Sangi's 664 sizzler topped a bevy of big scores in the Central Rec Major League as George "Sec" Robinson had to settle for second place with a 202-254 and 649 series.

Others in the 600 bracket included Joe Rpzzo who traveled across the tracks again for 219-220-629; Mike Provenzano 246-626; and Larry Weishaupt 235-606.

Chris Gallo fired 236 for 586; Harry Smith 217-579; R. Mayone 217-577; and Harold Broskie 213-576.

J. Markle took show money in the Junior Major firing with 561 while Tony Albany was in third with 555. Herbe Sleight posted 543; N. Scherer 539; V. Bruck 204-538; and Frank Mehm, Jr., 530.

Runnerup in the CYO pin-busting was Jim Noble with 212-571 while A. Maurer banged 212-564. E. Hung posted 201-531; Ken Radel 525; T. Guerrera 209-523; and J. Fahey 522.

Trailing Ada Markle's 542 in the Gold Division of the Colonial Women's League was Elizabeth Schoonmaker with 530 while Rose Schatzel completed the 500 column with 525.

Dot Rawding had 494; Phyl Gehringer 487; Evelyn Gross 483; Charlotte Lapine 480; Chrissie Wilson 477; Kay Brodhead 470.

Betty Shipman's 456 series was good for the runnerup spot in the Silver Division to Eleanor Dumenigo's 489 pacer. Marie Bechtold fired 453; Judy Broskie 450; and Arlene Raible's 450 completed the top scores.

Flo Beichert, of the bowling Beicherts, started off slow with 112 but finished fast for a 446 triple good enough for the No. 2 slot in the Purple Division of the Colonial Women's circuit. Anna Mitchell hit 429; Marcia Olbert 427; Gladys Schilling 412 and Gen Whitmore 412 for other top efforts.

The No. 2 keglerette in the Pioneer Women's wheel was Shirley Myers with 468. Lillian Cameron fired 457; A. Kirn 445; R. Amarello 439 and Nellie Glennon 424.

Syracuse Nats Unbeaten at Home

(By The Associated Press)

Syracuse's ability to win on its home court is the reason the Nats lead the eastern division of the National Basketball Association.

The Nats posted their seventh victory without a loss on their home lot last night as they tripped the Fort Wayne Pistons, 82-78.

The Rochester Royals advanced to within a half game of the Minneapolis Lakers, western half leaders, by downing the New York Knickerbockers, 78-74 in the second game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

Bob Wanzer and Bob Davies led the Royals to victory. Wanzer scored 25 point and Davies 15. Odie Spears scored four points and Davis one in the last 45 seconds of play to clinch the decision.

The Baltimore Bullets trounced the Milwaukee Hawks, 77-64 in the opener. Don Barksdale sunk 15 points to pace Baltimore's attack while Dike Eddleman dumped in 24 for the losers.

New York (Sunnyside Garden) —Carmine Fiore, 145½, Brooklyn, outpointed Norman Thompson, 147, Toronto, 8.

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)

(By The Associated Press)

St. Louis—Marty Marion, former St. Louis Cardinal manager, signed a three-year contract with the St. Louis Browns as a player-coach.

Washington—Pvt. Johnny Antonelli, the Boston Braves' $50,000 bonus pitcher, may be released shortly from the army because of sinus trouble.

Pittsburgh — General Manager Branch Rickey of Pittsburgh said he would campaign at the major league meetings to change baseball's high school rule so that clubs could sign students to contracts but not employ or pay them till their class graduates.

Cincinnati — General Manager Gabe Paul of Cincinnati said there is "every indication" that there will be Negroes in the Reds' farm system in 1952.

New York—Middleweight champion Ray Robinson was awarded the Benny Leonard good sportsmanship trophy in recognition of his courage and sincerity of purpose.

Melbourne, Australia — The United States Davis Cup squad advanced through the first round of the Victorian tennis championships with Dick Savitt, Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson, Tony Trabert and Ted Schroeder posting triumphs.

New York—Bill Coffman, managing director of the East-West Shrine game, announced that Dick Kazmaier, Princeton; Wayne Robinson, Minnesota; William Hughes, Michigan State; Charles Curtis, Dartmouth and Karl Kluckhohn, Colgate had accepted invitations to play in the game.

Bowling

Joe Sangi and Ada Markle Fire Top Triples of 664-542 at Local Lanes

Joe "Bush" Sangi, who was the top male pin-toppler during Tuesday night's local bowling activities with a gaudy 643 in the Central Rec League, came back even stronger Wednesday night to do it all over again.

Bowling in the Central Rec Major wheel, Sangi led a field of five 600s with a hefty 664 blast around scores of 233-223-208 for the hat trick as well.

Meanwhile, the distaff leader for the night was Ada Markle in the Colonial Women's League who pounded out 188-161-193 for a neat 542 triple.

Topping the pinfall throughout the other leagues were Bill Davis with 248-163-163 for 574 in the Junior Major; C. Prendergast 209-177-187 for 574 in the CYO Holy Name League; Eleanor Dumenigo 144-173-172 for 489 in the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's loop; Helen Buchholtz 150-149-163 for 462 in the Purple Division of the Colonial Women's; and Dottie LaRocca 188-172-123 for 483 in the Pioneer Women's League.

Sangi's 664 sizzler topped a bevy of big scores in the Central Rec Major League as George "Sec" Robinson had to settle for second place with a 202-254 and 649 series.

Others in the 600 bracket included Joe Rpzzo who traveled across the tracks again for 219-220-629; Mike Provenzano 246-626; and Larry Weishaupt 235-606.

Chris Gallo fired 236 for 586; Harry Smith 217-579; R. Mayone 217-577; and Harold Broskie 213-576.

J. Markle took show money in the Junior Major firing with 561 while Tony Albany was in third with 555. Herbe Sleight posted 543; N. Scherer 539; V. Bruck 204-538; and Frank Mehm, Jr., 530.

Runnerup in the CYO pin-busting was Jim Noble with 212-571 while A. Maurer banged 212-564. E. Hung posted 201-531; Ken Radel 525; T. Guerrera 209-523; and J. Fahey 522.

Trailing Ada Markle's 542 in the Gold Division of the Colonial Women's League was Elizabeth Schoonmaker with 530 while Rose Schatzel completed the 500 column with 525.

Dot Rawding had 494; Phyl Gehringer 487; Evelyn Gross 483; Charlotte Lapine 480; Chrissie Wilson 477; Kay Brodhead 470.

Betty Shipman's 456 series was good for the runnerup spot in the Silver Division to Eleanor Dumenigo's 489 pacer. Marie Bechtold fired 453; Judy Broskie 450; and Arlene Raible's 450 completed the top scores.

Flo Beichert, of the bowling Beicherts, started off slow with 112 but finished fast for a 446 triple good enough for the No. 2 slot in the Purple Division of the Colonial Women's circuit. Anna Mitchell hit 429; Marcia Olbert 427; Gladys Schilling 412 and Gen Whitmore 412 for other top efforts.

The No. 2 keglerette in the Pioneer Women's wheel was Shirley Myers with 468. Lillian Cameron fired 457; A. Kirn 445; R. Amarello 439 and Nellie Glennon 424.

Syracuse Nats Unbeaten at Home

(By The Associated Press)

Syracuse's ability to win on its home court is the reason the Nats lead the eastern division of the National Basketball Association.

The Nats posted their seventh victory without a loss on their home lot last night as they tripped the Fort Wayne Pistons, 82-78.

Syracuse pulled it out in the closing minutes. Red Rocha paced the victors with 21 points including four in the final minutes while Fred Schaus led Fort Wayne with 19 points.

The Rochester Royals advanced to within a half game of the Minneapolis Lakers, western half leaders, by downing the New York Knickerbockers, 78-74 in the second game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

Bob Wanzer and Bob Davies led the Royals to victory. Wanzer scored 25 point and Davies 15. Odie Spears scored four points and Davis one in the last 45 seconds of play to clinch the decision.

The Baltimore Bullets trounced the Milwaukee Hawks, 77-64 in the opener. Don Barksdale sunk 15 points to pace Baltimore's attack while Dike Eddleman dumped in 24 for the losers.

New York (Sunnyside Garden)—Carmine Fiore, 145½, Brooklyn, outpointed Norman Thompson, 147, Toronto, 8.

Clerical Worker Is Found Dead; Man, 43, Is Held

Atlanta, Nov. 30 (AP)—A pretty young clerical worker was found shot to death on a sidewalk early today and her former college English teacher was jailed on "suspicion of murder."

The body of Miss Martha Nell Dinsmore, 19, was found sprawled on the sidewalk just outside the apartment she shared with three other girls. She had been shot once through the heart.

City Detective J. E. Helms said William Edward Clark, 43, former English instructor at North Georgia College at Dahlonega, had been arrested.

Clark, married and now a salesman, reported, said Helms, that the girl had shot herself just a few minutes after she stepped from his car.

Earlier, the detective continued, Clark and Miss Dinsmore had attended a drive-in movie and there, according to Clark, had discussed Clark's intention to obtain a divorce.

The detective said Miss Dinsmore's blouse and brassiere had been ripped asunder when he arrived but that Clark explained he had torn both after she was shot in an effort to ascertain the seriousness of the wound.

Miss Dinsmore, said the detective, had come to Atlanta last spring to accept a job, while Clark resigned from the college faculty in June.

Community Aids Orphaned Children

Hayden, Colo., Nov. 30 (AP)—Residents of this tiny northwestern Coolrado community of 767, stepped up today to offer aid for 10 children orphaned by a double suicide.

They are the children of Phillip and Tony Linda Montoya who killed themselves minutes apart with the same gun yesterday.

Mrs. Dorothy Todd, welfare office director, said neighbors and friends of the family will care for the children until her office can determine their permanent status.

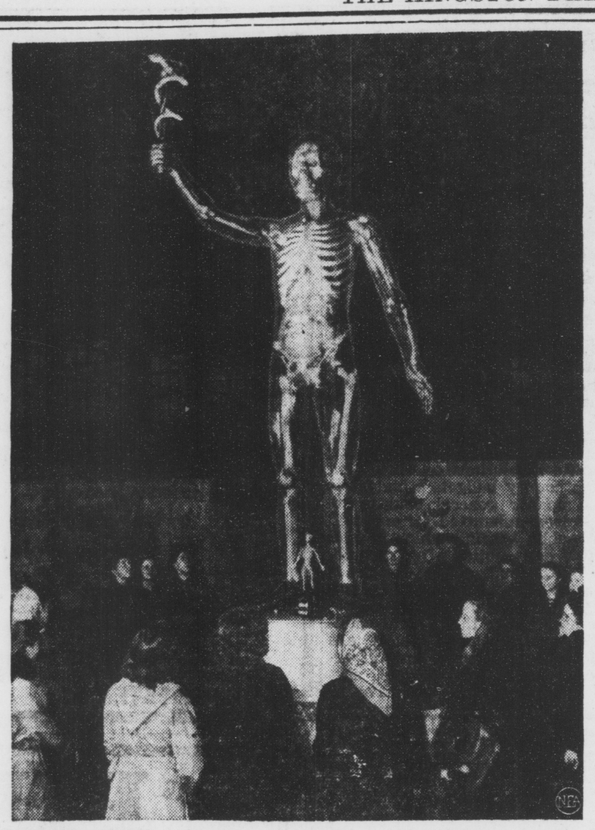

"It seems like everybody in Hayden has called me to offer to care for the children permanently," she said. "But we are checking on the possibility that they have relatives before we make any decision."

Howard R. Root, county coroner, said Mrs. Montoya, 39, killed herself and then her grief stricken husband, 43, called for help and shot himself.

Both had been in ill health, Root said, and Montoya was out of work. He was a miner. The family lived here seven years.

Three children were home at the time of the shootings. The others were in school. They are Phillip, 14; Helen, 16; Betty, 13; Bobby, 11; Raymond and Ted, 9; Leroy, 7; Mary, 6; Dorothy, 3, and Jane, 1.

INSIDE STORY—Crowds at Frankfurt, Germany, gather around a big transparent model of the human body displayed at a health exhibit. Allies Refuse . . .

described the session in terms frequently used during the long deadlock over fixing the cease-fire line:

"No progress."

Negotiators meet again at Panmunjom Saturday at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. EST Friday).

Both sides have presented their plans for supervising and enforcing the armistice—item three on the agenda. They are similar except for the UN demand for guarantees to prevent a Red buildup.

The Red proposal made no mention of inspection teams nor did it set up a barrier to increasing forces during an armistice.

Joy said the UN command agrees in general with the Communist principles, but they were not broad enough.

He also took exception to a Red proposal for withdrawing troops from islands off the North Korean coast. Joy said the Allies intend to stay there until the Korean problem is settled.

Joy reported the Allies proposed joint aerial observation during the armistice in addition to ground teams.

"Of course, the Commies disagreed emphatically," he said. "Impasse number two."

Negotiators have only 27 more days to settle armistice terms if the cease-fire line already agreed upon is to become effective. Otherwise, the line will be redrawn just before the armistice is signed to include changes resulting from battle action.

Steel Is Allocated

section. This would mean bringing the road in some sections far above the present valley alignment and there were objections to this from resort owners and merchants. It was also found that a costly bridge would be required at one point along the proposed route.

U. S. Jets Win . . .

agreed Tuesday on a tentative cease-fire line. Artillery fire increased after Gen. James A. Van Fleet, UN ground commander, announced Thursday he was clarifying a directive which some troops may have misinterpreted as a cease-fire order.

Small Attacks

An Eighth Army communique reported the only ground action up to noon involved small attacks by three enemy platoons on the central front. In one of these, two Chinese platoons probed UN positions southwest of Kumsong. They were turned back after a two hour skirmish in early morning darkness. The other was a probe by a single platoon east of the Pukan river. It was driven off by 6 a. m.

The communique reported "No significient action" on either the western or eastern fronts.

Elsewhere along the bitterly cold 145-mile front quiet was broken by routine artillery fire and defensive patrols instructed to keep out of trouble.

The artillery shooting, on a reduced scale, appeared designed primarily to make the Reds keep their heads down and stick to their own side of the line.

"The tempo of ground fighting" was described by a General Headquarters communique "as one of businesslike activity as alert United Nations command units remained vigilant and determined to maintain positions along the current battle lines."

Tremor Shakes Guatemala

Guatemala, Guatemala, Nov. 30 (AP)—An earth tremor shook the area of this capital in a 25-mile radius today, but there was no serious damage reported. People ran from their houses in fear as the termor shook buildings.

Shoe production of the United States runs about 35,000,000 pairs a month, or 40 per cent of the world supply.

Two Boys Killed In Sledding Crash

Canisteo, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two small boys died today of injuries suffered yesterday when their sled and an automobile collided in this Steuben county community.

Robert Michael Saxton, 10, and his brother Leigh Rex Saxton, 9, died within five minutes of one another. They were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Saxton.

The boys were coasting down a rural road on the same sled. The sled and an auto collided after the sled entered the Campbell creek road.

Hillbilly Is Former British Officer Say Canada Police

Sudbury, Ont., Nov. 30 (AP)—Provincial police insisted today the "shoeless hillbilly" who claimed to have wandered out of the New Mexico wilds to join the U. S. Army is really Grainger, the Ranger.

The police said they are sure the Peter Grainger who bewitched American army men with a tale of how he never saw but one woman before he "buried paw" and decided to join up is, in fact, Peter Ernest John Grainger, 25, a self-assured, well-educated forest ranger from northern Ontario. The U. S. Army lists "Hillbilly" Grainger as AWOL.

Far from being the unschooled, innocent child of the wilds he claimed to be, said the provincial police, Grainger is a Londonborn former officer in the British Army who turned up in Canada in December, 1950.

When army recruiters in San Antonio, Tex., heard from Grainger Nov. 3 that he never saw an automobile, that he was reared on goats' milk and had never seen an honest-to-goodness town, the army men were captivated. Grainger was interviewed, lionized, taken riding in automobiles and shown San Antonio's night life.

Then, he was sent to the army proving ground at Aberdeen, Md. On Nov. 12, he disappeared.

Found Incoherent

Grainger was found Wednesday walking along the highway between Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie. A tourist camp operator called police because the man's behavior was strange. Police said he was incoherent.

Friends and police identified him as the Texas Grainger from newspaper photographs of the missing U. S. recruit. Both men had a missing index finger on the left hand.

A psychiatrist recommended sending him to a hospital for treatment of a head injury reportedly suffered in World War 2.

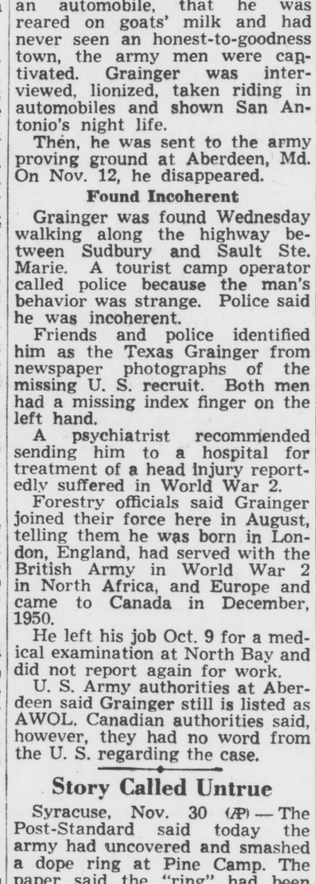

Forestry officials said Grainger joined their force here in August, telling them he was born in London, England, had served with the British Army in World War 2 in North Africa, and Europe and came to Canada in December, 1950.

He left his job Oct. 9 for a medical examination at North Bay and did not report again for work.

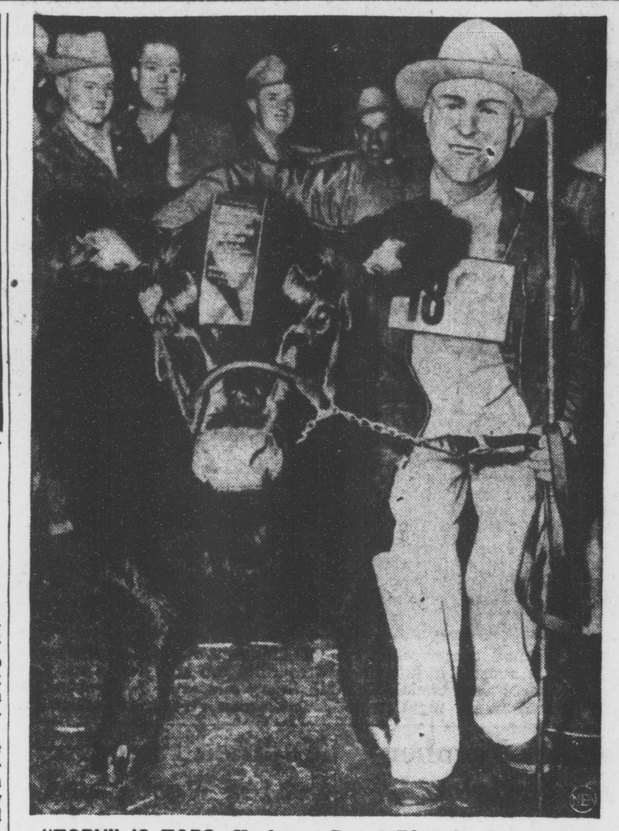

U. S. Army authorities at Aberdeen said Grainger still is listed as AWOL. Canadian authorities said, however, they had no word from the U. S. regarding the case.

Story Called Untrue

Syracuse, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Post-Standard said today the army had uncovered and smashed a dope ring at Pine Camp. The paper said the "ring" had been operating among regular troops stationed at the northern New York post. The story was branded "completely untrue" by a spokesman for Col. Augustua Regnier, Pine Camp commander. The spokesman, Lt. Woodrow Andresen, said there was "not one vestige of truth" in a single detal in the story.

FLESH AND BLOOD—Barbara Bernard wears a symbolic "bottle" that goes with the title, "Miss Blood Plasma," which she won for sparking the campaign for blood donations at the Grand Trunk railroad offices in Chicago.

"TOBY" IS TOPS—Herdsman George Edwards of Iowa State College, Ames, Ia., has an affectionate hug for "Toby," the sleek black Aberdeen Angus named the world's finest steer at the 52nd annual international livestock show in Chicago. Toby last year won the title reserve champion, and this year became the first animal in history ever to win both titles at the Chicago show.

Russia Will Join

curity Council, she would not do so in the arms commission.

This was old stuff to western diplomats, who have pointed out repeatedly that since the Soviet Union demands that the commission be under the Security Council, it amounts to the same thing as having a veto in the commission. Any recommendation by the commission to the council would be subject to the veto there.

Calls West 'Trinity'

Vishinsky likened the position of the western Big Three to the "Trinity—one in three." The Holy Trinity is the Christian doctrine of God in the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost.

He expressed the conviction that the amendments proposed to the western plan by the Soviet Union would "facilitate and assure solution of the task before us."

Spokesmen for the western Big Three already have denounced these amendments as an attempt to cut the heart out of the plan and twist it into a renewed version of old Russian proposals.

It thus appeared likely that the talks would end in deadlock and the whole problem be thrown back to the full committee.

Agreement by the Big Four to try secret diplomacy, instead of the spotlight of the assembly rostrum, means that the political committee will suspend its disarmament discussion for a week or ten days to await results. The west, recalling previous protracted but fruitless sessions with the Russians, is expected to insist that such a limit be placed on this round.

The key to the western disarmament plan is step-by-step disclosure of weapons—including atomic bombs—under a foolproof international system of verification to make sure all powers are telling the truth.

Soviet amendments would cut out this section and substitute a ban on atomic weapons plus a one-third reduction of conventional arms and armed forces without any "prying by international spies" to check on compliance.

Vishinsky's acceptance of the Asian-Arab plan came at the end of a long speech devoted to a slashing attack on speeches in previous sessions by Jessup, British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd, and Jules Moch, former French minister of the interior.

Mailing of Letters Brings Man's Arrest

Kansas City, Nov. 30 (AP)—The accidental mailing of two letters brought the arrest of 25-year-old Joseph Nastasio, Jr., in connection with a slaying and several holdups.

Police Lieut. Harry Nesbitt said Nastasio wrote two letters about the crimes, intending that they be mailed to officials only if he were killed.

A relative found them in Nastasio's home and, unaware of their content, mailed them. Nastasio was arrested yesterday.

Police said he admitted participating in the slaying of George Oliver Hayes, 19-year-old Negro, Sept. 3 and also taking part in several holdups.

Nesbitt said Nastasio wrote the letters, fearing his accomplices might attempt to kill him.

One man named by Nastasio as an accomplice has been arrested. Another is being sought. No charges have been filed.

Clerical Worker Is Found Dead; Man, 43, Is Held

Atlanta, Nov. 30 (AP)—A pretty young clerical worker was found shot to death on a sidewalk early today and her former college English teacher was jailed on "suspicion of murder."

The body of Miss Martha Nell Dinsmore, 19, was found sprawled on the sidewalk just outside the apartment she shared with three other girls. She had been shot once through the heart.

City Detective J. E. Helms said William Edward Clark, 43, former English instructor at North Georgia College at Dahlonega, had been arrested.

Clark, married and now a salesman, reported, said Helms, that the girl had shot herself just a few minutes after she stepped from his car.

Earlier, the detective continued, Clark and Miss Dinsmore had attended a drive-in movie and there, according to Clark, had discussed Clark's intention to obtain a divorce.

The detective said Miss Dinsmore's blouse and brassiere had been ripped asunder when he arrived but that Clark explained he had torn both after she was shot in an effort to ascertain the seriousness of the wound.

Miss Dinsmore, said the detective, had come to Atlanta last spring to accept a job, while Clark resigned from the college faculty in June.

Community Aids Orphaned Children

Hayden, Colo., Nov. 30 (AP)—Residents of this tiny northwestern Coolrado community of 767, stepped up today to offer aid for 10 children orphaned by a double sulcide.

They are the children of Phillip and Tony Linda Montoya who killed themselves minutes apart with the same gun yesterday.

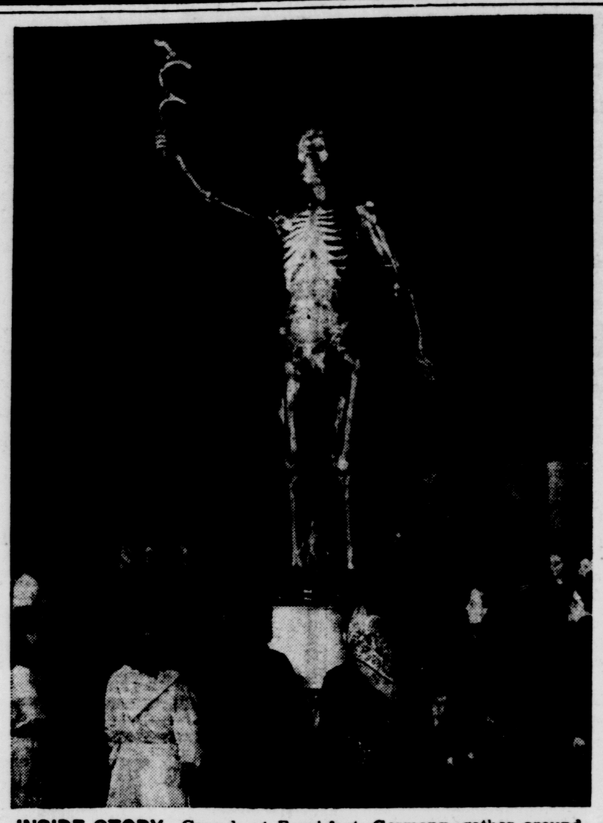

Mrs. Dorothy Todd, welfare office director, said neighbors and friends of the family will care for the children until her office can determine their permanent status.

"It seems like everybody in Hayden has called me to offer to care for the children permanently," she said. "But we are checking on the possibility that they have relatives before we make any decision."

Howard R. Root, county coroner, said Mrs. Montoya, 39, killed herself and then her grief stricken husband, 43, called for help and shot himself.

Both had been in ill health, Root said, and Montoya was out of work. He was a miner. The family lived here seven years.

Three children were home at the time of the shootings. The others were in school. They are Phillip, 14; Helen, 16; Betty, 13; Bobby, 11; Raymond and Ted, 9; Leroy, 7; Mary, 6; Dorothy, 3, and Jane, 1.

INSIDE STORY—Crowds at Frankfurt, Germany, gather around a big transparent model of the human body displayed at a health exhibit. Inner organs of the body are clearly depicted and blood circulation is indicated by electric lights which mark veins and arteries. The exhibit, called "Say Yes to Life," is being shown in Europe's major cities. (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Hanns Jaeger.)

described the session in terms frequently used during the long deadlock over fixing the cease-fire line:

"No progress."

Negotiators meet again at Panmunjom Saturday at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. EST Friday).

Both sides have presented their plans for supervising and enforcing the armistice—item three on the agenda. They are similar except for the UN demand for guarantees to prevent a Red buildup.

The Red proposal made no mention of inspection teams nor did it set up a barrier to increasing forces during an armistice.

Joy said the UN command agrees in general with the Communist principles, but they were not broad enough.

He also took exception to a Red proposal for withdrawing troops from islands off the North Korean coast. Joy said the Allies intend to stay there until the Korean problem is settled.

Joy reported the Allies proposed joint aerial observation during the armistice in addition to ground teams.

"Of course, the Commies disagreed emphatically," he said. "Impasse number two."

Negotiators have only 27 more days to settle armistice terms if the cease-fire line already agreed upon is to become effective. Otherwise, the line will be redrawn just before the armistice is signed to include changes resulting from battle action.

Steel Is Allocated

section. This would mean bringing the road in some sections far above the present valley alignment and there were objections to this from resort owners and merchants. It was also found that a costly bridge would be required at one point along the proposed route.

U. S. Jets Win . . .

agreed Tuesday on a tentative cease-fire line. Artillery fire increased after Gen. James A. Van Fleet, UN ground commander, announced Thursday he was clarifying a directive which some troops may have misinterpreted as a cease-fire order.

Small Attacks

An Eighth Army communique reported the only ground action up to noon involved small attacks by three enemy platoons on the central front. In one of these, two Chinese platoons probed UN positions southwest of Kumsong. They were turned back after a two hour skirmish in early morning darkness. The other was a probe by a single platoon east of the Pukan river. It was driven off by 6 a. m.

The communique reported "No significient action" on either the western or eastern fronts.

Elsewhere along the bitterly cold 145-mile front quiet was broken by routine artillery fire and defensive patrols instructed to keep out of trouble.

The artillery shooting, on a reduced scale, appeared designed primarily to make the Reds keep their heads down and stick to their own side of the line.

"The tempo of ground fighting" was described by a General Headquarters communique "as one of businesslike activity as alert United Nations command units remained vigilant and determined to maintain positions along the current battle lines."

Tremor Shakes Guatemala

Guatemala, Guatemala, Nov. 30 (AP)—An earth tremor shook the area of this capital in a 25-mile radius today, but there was no serious damage reported. People ran from their houses in fear as the termor shook buildings.

Shoe production of the United States runs about 35,000,000 pairs a month, or 40 per cent of the world supply.

Two Boys Killed In Sledding Crash

Canisteo, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two small boys died today of injuries suffered yesterday when their sled and an automobile collided in this Steuben county community.

Robert Michael Saxton, 10, and his brother Leigh Rex Saxton, 9, died within five minutes of one another. They were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Saxton.

The boys were coasting down a rural road on the same sled. The sled and an auto collided after the sled entered the Campbell creek road.

Hillbilly Is Former British Officer Say Canada Police

Sudbury, Ont., Nov. 30 (AP)—Provincial police insisted today the "shoeless hillbilly" who claimed to have wandered out of the New Mexico wilds to join the U. S. Army is really Grainger, the Ranger.

The police said they are sure the Peter Grainger who bewitched American army men with a tale of how he never saw but one woman before he "buried paw" and decided to join up is, in fact, Peter Ernest John Grainger, 25, a self-assured, well-educated forest ranger from northern Ontario. The U. S. Army lists "Hillbilly" Grainger as AWOL.

Far from being the unschooled, innocent child of the wilds he claimed to be, said the provincial police, Grainger is a Londonborn former officer in the British Army who turned up in Canada in December, 1950.

When army recruiters in San Antonio, Tex., heard from Grainger Nov. 3 that he never saw an automobile, that he was reared on goats' milk and had never seen an honest-to-goodness town, the army men were captivated. Grainger was interviewed, lionized, taken riding in automobiles and shown San Antonio's night life.

Then, he was sent to the army proving ground at Aberdeen, Md. On Nov. 12, he disappeared.

Found Incoherent

Grainger was found Wednesday walking along the highway between Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie. A tourist camp operator called police because the man's behavior was strange. Police said he was incoherent.

Friends and police identified him as the Texas Grainger from newspaper photographs of the missing U. S. recruit. Both men had a missing index finger on the left hand.

A psychiatrist recommended sending him to a hospital for treatment of a head injury reportedly suffered in World War 2.

Forestry officials said Grainger joined their force here in August, telling them he was born in London, England, had served with the British Army in World War 2 in North Africa, and Europe and came to Canada in December, 1950.

He left his job Oct. 9 for a medical examination at North Bay and did not report again for work.

U. S. Army authorities at Aberdeen said Grainger still is listed as AWOL. Canadian authorities said, however, they had no word from the U. S. regarding the case.

Story Called Untrue

Syracuse, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Post-Standard said today the army had uncovered and smashed a dope ring at Pine Camp. The paper said the "ring" had been operating among regular troops stationed at the northern New York post. The story was branded "completely untrue" by a spokesman for Col. Augustua Regnier, Pine Camp commander. The spokesman, Lt. Woodrow Andresen, said there was "not one vestige of truth" in a single detal in the story.

"TOBY" IS TOPS—Herdsman George Edwards of Iowa State College, Ames, Ia., has an affectionate hug for "Toby," the sleek black Aberdeen Angus named the world's finest steer at the 52nd annual international livestock show in Chicago. Toby last year won the title reserve champion, and this year became the first animal in history ever to win both titles at the Chicago show.

Russia Will Join

curity Council, she would not do so in the arms commission.

This was old stuff to western diplomats, who have pointed out repeatedly that since the Soviet Union demands that the commission be under the Security Council, it amounts to the same thing as having a veto in the commission. Any recommendation by the commission to the council would be subject to the veto there.

Calls West 'Trinity'

Vishinsky likened the position of the western Big Three to the "Trinity—one in three." The Holy Trinity is the Christian doctrine of God in the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost.

He expressed the conviction that the amendments proposed to the western plan by the Soviet Union would "facilitate and assure solution of the task before us."

Spokesmen for the western Big Three already have denounced these amendments as an attempt to cut the heart out of the plan and twist it into a renewed version of old Russian proposals.

It thus appeared likely that the talks would end in deadlock and the whole problem be thrown back to the full committee.

Agreement by the Big Four to try secret diplomacy, instead of the spotlight of the assembly rostrum, means that the political committee will suspend its disarmament discussion for a week or ten days to await results. Leading Educators To Participate in 2nd Bard Parley

Annandale-on-Hudson, Nov. 30—Four prominent college educators will participate in Bard College's second annual School and College Conference on Thursday, December 6. This year's topic, "The College Looks at the School," will be discussed by Dean Millicent McIntosh, Barnard College, New York; Odell Shepard, visiting professor of English, Bard College, author and former Pulitzer Prize winner; Archibald McIntosh, vice president, Haverford College, Haverford, Pennsylvania; and Rollin L. Perry, chairman, Advisory Board for Underclassmen, Cornell University.

Many Will Attend

The conference, a one-day affair, it is expected will be attended by principals and headmasters of 40 to 50 secondary schools in New York, New Jersey and New England. Opportunities will be provided them to attend classes, inspect the college's instructional facilities, and to visit the new part of the campus recently given by Christian A. Zabriskie.

This year's topic reverses the roles of the participants. Last year, the school men criticized colleges for inadequate guidance, particularly for freshmen, and poor liaison practices with secondary schools. On December 6 the college representatives will have a chance to point out what they consider to be the shortcomings of secondary education.

Saugertiesians Enlist

Donald O. Mower, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orie Mower, 7 Mill street, Saugerties has enlisted in the army and is now at Camp Devens, Mass. He is a graduate of Saugerties High School and was employed by the Alpha Cement Company. Also from Saugerties, George I. Simmons, 19, of 12 McDonald street joined the air force and is now at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva. Simmons, a graduate of Saugerties High, was employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

Two in Air Force

Henry J. Marx, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marx, Cottekill and Claude Tompkins, Jr., 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tompkins of Wawarsing have enlisted in the air force at Sampson. Both young men attended high schools in Ulster county.

Second Body Returned To Veteran's Mother

Glens Falls, Nov. 30 (AP) — In July, 1948, a body identified as that of Sgt. Leonard J. Moynihan, killed in the Dutch East Indies during World War 2, was brought to his widowed mother here.

The mother, Mrs. Julia C. Moynihan, saw the body buried with full military honors in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Last Tuesday, another body was brought here.

Col. Norman Wiggs of Bethesda, Md., assigned to the army quartermaster corps in Washington, accompanied the body. He said it had been identified positively as that of Sergeant Moynihan.

James F. Singleton, a funeral director, said Col. Wiggs told him that an error had been made on the original identification and had been discovered recently.

Now, the second body has been buried in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Colonel Wiggs left for Washington with the first body.

Sergeant Moynihan was among 23 soldiers killed March 22, 1945, during a bombing attack in The Netherlands East Indies.

General DeGaulle, French leader, had a Scottish great-grandmother nemed Fleming, who married an Irishman named McCartan.

Disillusioned Dog

This exhausted little mongrel was in an animal hospital in Buffalo, Nov. 28, recovering from an attempt by two big dogs to drown him in an icy creek. A policeman rescued him and termed the unusual incident "attempted murder." He said the big dogs tossed the victim in the creek each time he crawled out. Faculty Member Says Religion Is Sought in Vassar

The college student of today "is eager for religion," Kingston Kiwanis Club members were told Thursday by J. Howard Housen, chairman of the department of religion at Vassar College.

Housen, who had been on the Vassar faculty since 1929, said today's students "show larger interest in religion than at any time in the knowledge of any of us." They are "more ready to search deeply into problems of life than students were years ago," he said.

Students in the 1920's lived in the "sophisticated age," when the delight was in debunking established tradition, he said. A change began with the depression of the 1930's, when students no longer wished to tear things down, and by the end of World War 2 they were ready to receive help and assurance in meeting problems of life, he said.

About 30 per cent of Vassar's students take one year or more of religious subjects, although election of any of the religious courses is voluntary, Housen said.

Housen also warned against tendency to magnify the existing tensions between Roman Catholics and Protestants, particularly in regard to loyalty.

"When the chips are down, in the history of the United States the loyalty of the Roman Catholic has been unquestioned—has been above question," he said. Housen, a Protestant attended Union Theological Seminary.

Housen spoke at the Kiwanis Club's regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday.

Albany Referee Named to Review Firm's Assessments

The proceeding brought by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in Supreme Court for a review of the 1951 assessment in the town of Marbletown has been referred to Edward G. Dillon, Albany attorney, as referee to hear and determine all issues raised by the petitioners.

Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer, who heard the application at special term here on November 2, has named Dillon as referee. Gould and Wilkie appear for petitioner and Lloyd R. LeFever is attorney for the town.

The action for review of the assessment is brought by the corporation against Uriah Conner, Frank Altieri and Edward Miller, assessors of the town of Marbletown. It is alleged the water power plant of the corporation assessed at $200,000 should be reduced to $138,344 and that in addition to the High Falls plant that certain transmission lines in the town are also over assessed.

Modified Program Set for West Point Sesquicentennial

West Point, Nov. 30—A modification of the plans for the commemoration of West Point's 150th anniversary has been announced by Colonel Thomas W. Hammond, Jr., the sesquicentennial director who has succeeded Colonel William E. Crist, now in Korea. The six months from January to June, 1952, have been selected as the period during which the anniversary of the founding of the military academy will be observed.

The formal opening of the sesquicentennial will take place at West Point on Saturday, Jan 5, with speeches by Frank Pace, secretary of the army; Governor Thomas E. Dewey, General Lucius B. Clay and Major General E. A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Association. A concert by the USMA Band and the Cadet Glee Club will be held in Carnegie Hall in New York to conclude the opening day ceremonies.

A new portrait of General Robert E. Lee will be unveiled in the West Point library on January 19, the 145th anniversary of General Lee's birth.

The New York State Historical Society will hold its annual meeting at West Point from March 14-16. The meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the history of West Point in the Hudson highlands. Douglas Southall Freeman, noted historian, will be the principal speaker at the conference.

Traditional Founder's Day ceremonies will be held throughout the world by graduates on March 16, the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Act of Congress establishing the military academy.

May Set Budget Hearing Date at Monday Meeting

The opening meeting of the annual session of the board of supervisors will be held Monday evening, December 3, at 7:30 o'clock.

Due to the new county law and a change of the procedure in transacting county business the board did not convene this year immediately after election as has been customary for many years. Under the new law the session of the board will be considerably shortened and there will be fewer meetings. Instead of calling for separate resolutions on each item in the county budget, a budget is made up for general county expenditures, submitted for approval at a public hearing which is held on five days notice after completion of the budget. The budget is approved by the board then following the public hearing.

In addition to the general county budget, however, there are various town charges, levy of erroneous taxes and various special matters which will have to come before the board for separate action.

At the meeting Monday evening it is expected the board will set a date for the public hearing on the budget.

More Power for Trucks

Carrollton, Ga. (AP) — Take a standard motor truck, add an extra axle and an extra drive shaft, and what have you? Twice the moving power at an increased operating cost of only 10 per cent. So says Roy Richards, a Carrollton engineer-inventor-business executive.

Dressing Better

Singapore (AP) — Dry-cleaning business is booming in Singapore. The explanation is an increased number of persons wearing palm beach, light tweeds, linens and shark-skin suits.

Before the war everyone wore white drill or khaki.

Leading Educators To Participate in 2nd Bard Parley

Annandale-on-Hudson, Nov. 30—Four prominent college educators will participate in Bard College's second annual School and College Conference on Thursday, December 6. This year's topic, "The College Looks at the School," will be discussed by Dean Millicent McIntosh, Barnard College, New York; Odell Shepard, visiting professor of English, Bard College, author and former Pulitzer Prize winner; Archibald McIntosh, vice president, Haverford College, Haverford, Pennsylvania; and Rollin L. Perry, chairman, Advisory Board for Underclassmen, Cornell University.

Many Will Attend

The conference, a one-day affair, it is expected will be attended by principals and headmasters of 40 to 50 secondary schools in New York, New Jersey and New England. Opportunities will be provided them to attend classes, inspect the college's instructional facilities, and to visit the new part of the campus recently given by Christian A. Zabriskie.

This year's topic reverses the roles of the participants. Last year, the school men criticized colleges for inadequate guidance, particularly for freshmen, and poor liaison practices with secondary schools. On December 6 the college representatives will have a chance to point out what they consider to be the shortcomings of secondary education.

Second Body Returned To Veteran's Mother

Glens Falls, Nov. 30 (AP) — In July, 1948, a body identified as that of Sgt. Leonard J. Moynihan, killed in the Dutch East Indies during World War 2, was brought to his widowed mother here.

The mother, Mrs. Julia C. Moynihan, saw the body buried with full military honors in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Last Tuesday, another body was brought here.

Col. Norman Wiggs of Bethesda, Md., assigned to the army quartermaster corps in Washington, accompanied the body. He said it had been identified positively as that of Sergeant Moynihan.

James F. Singleton, a funeral director, said Col. Wiggs told him that an error had been made on the original identification and had been discovered recently.

Now, the second body has been buried in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Colonel Wiggs left for Washington with the first body.

Sergeant Moynihan was among 23 soldiers killed March 22, 1945, during a bombing attack in The Netherlands East Indies.

General DeGaulle, French leader, had a Scottish great-grandmother nemed Fleming, who married an Irishman named McCartan.

Faculty Member Says Religion Is Sought in Vassar

The college student of today "is eager for religion," Kingston Kiwanis Club members were told Thursday by J. Howard Housen, chairman of the department of religion at Vassar College.

Housen, who had been on the Vassar faculty since 1929, said today's students "show larger interest in religion than at any time in the knowledge of any of us." They are "more ready to search deeply into problems of life than students were years ago," he said.

Students in the 1920's lived in the "sophisticated age," when the delight was in debunking established tradition, he said. A change began with the depression of the 1930's, when students no longer wished to tear things down, and by the end of World War 2 they were ready to receive help and assurance in meeting problems of life, he said.

About 30 per cent of Vassar's students take one year or more of religious subjects, although election of any of the religious courses is voluntary, Housen said.

Housen also warned against tendency to magnify the existing tensions between Roman Catholics and Protestants, particularly in regard to loyalty.

"When the chips are down, in the history of the United States the loyalty of the Roman Catholic has been unquestioned—has been above question," he said. Housen, a Protestant attended Union Theological Seminary.

Housen spoke at the Kiwanis Club's regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday.

Albany Referee Named to Review Firm's Assessments

The proceeding brought by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in Supreme Court for a review of the 1951 assessment in the town of Marbletown has been referred to Edward G. Dillon, Albany attorney, as referee to hear and determine all issues raised by the petitioners.

Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer, who heard the application at special term here on November 2, has named Dillon as referee. Gould and Wilkie appear for petitioner and Lloyd R. LeFever is attorney for the town.

The action for review of the assessment is brought by the corporation against Uriah Conner, Frank Altieri and Edward Miller, assessors of the town of Marbletown. It is alleged the water power plant of the corporation assessed at $200,000 should be reduced to $138,344 and that in addition to the High Falls plant that certain transmission lines in the town are also over assessed.

Modified Program Set for West Point Sesquicentennial

West Point, Nov. 30—A modification of the plans for the commemoration of West Point's 150th anniversary has been announced by Colonel Thomas W. Hammond, Jr., the sesquicentennial director who has succeeded Colonel William E. Crist, now in Korea. The six months from January to June, 1952, have been selected as the period during which the anniversary of the founding of the military academy will be observed.

The formal opening of the sesquicentennial will take place at West Point on Saturday, Jan 5, with speeches by Frank Pace, secretary of the army; Governor Thomas E. Dewey, General Lucius B. Clay and Major General E. A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Association. A concert by the USMA Band and the Cadet Glee Club will be held in Carnegie Hall in New York to conclude the opening day ceremonies.

A new portrait of General Robert E. Lee will be unveiled in the West Point library on January 19, the 145th anniversary of General Lee's birth.

The New York State Historical Society will hold its annual meeting at West Point from March 14-16. The meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the history of West Point in the Hudson highlands. Douglas Southall Freeman, noted historian, will be the principal speaker at the conference.

Traditional Founder's Day ceremonies will be held throughout the world by graduates on March 16, the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Act of Congress establishing the military academy.

May Set Budget Hearing Date at Monday Meeting

The opening meeting of the annual session of the board of supervisors will be held Monday evening, December 3, at 7:30 o'clock.

Due to the new county law and a change of the procedure in transacting county business the board did not convene this year immediately after election as has been customary for many years. Under the new law the session of the board will be considerably shortened and there will be fewer meetings. Instead of calling for separate resolutions on each item in the county budget, a budget is made up for general county expenditures, submitted for approval at a public hearing which is held on five days notice after completion of the budget. The budget is approved by the board then following the public hearing.

In addition to the general county budget, however, there are various town charges, levy of erroneous taxes and various special matters which will have to come before the board for separate action.

At the meeting Monday evening it is expected the board will set a date for the public hearing on the budget.

Disillusioned Dog

This exhausted little mongrel was in an animal hospital in Buffalo, Nov. 28, recovering from an attempt by two big dogs to drown him in an icy creek. A policeman rescued him and termed the unusual incident "attempted murder." He said the big dogs tossed the victim in the creek each time he crawled out. With the dog (above) is SPCA Agent Leonard Aronica. (AP Wirephoto).
